NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The resources of the National City Bank of New York exceed those of any other banking institution in the United States. The deposits and current accounts of the local bank in round figures were $259,600,000. The same accounts in the Bank of England were $286,000,000; Russia, $228,000,000; France, $196,000,000, and Germany, $130,000,000. The National City Bank in its statement of resources shows an aggregate of $320,251,748.76.

MINE YIELDS ELEVEN BODIES.

THURMOND (W. Va.) March 21.—The search for bodies of the victims of the explosions Saturday in the Rush Run and Ash Fork mines was continued today. The bodies of the eleven men, composing the first rescue party, have been recovered. Four bodies were those of Ernest Phillips, H. Moseley, Brack Jarrett and Crocket Hutchinson. The seven bodies recovered yesterday were those of Thomas Banister, Charles F. Wynn, James G. Wynn, George Hopkins, N. W. Henson, Norwood Hutchingson and Peter Hutchingson.

THE GREAT WAR.

LINEVITCH IN NEED OF SUNGARI RIVER.

Japanese Press Pursuit of Slavs, but are Hampered by Destroyed Bridges.

Residents of Harbin Feel Uneasy and Many Residents of Vladivostok are Passing Through Former Town, Bound for Europe—Kouropatkin to Remain at Front. Japan's New Loan to be Announced Soon.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22, 2:20 a.m.—The retreat is apparently progressing uneventfully. No dispatches of moment were received yesterday.

HARBINITES UNEASY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARBIN, March 21, 3 a.m.—Residents of Harbin are uneasy, and many of them are departing. Chinese are withdrawing their deposits from Chinese banks here.

QUITTING VLADIVOSTOK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, March 22.—The correspondent of the Matin at Harbin reports that many civilians from Vladivostok are passing through Harbin bound for Europe.

RUSSIAN ARMY STARVING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prince Ukhtomsky declares peace is imperative because there is no bread for the army, all grain accumulated at Harbin having gone to Mukden or having been transported south by Chinese. Starvation threatens the entire Russian force.

The Russian press demands the abolition of the post of Viceroy of the Far East and of the Committee on the Far East, thus tacitly recognizing loss of Manchuria, and consequent futility of war.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, March 22.—The correspondent at Aden of the Daily Mail reports that 34 steamers laden with 100,000 tons of coal are waiting at Jibutil for the Russian fleet, which is expected there at the end of the month.

RAISING SUNKEN SHIPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) March 22.—The steamer Hyades brings news from Japan that an English company has been awarded the contract to raise the sunken ships at Port Arthur. There was some talk of making a cofferdam at the harbor mouth and pumping out the water, but this plan was abandoned in favor of placing cofferdams about each of the sunken craft, by which means the vessel, with the possible exception of the Sevastopol can be raised.

The Russian cruiser Variag, sunk at Chemulpo, has been raised and brought to Nagasaki. She is being rapidly repaired, with a view to arming and commissioning her under the Japanese flag.

MIKADO DECORATES HECKEL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, March 21.—The Emperor of Japan has conferred the Grand Cross of the Order of the Sacred Treasure on Maj.-Gen. Heckel, retired, formerly one of the principal instructors of tactics and strategy to the Japanese army.

JAPAN'S NEW LOAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Negotiations with the syndicate of bankers headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Company, to bring out here and in London a new Japanese loan of $60,000,000, have been practically completed. It is possible that about $15,000,000 may be placed in Berlin. $30,000,000 will be floated in Wall street. Several big insurance companies have intimated their intention to take all or a greater part offered.

It is probable that the entire $30,000,000 realized will remain in this country to pay for supplies and munitions of war. The loan will be secured by State railroads and liquor or tobacco tax. It is said it will be a short-time issue and will probably be floated above 90.

The first loan, of $25,000,000, was placed here in May, at 93½. It sold today at 102⅝ and has sold a point higher. Its interest rate is 6 per cent. The second loan, of $30,000,000, was floated here in November at 88. It sold today at 100¼. It also pays 6 per cent.

The last loan was nearly all taken by the Mutual Life of New York, the New York Life and the Equitable Life.

The Japanese government desires to broaden the base of its foreign credit and interest Germany in the affairs of Japan, so as to counterbalance to some extent material reasons for Germany's wishing Russia to succeed. For the same reason, Japan would be glad if French bankers had taken some of the bonds.

CHINESE RUSSIAN SPIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 22.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that the Chinese Governor of Liao Yang and thirty-two of his relatives have confessed to acting as Russian spies since the outbreak of the war. It is ominously announced, the correspondent adds, that they will be punished, according to martial law.

GERMAN GUNS FOR RUSSIA.

BUELOW'S ATTENTION CALLED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, March 21.—The Vorwaerts calls Chancellor von Buelow's attention to the fact that the German arms and ammunition factory, formerly the firm of Loewe, is manufacturing several hundred machine guns for Russia and that many have already been shipped to Moscow. The company, the Vorwaerts asserts, is working with feverish haste, under direction of a Russian artillery expert, to complete the rest of the order.

The newspaper claims that this is an infringement of neutrality laws and points to the practice of the German government during the Boer War, when the Krupp firm refused to deliver guns ordered by the Orange River government, giving as an excuse that the German government had put a veto on the order.

SUNGARI BRIDGE OBJECTIVE.

LINEVITCH NEEDS BRIDGE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 21, 1:15 p.m.—Gen. Linevitch's headquarters have been established for the present at Chenchiawatza, situated at the crossing of the Sungari River, whence he is directing the retreat of the three armies and disposing of the fresh troops of the Fourth Corps, just arrived from European Russia.

The protection of the Sungari bridge is vital to the salvation of the army, as the river is not fordable below Kirin. Once the line of the river is passed and the bridge blown up, the Japanese pursuit will be effectively checked.

At the same time, the Second Army is falling back along the line of the railroad, while the First and Third armies and transports are retreating along the Mandarin road to Kirin, both destroying bridges and roads, denuding the country behind them, and making it impossible for the Japanese to live in the immediate wake of the retreat without their own commissariats.

The Japanese are advancing on the Grand Trade Route, twenty miles west of the railroad. However, they can probably live on the country, the road just before the opening of navigation of the Liao River being crowded with Chinese provisions on the way to markets southward. Apparently, there is a question as to which army will outmarch the other. No information is obtainable regarding the strength of the Japanese column advancing along the Grand Trade Route.

St. Petersburg is in the dark as to the exact situation. Considering the resourcefulness of the Japanese, there is constant fear that they may manage to get astride of the railroad and bar the Russians' retreat.

A couple of brief telegrams from Gen. Linevitch, dated March 20, were given out today. They merely say that the troops continued to retreat northward March 19, that he had allowed the men to rest March 20, and that he had inspected more new arrivals from Russia and had found the troops in excellent spirits.

CONTINUE TO FOLLOW CLOSELY.

BUT BROKEN BRIDGES IMPEDE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, March 21.—The fact that no reports of the retreat of the Russian armies or of the Japanese pursuit of them were received today is strengthening the belief that it is the Russian plan to hold the line from Changkoun to Kirin.

The Japanese continue closely to follow Linevitch's rear guard. The damaged bridges, however, impede the progress of the pursuers, and repairing these bridges may create sufficient delay to permit the Russians to reconcentrate, reinforce and partially reorganize and enable them to construct works along the Changkoun-Kirin line.

It is reported that a portion of the Vladivostok garrison has been withdrawn and hurried to Harbin, but

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following the meeting it was announced today that the directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society had adopted a plan of mutualization reported by a special committee of seven directors. This means that Hyde will control for four years. The proceedings ended with everyone apparently in a happy frame of mind, pleased that the dispute of factions in the society finally had ended amicably. Jacob H. Schiff said, as he left the meeting room: "We have adopted a four-year plan by which the policyholders will elect seven directors and the stockholders elect six. Everything is harmonious."

Schiff added that the directors had adopted an amendment to the charter of the society which will put the mutualization plan into effect. It was learned that twenty-four directors attended the meeting, and that all of them voted for an amendment to the charter, putting into effect the mutualization plan. This provided that all policy holders shall have a vote, provided they have been holders of policies for a year or more. The amendment also provides that a majority of the directors must be residents of the United States, and either policy holders or stockholders.

SUN WORSHIP FAD.

Dr. Oloman-Zai-Adusdi-Hanish, Woman Hater, Trying to Convert Women.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Oloman-Zai-Adusdi-Hanish, who looks as though he might have been born "McHanish," is the mystifying title of a worthy here who is trying to convert fashionable New York women into "sun worshipers." He has two adopted sons, with long raven locks and cadaverous faces, who assist him.

Hanish operates in the basement of a swell apartment-house at No. 431 Central Park West. When a reporter called to investigate, he was told that Hanish was in a trance, but the sunny philosopher woke up and told the reporter to "be gone." Hanish teaches "cure yourself;" that there are no errors in the physical make-up for which there is not a correction in the human body. He is said to believe that marriage is sacrilege, and is himself a woman hater.

GREAT SOCIAL WAR.

Daughters of the American Revolution Question Method of Choosing President-General.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the greatest social wars in the history of the country is hinging on the issues now before the Daughters of the American Revolution and which will be decided at the meeting of the body in Washington next month. The problem is one of social prestige.

For the first time in the history of the organization, the daughters are questioning the custom of conferring the positions of President General upon the wife of a man who is either ex-officio or otherwise, a member of the Cabinet. This custom has been closely adhered to in the past. Now there is talk of blue blood against wealth. There are charges of class distinction and threats of revolt against the old system of electing officers by political prestige.

The Chicago Daughters, who number 900, the largest chapter in the country, are, with few exceptions, ready to declare for Mrs. Donald McLain of New York for National Regent. Mrs. McLain, if elected, will be the first woman to be appointed to this office outside of the wife of a cabinet officer, or with a residence out of Washington.

JULES VERNE'S CONDITION.

The Famous French Novelist Cannot Live Long and World Sends Messages of Sympathy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

AMIENS (France) March 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The condition of Jules Verne is regarded as hopeless. Telegrams of sympathy from all quarters of the globe have been received. Many of them are from children and scientists.

M. Verne continued writing until recently, when he was obliged to suspend all literary work and his duties as a municipal councillor. He occupies the same room in which he wrote his extraordinary story of voyages.

IN LAST STAGES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

AMIENS, March 21.—Jules Verne tonight was pronounced by his physician to be in the last stage of diabetes.

Later—Tonight, M. Verne sustained a stroke of paralysis, affecting his right side, which has since been extending.

LILLY LANGTRY'S GRANDCHILD.

LONDON, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Lilly Langtry is now a grandmother. A son was born today to her daughter, Mrs. Ian Malcolm, wife of a well-known member of Parliament from Scotland. Mrs. Langtry and her daughter have been estranged ever since the latter's marriage. It is thought that the advent of the baby may result in a reconciliation, although the general belief is that family difficulties are due to radical differences of opinion between the actress and her son-in-law.

DIGGING UP THE DEAD.

Fifty-five Discovered at Brockton.

Forty-five Employees of the Grover Plant Catastrophe are Still Missing.

No Hope of Finding Other Than Fragmentary Evidences of Them.

Gov. Douglass Follows to th Grave the Remains of One Finisher.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BROCKTON, March 21.—Fifty-five dead, fourteen identified, forty-five missing and 268 employes accounted for, is, in brief, tonight, the situation following yesterday's catastrophe. At the ruins tonight, hundreds of men drenched to the skin by the rain toiled unceasingly amid the half-burned timbers for fragments of flesh and bone which, when found, were hurried to the morgue to be scanned by those awaiting there. That the fifty-five dead represent the total number of victims, no one familiar with the disaster believes. It is extremely doubtful, however, that more than fragmentary pieces of other bodies will ever be found.

BROCKTON (Mass.) March 21.—Satisfied that there was no chance of rescuing additional victims from the ruins of the R. B. Grover Company's shoe factory, search was abandoned at 11 o'clock tonight by the small army of volunteers, after thirty-seven hours of constant toil.

Although the police and Medical Examiner Paine feel that they have removed from the débris all remains which were not reduced to ashes, a second search shortly will be instituted to satisfy relatives and friends of the victims. The little band of persons who have besieged the morgue since the first body was taken from the ruins reluctantly turned their steps homeward tonight, satisfied that all that remained of the missing ones occupied the pine boxes inscribed "unknown." At midnight, for the first time since yesterday, Dr. Paine and his assistants remained alone with the unidentified dead.

The revised list, as given out by the police at 11:30 o'clock tonight, was as follows: Bodies recovered, 55; identified, 14; missing, 45; reported as escaped, 283. It now seems probable that but fourteen bodies will be buried with their identity positively established. An inquest will be held shortly.

The day saw the first movement on the part of the workmen in trades similar to that pursued by the victims of the disaster to raise a relief fund for the bereaved families. It is expected that several thousand dollars will be subscribed.

Medical Examiner Paine said tonight that he believed other bodies had been reduced to ashes, and that the number of victims might never be positively known. He did not believe that further identifications of the charred remains at the morgue were probable. Every body which had a trinket on it has been more or less positively identified. Remains which have been placed in boxes and marked "unknown" are in such a state that there is no possibility of their being recognized.

Todays, the first of the funerals of the victims was held, Gov. Douglas being among those who followed the body to the grave. The funeral was that of Jerome Mayo, a finisher in the factory and brother-in-law of C. L. Fish, a close friend of the Governor.

At the request of Mayor Keith, clergymen of all denominations assembled in the Aldermanic chamber at the City Hall this afternoon, for the purpose of arranging for public service for the victims. It was decided that the service should be held Thursday afternoon in the City Theater. Two clergymen, one a Catholic and the other a Protestant, will speak.

An overflow service will be held at the Proctor Congregational Church at the same hour. After these services the remains of the unidentified dead will be taken to the Melrose cemetery where interment will be made.

Tonight, numerous meetings were held by fraternal and labor organizations to offer assistance to the city officials in relieving the distress of bereaved families. Tonight, the police were informed that Louise and Sadie Hickey, who had been numbered among the missing, were at their homes uninjured. John Lundells and his son, who had been missing, have been accounted for. The younger Lundells was so dazed by his severe injuries that he did not recover his senses until tonight. His father is suffering from a broken hip. The condition of both men is serious.

The State Boiler Inspectors were here today and devoted much time to a minute examination of the boiler, particularly with reference to any possible weakness in its construction.

Treasurer Emerson of the Grover Company said today that undoubtedly heavy damage suits would be instituted against his firm. As yet, the members of the firm had had no conference, Capt. Grover the president, being ill and J. F. Hill, the vice-president, being in Ohio. The latter is expected to return by Thursday.

Capt. R. B. Grover, president of the R. B. Grover Company, who has been ill for several weeks, was informed today of the loss of life which attended the destruction of his factory. He was temporarily overcome, but was better tonight. Capt. Grover was told of the destruction of his factory, yesterday, but not of the loss of life. At that time he exclaimed: "I am glad no lives were lost. Had there been, I should have felt it my duty to care for the families."

PITTSBURGH IN GREAT DANGER.

RAIN FALLING IN COUNTRY DRAINED BY MONONGAHELA.

Entire Lower Portion of Allegheny Under from Five to Six Feet of Water—Thousands of Workmen Idle Owing to Suspension of Work in Mills—Many Houses Inundated.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, March 21.—Another and greater flood threatens this section. For twenty-four hours heavy rains have been falling all over the country drained by the Monongahela and its tributaries. Reports received today show that all the streams are rising rapidly. It is also raining heavily up the Allegheny Valley. That river is now receding.

The entire lower portion of Allegheny and the flats in this city are still under from five to six feet of water. From the present outlook, it will be several days before the suspended mills in the submerged section will be able to resume. As a result, many thousands of men are idle.

SITUATION GROWS WORSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MEADVILLE (Pa.) March 21.—The flood situation during the night has grown worse. Many houses are inundated, and the occupants are living in the upper stories. A heavy rain fell today, and the river is rising. Conditions at Sharon are threatening.

Preparations for a great flood are being made.

LINER FOUR DAYS LATE.

THE PATRICIA'S VOYAGE ROUGH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Hamburg-American line steamer, Patricia, from Hamburg, came in today, four days later, after an extremely stormy voyage. Her 2300 passengers were confined to their quarters during almost the entire voyage, but beyond the discomforts incident to the weather they were well upon arrival.

LOST TWO COMING OVER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HALIFAX (N. S.) March 21.—With the news that her fourth officer and her carpenter have been lost during a tempest during its passage, the Allen line steamer, Sarmatian, arrived here today, after being eighteen days out from Glasgow. The Sarmatian is bound for Boston.

TORNADO KILLS NINE.

DESTRUCTION IN ALABAMA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROANOKE (Ala.) March 21.—Reports have reached here of one of the most disastrous storms that ever visited that section which swept across the southern part of Randolph county late last night. Eight or nine lives are known to have been lost, and damage to the extent of thousands of dollars was done property.

The tornado started at a point near Doubleheads and proceeded in a northwesterly course.

The residence of Mack Carlisle was demolished and R. C. Haynes of Roanoke was killed. Three negroes were killed, and several injured on the Wilson plantation. Three or four negroes were killed on the Holly plantation, near Rock Mills. At Lime postoffice a store was demolished and a little white girl, daughter of a Mr. Lucas, was killed, and her mother seriously injured. Details of the storm are difficult to obtain on account of the wires being down.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HONLULU, March 21.—[By Pacific Cable.] R. W. Breckons, United States Attorney, is, it is reported, investigating the Mormon settlement at Laie for evidences of polygamy, on instructions from Washington. Breckons refuses to confirm or deny the report.

A. T. Atkinson, superintendent of Public Instruction, and father of Territorial Secretary Atkinson, has resigned at the request of Gov. Carter, who considers his administration unsatisfactory. In his letter of resignation, Superintendent Atkinson demands a public investigation.

Standard Oil Millionaires John D. and William Rockefeller Beaten in Tarrytown Election by John Wirth, a Young Butcher.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time, John D. Rockefeller and his brother William have been defeated in an election in North Tarrytown. John Wirth, a young butcher, was today elected village president by a plurality of 148 on an anti-Rockefeller ticket, his opponent, favored by the Standard Oil millionaires, being Warren J. Stoddart.

Millions of dollars' worth of property is owned in the village by the Rockefellers, who, in other years, have elected their own candidates. Their moral support and that of a generous "barrel" usually have been associated in the minds of the citizens with the victories.

The Rockefeller ticket was headed "The cPople's aPrty," and had for its emblem a large rooster. The Citizens', or opposition, ticket, had for its emblem a safe, and young Wirth declared tonight, "Now, I shall lock the 'rooster' in my 'safe.'"

Despite the heavy rain, the election brought out the largest vote in history. Wirth's friends had a great celebration. It was openly charged that the representatives of John D. Rockefeller had colonized negroes and Italians. About three hundred Italians and negroes voted from the Rockefeller domain. Many of the Italians are employed on Rockefeller's place in building roads, beautifying his park and constructing a new reservoir on Buttermilk Hill.

Italians and negroes were brought to the polls in all kinds of traps. Some Italians rode in stages, while others enjoyed their first ride in an automobile. The anti-Rockefeller faction workers had automobiles to bring friends to the polls, and it is doubtful if there has been such excitement in any village today as in North Tarrytown.

BUILDING SCANDAL IN NEW YORK CITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The disclosures following the collapse of nine partially completed flat buildings since the thaw set in, last Saturday, have caused the city authorities to stop work on many structures and to put under the double surveillance of special inspectors several scores of other structures in the course of erection. An investigation into the methods of the Bureau of Buildings, which may cause a revolution in the department, also has been inaugurated.

Borough President Ahearn took personal charge of the matter, and learned of the existence of a "speculative flat house building" craze whereby buildings are sold from their plans and put up so rapidly that since the first of the year it has been possible to build six stories of stone foundation and brick wall, despite laws which expressly prohibit the erection of wall or pier or parts in freezing weather. Superficial investigation showed him seventy-five instances of buildings in the northern sections of the city, all of which, it was admitted, had been rushed to completion, although on not one day since January 1, has the mercury failed to fall below the freezing point.

That a great death roll has not followed the fall of the buildings is attributed only to the best of fortune. Even after the walls had begun to settle in many of them, men are said to have been at work, but the collapse held off until they had gone, or happened before the men returned.

BEEF TRUST INQUIRY PRODUCES EVIDENCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Federal grand jury is sitting in the inquiry of the beef trust, begun some time ago by United States District Attorney Burnett of this district. It will be continued through several more sessions. There have already been four sessions. Much evidence was added concerning the methods of the combine hereabouts. Every effort had been made to keep the matter quiet.

District Attorney Burnett said today that in prosecuting an inquiry, great difficulty was encountered in getting at the true facts. The aim of the investigation is to find if the trust has violated the injunction granted against it three years ago. The lawyers who represent the combination, and who have arrived in distinguished array since the Federal grand jury began proving, declare their client or clients have observed strictly the letter of the law. This may be true, but the government desires that the spirit of the law be observed as well.

Considerable significance is attached in the coming to New York of Commissioner Garfield. Garfield's visit, it has been announced, has only to do with an investigation into the Standard Oil Company. It is frankly admitted in the Federal building, however, that the findings of the grand jury in the beef trust inquiry now under way will be turned over to the commissioner for the use of the government. The government believes that the injunction three years ago has been violated in both letter and spirit.

GUARDING THE WITNESSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—Fifteen Secret Service men have been brought to Chicago to guard the witnesses who will appear and testify before the special grand jury which tomorrow will begin the investigation of the transactions of the so-called beef trust. So great is the desire of the Federal officers to maintain a strict secrecy in the investigation that every witness who testifies before the inquisitorial body will be closely guarded by one of the Secret Service men to prevent his being approached by newspaper men or agents of the packers.

C. B. Morrison, who today was appointed the District Attorney to succeed S. H. Bethea, recently appointed District Judge, declared tonight that any person detected speaking to or inquiring the name of any of the witnesses will be liable to contempt of court.

Twenty men have qualified as grand jurors, and the Federal officials hope to be able to complete the list of jurymen tomorrow.

NAVAL ASPECT OF THE WORLD CHANGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the House of Lords this evening naval expenditures were lengthily discussed, on the call of the Liberal leader, Earl Spencer, for papers regarding the naval programme. He said he did not desire to condemn the government, but he wanted an explanation of the plans involving the withdrawal of such a large number of vessels from the list of vessels which could be commissioned for active service and the reasons for the increased expenditure since 1894-1905.

Viscount Goschen justified the vast increase in the last fifteen years. He said the two-power standard was no longer applicable. One thing had been strongly brought out by the Russo-Japanese war, namely, the difficulties which might arise with neutrals, and the necessity of maintaining an attitude of dignity and power thereto.

The First Lord of the Admiralty, the Earl of Selborne, said the increased expenditure was due to the fact that the whole naval aspect of the world, east and west, had changed. Within the past thirteen years, new navies had sprung up. Russia had recently suffered great losses, but the fleet of Japan had come into existence; America and Germany had evolved navies of equal strength and efficiency, while the great French navy had maintained its efficiency. Great Britain was not forcing the pace in shipbuilding but was merely taking into account what other nations were doing and a two-power and possibly three-power standard must be maintained. The British navy stood close between their manhood and conscription. The navy supported Great Britain's fiscal policy. Lord Selborne added that the principal explanation of his naval policy was that for administrative economy he had thought it unadvisable to waste money on ships about to become ineffective.

Lord Selborne, in concluding, pointed out that in the West Indies the whole naval strategical situation had undergone a complete revolution since the Carnarvon Commission sat, owing to the birth of the American navy.

COLORADO MEN EXONERATED.

DENVER, March 21.—The General Assembly, in joint convention this afternoon, exonerated James M. Herbert, vice-president and general manager of the Colorado and Southern Railroad, and Daniel M. Sullivan, postmaster of Cripple Creek, who had been charged with bribery in the gubernatorial contest. The committee appointed to investigate the matter presented a report to the effect that Senator Morgan, who brought the charges, was a "confessed bribe-taker and unworthy of belief." The report was adopted, 75 to 2. Senator Morgan declared he would push the prosecution of Herbert and Sullivan in the criminal courts. The committee asked leave to make recommendations as to action in the case of Senator Morgan to the Senate, which was granted. It is reported that his expulsion will be recommended. Investigation of other charges of bribery in the gubernatorial contest, published in the newspapers, will now be made by the committee.

WHAT SYRIANS ARE HIT?

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Jackson U. Ralston of this city, who was umpire of the Italian-Venezuelan mixed commission which considered the Gauntmines and other wards, called on Acting Secretary of State Adee today in regard to the order that Syrian traders must settle their affairs and leave Hayti by April 1. Syrians in this country believe the order is of a general nature and will affect all Syrians trading in Hayti. Mr. McAdee, however, is of the opinion that the order concerns only those about whom the department has had correspondence. He cabled to Minister Powell for his interpretation of the order and pending a reply nothing will be done by this government.

DEBATE ON SEPARATION.

French Parliament Begins Talk on the Government's Bill Severing Ties of Church and State.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, March 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Chamber of Deputies today began the debate on the government's bill providing for separation of church and state. A large crowd was present. Both ministry and parliament are favorable to separation. The debate is expected to last three weeks. Sixty-three orators, including Deschanel, former president of the Chamber, Jaurez, Ribot, Miller and other conspicuous leaders, have announced their intention of addressing the chamber. The supporters of the bill are confident of success.

The debate began with the motion of George Berry (Conservative,) deferring the subject until after the general elections of 1906, and the motion of the Abbe Gayraud (Catholic Republican,) to refer the question to a parliamentary commission. The opposition will move to take a referendum of the municipal councils of France. These motions will present the main tests of strength. Canvasses show 65 per cent. of the Chamber favorable to the general principles of the bill. Berry's motion, putting off the question until after the elections, was defeated, 343 to 40.

HARGIS ADJOURNED GRAND JURY

LEXINGTON (Ky.) March 21.—The inquiry into the case of the Hargises and the Callahans, charged with conspiracy in the murder of Cockrell for the purpose of deciding the question of admitting them to bail, was resumed today. A. O. Bowman, foreman of the Breathitt county grand jury, testified that when the grand jury was investigating the case against Will Britton for killing Cockrell, for which he was afterwards given a life sentence, gave sensational evidence. Bowman said that Riley Coldiron had just given sensational testimony against Britton, when Alexis Hargis rushed into the grand jury room and by threats and angry attitude compelled the grand jury to adjourn. After main efforts on the part of Britton's friends to get the jury to investigate a "charge of perjury brought by Britton's friends against Coldiron, Bowman said the case was dropped and never resumed by them, through fear.

DOYLE'S MEMORY FAILS HIM.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) March 21.—Proxies given by James Doyle to Judge A. T. Gunnell of Colorado Springs, in 1894 and 1895, to be voted at the annual meetings of the Portland Mining Company, were introduced by the defense in the Doyle-Burns case today, to disprove statements repeatedly made by Doyle that he had entrusted the management of all his mining interests to James F. Burns, from whom he now asks a half interest in claims and dividends worth $900,000. Doyle was asked as to the truth of statements credited to him at the time Bobtail No. 2, Tidal Wave and Devil's Own claims were transferred to the Portland company, to the effect that "Burns was a hog," to demand so much for them. He was also interrogated with the object of proving that he had never laid claim to any interest in the contested claims at that time. On these points, Doyle's memory failed him.

DESPERATE POLICE BATTLE.

CHICAGO, March 21.—In one of the most desperate encounters between police and desperadoes since the capture of the notorious car-barn bandits, four men, suspected of being implicated in the murder of Fritz Kreuger, a saloonkeeper, early Sunday morning, were captured by the police today. Almost the entire police department of the Northwest Side, as well as Central Station detectives, participated in the round-up of the alleged robbers. One of the captured men was shot in the head, but the bullet missed touching a vital spot. The suspects were arrested at their homes, and in every case, it is said, the police were forced to break down doors to make the arrests. Many shots were exchanged between the officers and men, but no officer was wounded.

SENATOR WOLCOTT'S FUNERAL.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Funeral services over the ashes of Edward O. Wolcott, former United States Senator from Colorado, who died in Monte Carlo and was cremated, were held in the Brick Presbyterian Church today. The coffin was covered with violets and lilies of the valley. Rev. W. R. Richards, pastor of the church, conducted the services and the burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery. Three brothers and a sister of the deceased were present, as were also many others.

COTTON GROWERS CONSOLIDATE.

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 21.—A telegram from Fort Worth, Tex., announces the consolidation of the Southern Cotton Association and the National Cotton Association, the latter being absorbed by the former. The National Cotton Association had been doing work in Texas on lines similar to those of the Southern Cotton Association, and it was realized that it was best to work under one head.

Remains of Mrs. Stanford in San Francisco.

Body is at Once Taken to Palo Alto for Funeral.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The remains of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford arrived here today on the steamer Alameda, from Honolulu. They were in charge of President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University and Timothy Hopkins, a trustee of the university. Accompanying them were Miss Bertha Berner and Miss May Hunt, the secretary and maid, respectively, of Mrs. Stanford, and Detectives Reynolds and Caliunden. As the Alameda entered port the flags of all vessels in the harbor were at half-mast, and similar emblems were displayed throughout the city.

As soon as the quarantine officer had completed his duties, the revenue cutter Golden Gate steamed alongside the Alameda, and from her the big vessel was boarded by Charles G. Lathrop, brother of the deceased; Mountford Wilson, her attorney; J. D. Grant, one of the executors of the estate; Dr. Branner, acting president of Stanford University; Judge S. F. Lieb, vice-president of the university, and George Crothers, secretary of the board of trustees of the university.

Then the Alameda slowly proceeded to the Pacific-street dock, which was policed by a squad of officers in full uniform. A large crowd had assembled, and as the vessel came to her moorings every head was uncovered. The casket was transferred from the steamer to a hearse, and was immediately taken to the depot of the Southern Pacific Railroad. It was followed by a number of carriages containing the party from Honolulu, those who boarded the vessel and other close friends of Mrs. Stanford. As the hearse moved slowly along the water front and through the business section of the city, thousands of people lined the sidewalks and lifted their hats.

At the station, a funeral train was in readiness, and to it the remains were transferred. The escort then entered the train, which proceeded to Palo Alto. The funeral services will be held Friday in Memorial Chapel, at the university, and the remains will be placed in the Stanford mausoleum, on the university grounds.

NO POISON GIVEN.

President Jordan of Stanford University, on arriving here today, reiterated his previous statement that he was firmly convinced that Mrs. Stanford's death was due to natural causes and not poison. He said that two or three hours before Mrs. Stanford took the bicarbonate of soda, on the night of her death, Miss Berner had taken a dose from the same bottle, and that so

MAYOR HARRISON'S COUP.

Chaos reigns in political and traction circles as the result of Mayor Harrison's coup in the City Council last night. The mayor disavows intent to force the hands of either Judge Dunne or John M. Harlan, but neither candidate has ventured to comment on the sudden movement. Traction officials insist that the ordinance will extend the rights of the Chicago City Railway Company for a period of from three to five years, while Mayor Harrison maintains that the action will force a quick decision from the State courts.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The remains of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford arrived here today on the steamer Alameda, from Honolulu. They were in charge of President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University and Timothy Hopkins, a trustee of the university. Accompanying them were Miss Bertha Berner and Miss May Hunt, the secretary and maid, respectively, of Mrs. Stanford, and Detectives Reynolds and Callunden. As the Alameda neared port the flags of all vessels in the harbor were at half-mast, and similar emblems were displayed throughout the city.

As soon as the quarantine officer had completed his duties, the revenue cutter Golden Gate steamed alongside the Alameda, and from her the big vessel was boarded by Charles G. NO POISON GIVEN.

President Jordan of Stanford University, on arriving here today, reiterates his previous statement that he was firmly convinced that Mrs. Stanford's death was due to natural causes and not poison. He said that two or three hours before Mrs. Stanford took the bicarbonate of soda, on the night of her death, Miss Berner had taken a dose from the same bottle, and that no harm had resulted. This fact was not brought out at the inquest, presumably because Miss Berner had not been closely questioned. He was so strongly convinced that Mrs. Stanford was not poisoned that the opinions of a dozen doctors would not shake his belief.

Timothy Hopkins, trustee of the university, stated that he fully agreed with the views of President Jordan.

Miss Berner absolutely declined to discuss the case, and the maid, Miss Hunt, was equally reticent.

Detective Reynolds reported immediately to Captain of Detectives Martin and Acting Chief of Police Spillane, who refused to state the nature of his revelations.

Detective Callunden said that his voluminous notes had been turned over to his chief, Capt. Morse, who stated that he would consider them before stating his conclusions.

Attorney Mountford Wilson would express no opinion regarding the case, saying that he first must read and consider all the reports received.

ARRIVAL AT PALO ALTO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 21.—The special train bearing the body of Mrs. Stanford and the relatives and university representatives arrived at Menlo Park depot this afternoon. The body was quietly transferred to a hearse, which led the procession of eight carriages to the Stanford residence on the university campus. The entire party, consisting of C. G. Lathrop and other relatives, President Jordan and the faculty and student representatives, accompanied the body to the residence, where it will lie in state until the funeral services Friday afternoon.

In accordance with the wishes of those in charge of the funeral, no attempt was made on the part of students or others to meet the body in a formal way, and, with the exception of a few onlookers, there was no one at the depot when the body arrived. Miss Berner was the only one of the party accompanying the body that did not go to the Stanford residence. She was driven at once to her own home, two miles from the university.

The arrival of the body and the drive to the house were marked by extreme simplicity. The body now lies at the residence and none but those intimately connected with the Stanford family will be permitted to enter until the day of the funeral. All entrances to the private grounds are closely guarded. At the university all is quiet. Every form of activity has been suspended for the week.

GATHERING STATEMENTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 21.—Montford Wilson, attorney for the Stanford estate, spent the greatest part of the afternoon at the home of Miss Bertha Berner, secretary to Mrs. Stanford. When interviewed this evening, Miss Berner refused to state the purpose of Mr. Wilson's visit, but it is thought that he is gathering statements from those present at the death of Mrs. Stanford.

When asked whether she believed Mrs. Stanford was poisoned Miss Berner said: "The jury said so, but I don't know." Further than this, she refused to talk about the death.

Preparations for the funeral are going steadily forward. The arrangement of flowers and the decoration of the mausoleum will be in charge of a committee of Stanford girls. Each of the four classes in the university has voted a sum of money with which will be purchased four magnificent floral pieces.

OREGON'S HOP YIELD.

LARGELY INCREASED ACREAGE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALEM (Or.) March 21.—According to estimates given by H. J. Ottenheimer, a local dealer, who is rated as an authority, the probable hop yield of Oregon in 1905 will amount to 135,000 bales, as against 90,000 in 1904. These figures are based upon the increased acreage over last year, which is placed at 5000 acres.

The increase in 1903-04 was 5000 acres, making a total of 27,000 acres in the State. The new acreage is coming on fine, and will yield, barring adverse weather conditions, two bales per acre; while the old yards will average approximately five and a quarter bales to the acre.

NO CLEW TO ROBBERS.

HOLD-UP OF BANK MESSENGERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OAKLAND, March 21.—Thus far, no clew has been discovered as to the identity of the men who held up and robbed John Daly and Frank Roach, messengers of the Central Bank of this city to the Bank of Richmond, of $10,000, yesterday, near Stege, Contra Costa county. Suspects have been taken into custody by officers in various places, but none of them have been connected with the robbery.

This morning, Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county, accompanied by Roach, drove over the route taken by Daly and Roach yesterday when they were robbed, but were unable to discover any new feature in the case. The question of issuing a reward for the arrest of the robbers is under discussion. Sheriff Barnett of Alameda and Deputy William Carey of West Berkeley have been out with a posse of deputy sheriffs all night and are continuing their work today, but so far no new clews have rewarded their work.

The bottom seems to have fallen out of the whole case after the finding of the buggy tied at the corner of Sacramento and Addison streets, near the Santa Fé station, in West Berkeley. No one can be found who saw the men drive up and tie the horse to the tree nor can anyone be found save an employé on the electric line now being built to Richmond out San Pablo road, who saw the robbers driving into West Berkeley from the scene of their daring robbery. This one man is J. T. White.

At Point Richmond Sheriff Veale and his deputies are working on the theory that the robbers may have been former employés of the Pacific Coast Oil Company, for whom the money was intended, but the officials of the oil company are unable to point the finger of suspicion at anyone. There have been no arrests, and there are no suspects watched.

YOUNG WOMAN WITH GLASSES.

SAW HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OAKLAND, March 21.—Complete verification of the statements made by John E. Daly and Frank E. Roche concerning the $10,000 robbery near Stege yesterday, when they were relieved by highwaymen of money in transit from the Central Bank to the Bank of Richmond, was obtained today by Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county under circumstances extraordinary and unparalleled in the history of crime.

From a residence a quarter of a mile distant from the scene of the daring hold-up, Miss Perry saw the occurrence through field glasses, and as a matter of justice to the men, she today narrated her astonishing experiences to the authorities, that all doubt as to the genuineness of their recitals might be set at rest.

GOV. PARDEE SIGNS SOME MORE BILLS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Gov. Pardee has been considering code-revision bills today as much as the throng of visitors would allow. He has been besieged by many delegations, each striving for some pet measure. There are over 200 bills still in his hands and it is believed that many of them will be allowed to slumber.

Earnest arguments were made today in favor of the State Fair appropriation. The directors, who called on the Governor declared that without it the directors of the State Fair might as well go way back and sit down for two years. The appropriation bills approved thus far will be sufficient to pay debts only and leave nothing for the new park improvements that are absolutely necessary to hold a State fair.

The Municipal Lighting, the Eminent Domain Water Bill and the County Division Bill still hang fire and appear to lack any great amount of support, though persistently opposed.

The Pilot Bill, which deeply interests San Francisco commercial people, was the subject of much advice pro and con extended to the Governor. This act makes it compulsory upon ship's captains to take pilots; does away with half pilotage and forbids a ship clearance except it takes a licensed pilot, but it reduces the pilotage fee 40 per cent and the tonnage fee 25 per cent.

All the foregoing measures are at this writing still in the hands of the Governor, and are the chief bills of broad and general interest he has to pass upon.

Among the bills approved by the Governor tonight were many code-revision acts which are seldom new laws, but rearrangement and codification of existing laws.

These were signed among other bills tonight, and a bill making aiding divorce by advertising and soliciting a crime (Senate bill, No. 145.)

Senate bill, No. 154, forbids the circulation of impure literature in the State institutions—it is now a law.

The Governor approved Senate bill, No. 435, forbidding the giving or selling of liquor to minors under eighteen years of age. This act is made more stringent than previous laws upon the subject.

By Senate bill, No. 471, greater and better safeguards of secrecy are thrown about telephonic and telegraphic messages and employés of telegraph and telephone companies are liable to severe punishment for revealing such messages. The Governor approved the bill.

Penal Code: Senate bills, Nos. 763, 14, 135, 166, 164, 167, 359, 252, 375, 413, 455, 416, 411, 486, 120, 134, 414, 479, 431, 126, 433, 136, 436, 137, 437, 139, 435, 141, 142, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 750, 615, 614, 548, 497, 495, 444, 492, 482, 496, 489, 488, 487, 485, 486, 474, 473, 471, 470, 469, 468, 457, 456, 454, 452, 451.

The Governor tonight also signed these code-revision bills:

Assembly bills (Civil Code:) Nos. 394, 396, 491, 399, 490, 488, 487, 483, 509, 508, 507, 506, 504, 879, 501, 502, 500, 499, 498, 497, 495, 494, 493, 485, 480, 266, 503.

Senate bill, No. 883, money at prisons to be accounted for by system. Senate bill, No. 544, provides for incorporation of companies to loan on chattels. Senate bill, No. 598, creates reclamation district Seventy, Sutter county. Senate bill, No. 412 (Penal Code.)

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Brodt Wanders Away.

NEVADA, March 21.—Ephraim Brodt, a pioneer resident of Quaker Hill, eight miles from this city, wandered away from the home of his son last Friday, and no clew to his whereabouts have yet been discovered. It is believed that he perished in the heavy forest during the severe storm Saturday night.

Salvage Case of the Vermont.

VICTORIA (B. C.) March 21.—In the retrial of the salvage case of the British steamer Vermont against the American bark Abbey Palmer, which was picked up at sea, dismasted and disabled, by the steamer and towed to Victoria, judgment was given for $5500, increasing the former award by $1300.

Licenses for Banks.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Board of Bank Commissioners has issued licenses for the establishment of the Modesto Savings Bank, capitalized at $50,000, at Modesto, and the International Banking Corporation, capitalized at $25,000, at Calexico.

W. B. Kennedy Convicted.

WOODLAND, March 21.—W. B. Kennedy, colored, one of the four men who robbed several places of business in Dunnigan, January 6, was convicted today of burglary in the first degree, and waiving time, received his sentence of forty-five years in the State's Prison at Folsom. The charge included prior conviction of felony in Iowa, which Kennedy admitted. Kennedy was implicated in the affair in San Francisco, when Policeman Robinson was murdered, but escaped punishment through a technicality of law.

MTH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

CHICAGO, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gentle spring arrived in Chicago today, officially, but there were no floral wreaths entwined in the flowing tresses of the mythical maiden. Instead, Prof. Cox asserts, she had skates strapped to her feet to negotiate the icy pavement. Up near the Arctic Circle, the frozen denizens prospired in 60-deg. temperature, but in Chicago the mercury abided with the freezing mark, ranging from 29 to 33 degs. above zero. MAYOR HARRISON'S COUP.

Chaos reigns in political and traction circles as the result of Mayor Harrison's coup in the City Council last night. The mayor disavows intent to force the hands of either Judge Dunne or John M. Harlan, but another candidate has ventured to comment on the sudden movement. Traction officials insist that the ordinance will extend the rights of the Chicago City Railway Company for a period of from three to five years, while Mayor Harrison maintains that the action will force a quick decision from the State courts.

YOUNG WOMAN'S CORPSE.

Lying on the shore of the lake at the foot of Cherry street, Winnetka, the body of a young woman was discovered this afternoon. No marks of identification were on the clothing, but a flag pin with the inscription "Put-in-Bay" was found in the pocket of the dress.

LODGE MEN'S DANCES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Six hundred lodge men, most of whom are young and many of whom are from the wealthiest and most prominent families of the Twin Cities, attended a stag party last night, and now a police investigation and a general sifting of the facts in the case by the grand jury are likely. The party was given at Bowlby Hall, a large lodgeroom used by several secret orders. The feature of the entertainment was a dance by an artist's model of this city. She is young and handsome. The dance is described as being very daring and eccentric. Another feature was an "Igorrote" dance in correct native costume.

CONFERENCE WITH TAFT.

President to Change Isthmian Canal Commission.

Grunsky "Saws Wood" and Awaits Outcome.

Concerning Reed's Complaint. Cabinet Meeting.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President intends to have a conference with Secretary of War Taft tomorrow and decide what is to be done regarding the Isthmian Canal Commission. Secretary Taft said today that he has no idea what the outcome of the conference will be, although he believes there will be sweping changes in the organization of the commission, if not in its personnel.

No person in authority will say today whether the President intends to retain C. E. Grunsky of San Francisco as a member of the commission, but several in authority did say that the President has an exceedingly high opinion of Grunsky's ability, believing him to be absolutely honest and capable, and may ask him to remain with the reorganization commission. Grunsky himself said this morning he has no information as to what the President will do in his case, and all he knows is that the President intends to reorganize the commission. It may be said that Grunsky is making no effort to retain his place, and is contenting himself with proceeding with his duty and awaiting the President's pleasure.

It is positive that H. G. Burt, former president of the Union Pacific Railway, is under serious consideration by the President for the new canal commission. His name has been under consideration since inauguration day.

TAFT TO DR. REED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Secretary Taft today made public a letter which he has written to the President concerning complaints made by Dr. C. A. L. Reed, regarding the work of the Isthmian Canal Commission. In the course of his letter, Secretary Taft said that many of the things complained of would be remedied by placing the control of the canal under one head, or at least under a commission composed of not more than three members. He added that he will submit to the President, in a short time, a plan for the rearrangement of the commission.

The President, in his reply, said he was glad to know that the Secretary is preparing a plan for the rearrangement of the commission, and promised to give the plan immediate attention when received.

THE FULL TEXT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Following is the full text of the Secretary's letter and the President's reply thereto:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, March 11, 1905.

The President: I herewith transmit the answer of the commission to the charges contained in the report of Dr. C. A. L. Reed to me as to the sanitary provisions made by the Isthmian Canal Commission on the isthmus.

I think that a reading of the two documents will show what, indeed, was apparent on the face of Dr. Reed's statement—that his charges against the commission were biased and controversial, and not written in the judicial spirit that inspires confidence in their justice and accuracy.

Dr. Reed visited the isthmus at my request, to act as an assessor of land upon a commission provided by the treaty between Panama and the United States. As he was the head of the American Medical Association, it seemed to me an opportunity on his return to secure information from one skilled in his profession as to the existing conditions upon the isthmus. In response to my queries, he was so emphatic and so detailed in his charges that I asked him to make his statement in writing, which he did upon the same day, by the use of a stenographer.

It is probable that had he taken time, he would have been more measured in his criticism, less extreme in his statements, and less flippant in his references to the action of the commission. The report of Dr. Reed was published without my knowledge or consent.

The reply of the commission seems to show that a large part of the plans and the action of the commission which Dr. Reed criticises was fully concurred in and agreed to by Col. Gorgas and the other officers in the employ of the commission. It is doubtless true that Col. Gorgas and his staff believed that it would be wiser to give them an entirely free hand in the matter of ordering construction supplies and the employment of subordinates. It is quite possible that had the approval of the commission in the matter of ordering construction supplies been dispensed with, there would have been fewer delays and less complaint on this account; but in the expenditure of such large sums as were necessary for the organization of the sanitary system, the construction of plant and the purchase of supplies, it may well be doubted whether the commission would have been discharging its duty in withholding such supervisory control.

It is doubtless true that there have been undue delays in the furnishing of what was needed for sanitary purposes on the isthmus, but I venture to think that it is due rather to the inherent clumsiness of the commission as an executive body than the willfulness or non-attention of any member of that body. There must be some restraint for purposes of economy upon expenditures by an executive who has in mind the total expenditures and obligations being incurred. To allow each department to expend what, in its judgment is necessary will certainly lead to extravagance and waste. The remedy for the delays which may have occurred here, it seems to me, are to be found in a rearrangement of the commission with a new distribution of powers and the conferring of the executive on one, or at the most, not more than three members of the commission, with a general supervisory and confirmatory power in the commission as a body.

With your permission, I will submit in a day or two a plan for the better carrying on of the work of the commission which may be embodied in a new series of instructions.

Respectfully yours,
[Signed] WILLIAM H. TAFT,
Secretary of War.

WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, March 20, 1905.

The Secretary of War: I have received your report of March 17, together with the report of Dr. Reed and the answer thereto made by the commission. It appears from this that Dr. Reed's report, which, of course, should under no circumstances have been given to the public until you chose so to give it, and until the answer thereto had been made by the commission, was without your knowledge, printed in the Medical Journal. It further appears that the statements which he thus published were in many instances unsupported by truth.

Dr. Reed has not displayed in this report the qualities of temperament or the power of accurate judicial observation needed to make a further report valuable to the government. It is true that he was not charged with the duty of making such a report, and that he was appointed to be a commissioner to assess the value of real estate. Nevertheless, when he assumed to make a report on sanitary conditions at your request as Secretary of War, he was under obligation to speak with justice on so important a subject and to observe the proprieties as to its publication.

Judging from your report, it appears that the chief difficulties that have arisen have come from the inherent faultiness of the law under which the commission was appointed. It further appears, however, that in view of our experience with the workings of the commission a rearrangement of duties and change of personnel in view of this rearrangement should be made. I am glad that you are shortly to submit to me a plan with these objects in view.

[Signed] THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

THOSE CUSTOMS COLLECTORS.

NOT FOR SANTO DOMINGO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The projected reorganization of the force of American customs collectors in Santo Domingo, based upon the expectation that the Senate would approve the pending treaty before adjournmnt, has been indefinitely postponed, and it is impossible that any changes will be made in the near future beyond the relief of Commander Leiper, who is now acting collector at Monte Cristi. Commander Leiper is called upon to go north to put his ship out of commission at the Boston navy yard. The collection at Monte Cristi and Puerto Plata will therefore be under Abbott's direction for the present.

Some apprehension is felt here as to the probable action of those European powers that have claims against Santo Domingo, and it would not surprise the officials here if some attempt is made to secure joint action by these powers to seize the customs revenues at some Dominican port.

CABINET MEETING.

TALK OF CANAL COMMISSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Questions relating to the Isthmian Canal and the reorganization of the Canal Commission occupied much of the attention of the Cabinet at today's regular meeting. No definite announcement was made at the conclusion of the meeting regarding the canal questions, but a statement on the general subject of the decisions reached will be made prior to the President's departure on his southwestern trip.

It is stated that the name of Horace G. Burt, former president of the Union Pacific Railroad, is under consideration for the position of executive head of the commission, but it has not been decided yet whether he will accept the place. His appointment would interfere in no respect with the retention at the head of the engineering work of the present chief engineer, Wallace, who, assisted by probably two other engineers, will have control of the practical engineering of the canal construction.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Sentence on Lieut. Mohn.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The President has approved the sentence of dismissal imposed on Second Lieutenant Albert J. Mohn, Fourth Cavalry, by a general court-martial, convened at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, on conviction of the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. This officer had written letters to the President alleging that a number of his superior officers in the Department of the Missouri were engaged in a conspiracy to force him out of the army.

STUDENT GRISCOM'S END.

Scion of Noted Philadelphia Family Seeks Woman in Europe and Drowns Himself.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—Andrew M. Griscom of Philadelphia, who disappeared from Philadelphia several weeks ago and was supposed to be in Europe, committed suicide March 19 by jumping overboard from the steamer Minnetonka. Griscom sailed on the Minnetonka from London for this city. When he jumped overboard the steamer was stopped and a boat was lowered, but he could not be found. It is supposed that he was temporarily insane.

Griscom was a member of the well-known Philadelphia family.

When Griscom disappeared from Philadelphia it was reported that he had eloped with a young woman and that both of them had gone to Europe. Griscom's mother, however, denied it. News of the suicide was made public when the Minnetonka reached this port today.

TRACED FROM PHILADELPHIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—Andrew M. Griscom was the son of W. W. Griscom, a millionaire resident of Bryn Mawr, a suburb. Young Griscom, who was a student at the University of Pennsylvania, left his boarding-house during the first week in February and was not heard from until February 9, when he visited the New York office of the Reading Hardware Company, of which his father is one of the owners. The boy made a request for money and his father, upon being communicated with, ordered that his son be supplied with funds. Nothing further was heard of Andrew until February 20, when it was learned that he had sailed for Europe.

Later it was learned that Elsie Hansom, who had been a governess in the Griscom family, had preceded young Griscom, and there were rumors of a contemplated elopement, but this was subsequently denied. When Griscom's father learned that his son was in Europe he sent a friend to bring the boy home and it is supposed that he was accompanying this man on the Minnetonka.

THE GREAT WAR.

confirmation of this report cannot be obtained.

The discrepancy between the Japanese and Russian reports regarding the number of guns captured in the battle of Mukden has not yet been cleared up. The Japanese are recovering parts of guns in wells in the vicinity of Mukden, and it is suggested that the Russians either buried their guns or threw them into the rivers. The Japanese are continuing their search for them.

Prisoners captured at the battle of Mukden are beginning to arrive in Japan. The government has chartered and fitted out forty steamers to assist the transports in carrying the prisoners and in properly caring for both Russian and Japanese wounded.

Revised figures of the Japanese losses in the battle of Mukden show that they approximate 50,000. Revised estimates of the Russian losses, from the beginning of the battle of Mukden to the withdrawal from Tie Pass, including prisoners, place them at 175,000.

THREW AWAY THEIR BOOTS.

RUSSIANS DEMORALIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KAOPONTE, March 19.—Evening, via Tien-Tsin, March 20.—[Delayed in transmission.] A Norwegian trader accompanied the Russian retreat to Tie Pass, and, with a single companion, crossed over to Fakoman, following the water courses to avoid the Russian patrols from Hunghutzu.

The Russians left Mukden with five columns of infantry, in the center of which were two lines of commissariat, with artillery flanking the body and cavalry acting as screens, farther afield.

The demoralized troops discarded their boots and equipments, and abandoned their transport carts, left guns and carriages, using the horses to save as many as possible.

All the last day at Tie Pass, the Cossacks looted the booths of traders, sold champagne at a rouble a bottle, and smashed and burned everything unsalable. They caught a Japanese spy, who, upon resisting, was killed. The guilty Cossacks were shot a quarter of an hour later.

Maj.-Gen. Fukushima has visited Sinmintun and perfected arrangements for the installation of a Japanese garrison there, and it is probable that in the future that town will be considered within the war zone, and all persons arriving there will be required to have a pass.

Prince Henry's Forthcoming Visit to Paris, the First Made by Prussian Prince Since the War, Harbinger of Coming Era of Good Feeling—Kaiser Has No Designs on Morocco.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, March 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Daily Chronicle this morning claims to have the authority of the German embassy at London for stating that Germany is anxious for a reconciliation with France and that Emperor William is desirous of getting on terms of closest friendship with the French government.

According to a high official of the embassy, whom the Daily Chronicle interviewed, the present moment is considered most opportune to arrive at such an understanding, the Russo-Japanese War having entirely changed the political situation.

Germany, this official said, had reason to consider the Franco-Russian alliance directed against herself, and, in that case, the motive of German overtures to France might have been misjudged. Now, however, it will be impossible for Russia to engage in war with Germany for years to come, even if she wished; therefore, if the question of revenge is buried there is nothing to prevent Germany and France shaking hands and inaugurating an era of peace and good will.

Prince Henry's visit to France to see the James Gordon Bennett automobile cup race will be the first official visit of a Prussian Prince since the war, and the relations of the two countries never have been better.

Germany has no territorial designs on Morocco and no desire to embarrass French political ambitions, her only wish being to open the door and to guarantee her large commercial interests.

CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERS DO NOT WANT HIS COIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, March 21.—Congregational ministers representing Boston and various sections of New England have forwarded to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions a protest against the acceptance by the board of a gift of $100,000 from John D. Rockefeller. The petition, which was prepared by a committee chosen at a meeting of the clergymen, protests against the acceptance of the gift on the ground that the Standard Oil Company "stands before the public under repeated and recent formidable indictments in specific terms for methods which are morally iniquitous and socially destructive," and that "the acceptance of such a gift involves the constituents of the board in a relation implying honor toward the donor and subjects the board to the charge of ignoring the moral issues involved."

In conclusion, the protest says: "We, the undersigned, therefore, protest against the action by which our church may even seem to be compromised, and we plead with the officers of the board to decline the gift or to return it if it has been accepted."

A. R., and religious services were held in the church.

STILL IN THE GAME.

Kouropatkin Appointed to Command First Army, Reversing Old Order. Former Chief Gets Ovation at Harbin Which Makes Him Weep.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22., 1 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Gen. Kouropatkin has been appointed commander of the First Manchurian Army. The appointment is gazetted in the Official Messenger today.

Sinking all feeling of personal bitterness because of his supersession and all the old-time enmity between himself and Gen. Linevitch, in a patriotic desire to be of service to the fatherland, the former commander-in-chief volunteered to remain in any capacity with the army which he had so long commanded. The tender has been accepted by Emperor Nicholas and gratefully received by the new leader of the army.

The change exactly reverses the old order of affairs, when Kouropatkin was the supreme leader and Linevitch directed the first army. Authoritative news of this remarkable step was known in Manchuria much earlier than in St. Petersburg.

Gen. Kouropatkin, having paused on his homeward journey at Harbin, started southward the afternoon of March 20, amid a most remarkable farewell from residents of Harbin and soldiers who are on the way to fill out the ranks of the depleted army.

GIVEN GREAT OVATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARBIN, March 21, 3 a.m.—At the departure south of Gen. Kouropatkin crowds of thousands of civilians and soldiers gathered at the station and gave him a great ovation. Above thundering hurrahs were heard cries of "God send you happiness!" "Good-by, brother!" "Good-by, father!"

As the train started, soldiers rushed forward in a surging crowd and grasped the hand rail of the general's car, throwing their caps in the air and running some distance with the car.

The scene made a deep impression on Gen. Kouropatkin, down whose face tears streamed. Removing his cap, he saluted again and again and stood bareheaded on the platform as long as the train was in sight.

RUSSIANS WANT PEACE.

TRADE JOURNAL'S STRONG PLEA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 21.—The Trade World, in an article reviewing the suspension of industry in Russia, directly or indirectly produced by the war, the immense losses sustained as a result of 350,000 tons of grain left rotting in the Volga districts owing to lack of transportation, and the hardships imposed upon the peasants by sending young and able-bodied men to the front, makes an earnest appeal for peace, saying:

"Do you think still, gentlemen Chauvinists, of doubtful victories? Conclude peace and allow agriculture and industry to revive and set to work and regenerate the people. That is the victory Russia needs.

"Glory be to him who leads."

Imperial is today touched 87 on the St. Petersburg Bourse, the lowest point since the war began.

Preparations are now making for mobilization of a number of detachments, not, however, on a general scale, the preliminary orders affecting but twenty-two districts in the governments of Odessa, Warsaw and Moscow. The grenadiers have not received orders to proceed to Manchuria, but many officers of that organization drafted to command units now bound for the front left Moscow yesterday.

ITALY WANTS TO KNOW.

Has Cruiser at Santo Domingo to See if American Protocol Sufficiently Guarantees Claims.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Italian cruiser Calabria has been in the port of Santo Domingo, according to the Herald correspondent there, since Tuesday, to ascertain if the American protocol sufficiently guarantees the Italian claims, aggregating a large sum, secured by a previous lien on the port receipts. If a satisfactory assurance were lacking the Calabria was prepared, the correspondent continues, to take the customhouse of some port, collect the revenues and liquidate the claims.

The commander of the Calabria, Marencodi Moriondo, informed the Italian Chargé d'Affaires, Luigi di Cambiaso, of the character of the mission, but dealt directly with the American Minister, Mr. Dawson, and Señor Sanchez, Minister of Foreign Affairs, who referred to article 1 of the protocol, as evidence of the just purpose of the American convention. Minister Dawson regretted he was unable to give more explicit assurances and expressed the belief that the Italian claims would be safeguarded if the convention were ratified. Vicini, Bancalari and other Italian claimants are satisfied with the American plan. Commander Moriondo has cabled a report to Rome, expressing his belief that the assurances are satisfactory.

The Calabria waits a reply from Rome permitting the ship to proceed to Havana and La Guayra, thence on a tour around the world. Prince Ferdinand di Savoia, one of the 'midshipmen and eldest son of Prince Tomas and the King's cousin, has been feted by the Italian colony daily. Courtesies also have been exchanged between the Italians, Mr. Dawson and the officers of the Castine and the Stewart.

"NEGOTIATIONS" WITH READER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—An official version of the alleged negotiations between A. B. Reader and the Dominican government was given today by Emilio C. Jubert, the Dominican chargé d'affaires at Washington, who is in this city, who said:

"I was in President Morales's office when Reader sent in his letter asking for an interview. He pretended to be an agent of the United States. The President had word sent to Reader that he could not grant an interview unless he was presented by Minister Dawson, and told him if he had any business to communicate it either through the Dominican Legation at Washington or the Minister of Foreign Affairs. Later, Reader sent a bundle of papers to Foreign Minister Sanchez, which were returned without notice being taken of them. It is absurd to say that there were any negotiations with Reader."

ULTIMATUM TO SYRIANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT AU PRINCE (Hayti) March 21.—Public notice is made in the Official Moniteur today that Syrian traders must settle their affairs, cease trading, and leave the country by April 1. Their legations must designate the liquidators.

American Minister Powell, on being questioned, said that the interests of Syrians who have genuine American naturalization papers will be protected. The French, British and Dominican legations will protect those under their jurisdiction. Syrians who are subjects, having vainly [illegible] protection to the United States, French legations, will probably be compelled in a body. Those who are under the protection of the legations will be in danger of violence, as they are hated by the populace.

BOWEN GIVES HIM NOTICE.

Castro is Asked if He Will Arbitrate.

France Has Not Presented an Ultimatum as Yet.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WILLEMSTADT (Island of Curacao) March 21.—[By West Indian Cable.] The Venesuelan government, it is announced from Caracas, has received a note from the American Minister, Mr. Bowen, requiring an answer as to whether Venezuela will arbitrate the questions pending, and saying that in case of a refusal the United States will feel free to take the step which may be necessary to secure justice.

The Chargé d'Affaires of The Netherlands has advised the Venesuelan government that Holland will use coercive measures in view of the fact that she has been unable to secure release from imprisonment in Venezuela of five Dutch sailors who have been illegally kept in prison for seven months.

NO ULTIMATUM YET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, March 21.—The Foreign Office says the French Minister at Caracas has not presented an ultimatum to Venezuela, and no French warships have been sent to Venesuelan waters. The statement to that effect results from the publication in London newspapers of dispatches saying the presentation of an ultimatum had been followed by the dispatch of two warships. The officials here are surprised and displeased at the reports, which they construe as tending to force the hand of France into a more aggressive and belligerent policy than anything France contemplates. Intimations are made that the United States occupies the best position to send warships, owing to the length of time the American controversy with Venezuela has been pending, whereas the French controversy is of comparatively recent origin and has not yet been decided by the courts.

The instructions sent to the French Minister at Caracas directed that diplomatic representations be made relative to the holding up of the vested rights of the cable company, but did not contemplate threats or an ultimatum, as the authorities say the affair has no gravity calling for steps of such a warlike character. Up to noon today, neither the Foreign Office nor the cable company had received the expected decision of the Caracas court upon the French Cable company's concession.

The Council of Ministers met this morning, and Foreign Minister Delcasse lengthily explained the status of the negotiations with Morocco, but no authoritative statement, regarding the proceedings of the council [illegible] not mention Venezuela. This means that no action will be taken pending the receipt of information as to the Caracas court's decision.

The officials here are surprised and displeased at the reports, which they construe as tending to force the hand of France into a more aggressive and belligerent policy than anything France contemplates. Intimations are made that the United States occupies the best position to send warships, owing to the length of time the American controversy with Venezuela has been pending, whereas the French controversy is of comparatively recent origin and has not yet been settled by the courts.

The instructions sent to the French Minister at Caracas directed that diplomatic representations be made relative to the holding up of the vessel rights of the cable company, but did not contemplate threats or an ultimatum, as the authorities say the affair has no gravity calling for steps of such a warlike character. Up to noon today, neither the Foreign Office nor the cable company had received the expected decision of the Caracas court upon the French Cable Company's concession.

The Council of Ministers met this morning, and Foreign Minister Delcasse lengthily explained the status of the negotiations with Morocco, but gave no authoritative statement, regarding the proceedings of the council that did not mention Venezuela. This is said that no action will be taken upon the receipt of information as to the Caracas court's decision.

WOMEN'S INSTRUCTIONS.

WILL CALLS ON CASTRO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—In calling President Castro for an answer to his proposition to submit to arbitration the issues between the United States and Venezuela, Minister Bowen is acting in accordance with specific instructions from the State Department, which have been recently placed in his hands. Mr. Bowen made a proposition of this kind to the Venezuelan Foreign Office several months ago, and there was an exchange of notes on the subject, but further consideration was cut off by the abrupt departure from the capital of President Castro at a moment when his own decision was required. The Venezuelan government at that stage had made a counter proposition to Minister Bowen, looking to the arbitration of the dispute by The Hague tribunal, but with the important qualification that the tribunal should arbitrate as a preliminary the question as to whether or not the United States government had the right, under international law, to intervene at all as between the Venezuelan government's claims the American concessionaires must look to Venezuela for their protection.

This was construed here as an attempt to bring into play the old Calvo doctrine, which the United States has resolutely and repeatedly refused to accept in its negotiations with the southern republics. So Mr. Bowen reported to the State Department the fact of President Castro's departure, and asked for instructions. These were prepared with great care, and after Atty.-Gen. Moody had, upon call from the President, furnished an opinion to the effect that the proceedings in the Venezuelan courts involving the asphalt company's property were so irregular as to amount practically to a denial of justice. Therefore, Mr. Bowen was told to renew his proposition for a free arbitration of the issues between Venezuela and the United States at the first opportune moment, and this it appears he has now done.

Beside the New York and Bermudez asphalt case, there are three other matters which are suggested as proper subjects for arbitration—namely, the Critchfield claim (also based on an asphalt concession); the claim of the Orinoco Steam Navigation Company, based on a violated franchise, and the claim of the newspaper correspondent, Jaurett, for damages arising from his summary expulsion from Venezuela. If President Castro rejects this last offer of Bowen to arbitrate these cases, it is expected that he will promptly report that fact to the State Department, and it will be determined what course to pursue. The Minister's presentment of this matter, therefore, is not an actual ultimatum, for the way is still open for further negotiations if the department decides that the time has not yet arrived to withdraw its Minister and adopt some coercive measures.

There is great reluctance on the part of officials to the adoption of the latter course, but the situation is believed to be such that unless the department is willing to submit to the complete rejection of the American claims, some action must be taken very soon.

Reports have been arriving here for some time that many of the people of Venezuela are penniless and in need of food. One foreign diplomat there recently reported that conditions are undescribable, and that the strict censorship on everything sent out prevented the world from knowing the actual condition of affairs. All foreigners were close watched. No official information has reached here regarding the seizure of the Italian coal mines, nor has the French Embassy been advised further regarding the affairs of the French Cable Company.

TO REORGANIZE INDIAN POLICE.

LONDON, March 22.—The Daily Mail's Calcutta correspondent reports that a scheme has been sanctioned to reorganize and strengthen the Indian police at a cost of £5,000,000 yearly, with a view to rendering the police capable of holding the country on an emergency, thus releasing troops for work at the front. Total present strength of the native police is 150,000, but only 50,000 are equipped with firearms. It is officered by whites.

The Earl of Rosslyn has been married to Miss Anna Hobinson, quietly in London. The bride is a native of Minneapolis, but has lived abroad for some years. She once appeared on the stage, but retired in 1901.

WRECK OF ROCKY MOUNTAIN LIMITED.

[BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS—A.M.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) March 21.—The Rocky Mountain Limited, westbound on the Rock Island railroad, was wrecked near Homestead, Iowa, early today, and seven persons were injured. According to railway officials, the wreck was caused by train-wreckers, who escaped in the darkness. The most seriously injured are:

MRS. L. CROSSWHITE, Sargent, Iowa; arm cut and bruised.

C. J. POMEROY, mail clerk, Newton, Kan.; head cut.

A. C. HOTCHKISS, engineer, Rock Island, Ill.; hands and feet scalded.

W. H. VALLCOCK, porter, Chicago; head cut.

L. A. WEBBER, mail clerk, Council Bluffs, Iowa; head cut.

The wreck occurred on a high embankment where the roadbed had been made soft by recent heavy rains. The conductor reported the wreck to the Chicago headquarters in the following message: "The wreck was caused by an unknown party removing spikes, bars and angiebars and misplacing the rail. Spikes were removed from two rails. The engine and first four cars were thrown down a 45-foot embankment. The engine was completely stripped, the mail car destroyed, the buffet car on its side and two sleepers badly damaged."

DOUBT ABOUT ROBBERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, March 21.—At the general offices of the Rock Island Company in Chicago, officials of the road express a doubt that the wreck was caused by robbers. The officials, however, say that the wrecking of the train was done maliciously and with premeditation. It was found that the rails at the point of the wreck had not only been removed, but, after being taken out of line with the rest of the track, had been spiked down again.

The officials here are at a loss to account for the motive for the wrecking of the train. The theory that the wreck was the work of robbers is offset by the fact that no attempt was made at robbery after the train had been wrecked.

RAILROAD EMBARGO TAKEN OFF NEVADA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RENO (Nev.) March 21.—The embargo placed upon all freight, excepting the necessities of life, by the Southern Pacific Company, some time ago, will be raised tomorrow morning. This important news was received today. It is the result of an official visit to the southern country by General Manager Calvin. He returned from there yesterday, and today the announcement came. Thousands of tons of freight, consisting of mining machinery and in some instances entire hotels, are now sidetracked along the line waiting for the embargo to be lifted.

While it was in force, the express company reaped a harvest, carload after carload of material having been shipped in at full express rates.

COLONIST MOVEMENT.

CONSIDERABLE TO PORTLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 21.—Transportation men representing the various lines having agencies in Portland are surprised at the weight of the colonist movement now for several weeks in existence. It is estimated that an average of 100 persons a day have been brought to Portland by one railroad since the opening of the rate, March 1.

Estimating that each train over the Northern Pacific and the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company running into Portland does as well, it is calculated that more than 7500 persons will have been landed in Portland alone by the middle of May, at which time the rates terminate.

ESPEE DIVIDEND PROSPECTS.

ABSORPTION OF STOCK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific is being absorbed by investors on both sides of the Atlantic, because of its dividend prospects. The road's earnings have been put into betterments for so many years that it is impossible to hide enough there any longer to excuse the non-payment of coupons on stock.

The present predicament of the Harriman party in the stock market makes it desirable that some friends be cultivated and the payment of Southern Pacific dividends is the easiest way to placate the street. Therefore, they may be accepted as assured fact.

Side Talks By the Office Boy

Did you ever buy any of those smuggled cigars that are made in Chinatown? There are two or three fellows working the old gag all the time in Los Angeles. They sneak in on a man cautiously with a package done in a newspaper, tell you that they've just come off a steamer at San Pedro, that they smuggled in some extra choice Havana cigars, then they unwind the rope and open a box of 100 cigars done in a package of a hundred, pull a cigar out of the center for you to try. (They have a special one there on purpose.) They offer to sell you the 100 for $40, stating they are 25c goods. If they can't get forty, they get twenty, and if that don't work, they sell you fifty for about three fifty, and after the fellow's gone you try one, and find it don't deserve a trial, but ought to be hung. It's made from the pure leaf of the cabbage, and you have to hold it up in the air to keep the filler from falling out. The same old "imported" gag is worked on all kinds of goods, more especially in the tailoring business. That's the reason the boss imports his own woolens. He says a jobber can easily saw a foreign ticket on a piece of cloth. When we tell you an article is imported, betcher life it crossed the big pond all right, all right.

LA PROVENCE LAUNCHED.

ST. NAZAIRE (France) March 21.—La Provence, the latest and largest steamer on the Havre-New York service of the French line, was successfully launched today. The inhabitants of the town were in holiday garb, triumphal arches spanned the main thoroughfares, the main shipping were gay with bunting, and special trains brought crowds of people from Paris, including Minister of Commerce Dubieff and Minister of Public Works Gauthier. Mlle. Rouf, daughter of the director of the yards, gave the signal, and the steamer which was bedecked with American and French flags, glided into the water amid the cheers of the multitude. The chief features of the La Provence are: Tonnage 19,180; length, 620; width, 65. She will have two triple-expansion, four-cylinder engines and twenty-one boilers, developing 40,000 horse power and giving her a speed of 22 knots.

GOV. PARDEE'S DECLARATION.

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Late this afternoon Gov. Pardee declared he does not intend to give consideration to any appointments until after all the executive business now before him is disposed of to his satisfaction. After the bills bequeathed to him by the Legislature have been considered and either signed or "pocketed" he will turn his attention to the office-seekers and will deal out a few bunches of the loaves and fishes for which the clans have been so long waiting.

JAPAN HAS NEW ISLAND.

LONDON, March 22.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends to his paper the story of the volcanic throwing up in the last days of December of a new island in the Sea of Japan, three miles south of Iwo. The island has been named Nushima. It is nearly two and three-quarter miles in circumference and forty-eight feet above sea level.

Interborough Strikers Want to Return.

NEW YORK, March 21.—August Belmont has consented to meet a committee from the Central Federation Union, whose members want to make an appeal to him in the interests of striking employés of the Interborough company. The men do not want to demand anything, but simply wish to appeal to Belmont to take back the old men. They do not want new men who know how to run trains discharged. In their request for the meeting they admit they made a mistake in going on strike.

Brooklyn Sugar Refinery Closes.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Over 3000 men have been thrown out of employment as the result of the shutting down of the Havemeyer sugar refinery in Brooklyn. No official explanation is given of the shut-down, but it is said that decreased consumption of sugar, growing out of the advance of price, is the cause.

Cap Makers Return to Work.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Several hundred cap makers who went on strike three months ago against the "open shop" in all the factories of the New York Cap Manufacturers' Association, have returned to work, having settled with their employers and gained recognition of the union.

WE OFFER $1000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.

And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world for you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like all excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

Liquozone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

ONE DEAD BY RANCH DUEL.

Sterling Roberts is Slain Near Banning.

J. W. Pate, an Alleged Tramp Now in Custody.

Fatal Fight With Six Shooter and Winchester.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BANNING, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. W. Pate killed Sterling Roberts last night, twelve miles south of here, at the Poppett ranch, which is located in the San Jacinto Mountains.

The dead man is lying where he fell with his Winchester underneath the body, awaiting the Coroner from Riverside, who came out on a work train this afternoon. As soon as he arrived here, Coroner Dickson made up a jury and left for the scene of the shooting.

The slaying was the result of a drunken row. According to reports, both men had been drinking. When they quarreled they went out of the house with their guns to settle the trouble. It happened between 10 and 11 o'clock. Pate and a man named Johnson were the only witnesses and they refuse to make a statement till after the inquest.

Pate fired five or six times from a six-shooter. It is supposed that Roberts fired twice. Two empty cartridges were found in his rifle.

Whether Roberts fired with his Winchester before being wounded has not yet developed.

A neighboring ranchman brought the news to Banning this morning. Constable Carpenter went out and brought Pate here. Pate is 50. He is believed to be a tramp. Not much is known of him here, but he is believed to have come from Bakersfield.

Sterling Roberts was 36 years old. His father, Berry Roberts, owns a ranch in Tucaipe Valley and is an old and respected resident of San Bernardino county.

Roberts's family are much wrought up over the affair, which they declare a cold-blooded murder.

POLICE SHOOT AT RUNAWAY.

THEY TRY TO STOP A HORSE IN SAN DIEGO.

Manage to Put Bullet in Animal's Leg but It Rushes on to Stable, With Woman Desperately Clinging to Loose Bridle—Driver Escapes Injury.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two shots fired by policemen this afternoon in the business section of the city failed to check the mad rush of a runaway horse, behind which was riding a young woman who clung desperately to the reins leading to a bridle that had been detached from the animal's head. The rig had been loaned by Charles Kelly, a liveryman, to Mrs. Percy S. Woods and Mrs. Grace Sturgis to deliver contributions to poor children. He considered the horse the safest in his stable. At Twelfth and H streets the woman stopped to water the horse, and Mrs. Sturgis unloosened the bridle, allowing it to hang on the animal's neck. The horse took frigot at a passing car and ran away, with Mrs. Woods in the carriage. After four corners had been rounded, the outfit dashed by Fifth and G streets, opposite the Police Station.

Patrolmen McCarthy and Pringle, the latter mounted, fired the shots. The bullet from the latter's gun lodged in the horse's foreleg, but did not strike the bone. The horse kept on running, and, after rounding several more corners, safely dropped from exhaustion in its home stable. Mrs. Wood was not injured.

EARL BODINE'S "CRIME."

FORT FAIRFIELD (Me.) March 21.—The criminal records of Aristook county show no crime in this vicinity such as that of which Earl Bodine, a recent religious convert at Oakland, Cal., has confessed guilt. SHERIDAN (Wyo.) March 21.—Reading of depositions in the Cody divorce case was continued before Judge Richard Scott in the District Court here today. Numerous objections raised by counsel are delaying proceedings. Final arguments will be reached Thursday or Friday, but a decision is not expected until some time next week.

RAILROAD TRACKS WASHED OUT AND TRAINS IMPEDED.

Second Greatest Flood in History of Mighty Stream Makes Yumaites Wonder—The Rains Having Ceased No Further Rise is Anticipated. May Transfer Passengers by Ferry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YUMA, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Yuma has just passed through the second greatest flood of its history. Where all the water came from the oldest Yumaite wonders. The Colorado River at Yuma is two miles wide, 30 feet 6 inches deep and traveling in headlong mighty torrents toward the Gulf at the rate of twelve miles an hour.

The citizens of Yuma are indeed fortunate that the various levees about the city were equal to the strain, and that no damage was done, for had conditions been the same as in 1891 Yuma would have been washed off the map.

The waters of the river are lower, and the rains having ceased, no further high water is expected this season.

Three miles from Yuma and this side of El Rio, on the California side, occurred a washout and a considerable portion of the Colorado River is now running where formerly there was upward of 1000 feet of track. As the waters must recede considerably before the track can be relaid, there is little probability of any trains from the west for several days.

Two washouts have occurred between Yuma and Araz. Araz is five miles this side of Yuma, and the two big fills between the two points had been washed out. Train No. 10 is being held at Araz. The streams that carried away the fills are rivers. There is one stream, 125 feet wide and 22 feet deep, and the other stream is 150 feet wide and 18 feet deep. It will have to be piled, and the railroad men down there think the work cannot be done within two or three days.

If the passengers are tramferred they will have to be ferried across, and the boats in the Yuma River will have to be taken into requisition.

HAGGARD'S NARROW ESCAPE.

On train No. 9, which, as near as can be calculated, was due to pass the section, 1000 feet of which has been washed away, was Rider Haggard, the novelist, with his daughter and two secretaries.

Mr. Haggard was seen this evening, and though evidently a little annoyed at the circumstance which may mean his enforced stay in Yuma some days, was in good spirits.

"From what I am informed," he said, "we seem to have had a very narrow escape. If our train had gone upon the weakened roadbed there is no doubt we should all have gone over and it is easy to imagine just how we should have come out of it. Personally, I am thankful we have nothing more to complain of than being compelled to stay a day or two in Yuma."

This afternoon Mr. Haggard made good use of the time on his hands by driving with Mr. Clausen of the United States Geological Survey for several miles around the town. He expressed real pleasure at the work of the people and prophesied a great future for Yuma. Mr. Haggard will go from here to Los Angeles as soon as circumstances will permit, thence to San Francisco.

OCEAN PARK.
HAS MANY THINGS IN EMBRYO.

A common salutation now is, are you going to spend your winter at Ocean Park?

Those who have spent former winters at this beautiful town by the sea, positively say that the temperature is more equable, the evenings are nice and warm; one can, any evening after dinner promenade on the board walk and be very comfortable; now isn't that quite an inducement? While most of people are sitting in their Los Angeles homes trying to keep warm, those of Ocean Park are walking to and fro, enjoying the sea breeze. The town will soon be well lighted with numerous edectric lights; a pleasure park of 70 acres, taking in clubhouse, grounds, racing course, baseball grounds, etc., is being made for the enjoyment of the public. This park will be set thickly with palms and all kinds of beautiful shrubbery and numerous driveways.

There is nothing that the public-spirited citizens of Ocean Park will forget, when it comes to making their town one of the most, if not the most atractive seaside resort. There are yet many good things in embryo. The attraction at the Clubhouse is whist every Wednesday night; ladies' card party Wednesday afternoon, at which time refreshments are served; Saturday nights dancing, only members of the club and their friends by invitation attend these gatherings.

FOR SALE—BARGAINS IN OCEAN PARK property of all kinds; we can make you some money. We are thoroughly posted on values and know a good thing when it is listed with us. Exchanges a specialty. E. Pierce has let to B. H. Parsons the contract for the erection of a fifty-six-room four-story frame apartment and rooming-house, at No. 444 South Hope street. It will cost about $17,500.

Espinosa Dismissed.

Solomon Espinosa was before Judge Wellborn yesterday charged with selling whisky to Indians on the San Jacinto reservation, but the evidence was so insufficient that the case was dismissed.

Arbor Day.

The date has been fixed. It will be March 31. A meeting to forward the arrangements will be held at the Chamber of Commerce on the 28th inst. at 11:30 a.m.

Work of Sneak Thief.

Joseph Grann reported to the detectives yesterday morning that a sneak-thief had entered his room Monday night, during his absence, and secured $15, a gold ring and a fountain pen.

New Zebra.

There is on exhibition at Chutes Park a prettily-marked zebra. The animal was purchased from an uncle of the animal trainer, Michael Bolaski, and was brought from Nubia, Africa. The zebra is about three years old and is one of the finest of its kind in captivity.

Veteran Odd Fellows.

The Veteran Odd Fellows' Association will celebrate its twenty-first anniversary on Friday evening, March 31, in Odd Fellows' Hall. There will be a programme of songs, recitations and speeches, followed by a banquet given by Edelweiss Rebekah Lodge.

Visitors Leave.

Mrs. James F. Fargo of New York, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. King of St. James Park, left a few days ago with two daughters, the Misses Grace and Clara, for Santa Barbara, where they will remain a few weeks before passing on to Monterey for a week or so. Thence they will go to their home in New York.

Indian Murderer.

Pauline Resbaloso was yesterday arraigned before United States Commissioner Van Dyke, on a charge of having murdered Martin Juaro on the San Jacinto Indian reservation about a week ago. His examination was set for next Saturday. The prisoner was brought down from Riverside on Monday evening by Deputy United States Marshal Traeger, without incident.

Washout on Desert.

The Southern Pacific line to El Paso, which weathered the storm that tied up the Santa Fé line at Cajon Pass and all routes to San Francisco, was put out of business yesterday by a washout west of Yuma. Eastbound trains that left Los Angeles Monday were tied up at Indio, while all westbound trains were held at Yuma. No trains were sent East over the Southern Pacific yesterday, but local officials hope for a resumption of traffic today.

Witnesses Missing.

But one witness appeared before the Civil Service Commission yesterday to testify in the case of A. B. Conrad, Deputy City Assessor, accused by Oscar Nunnally of "pernicious activity in partisan politics." This case has now been dragging before the commission for several weeks and the commissioners are growing restive at the delay. The hearing was continued for one week and orders were given that all witnesses shall be subpoenaed anew. If the prosecution does not make some showing next Tuesday the case will be dropped.

Board Wants to Know.

City Attorney Mathews has been requested by the Civil Service Commission to give an opinion as to whether the positions of assistant to the police surgeons at the Police Station are civil-service places. Two assistant police surgeons were recently appointed by the Council. The charter provides that police surgeons are exempt from civil-service examinations. Now the commissioners want to know whether the mantle of the police surgeon can be extended so as to cover his assistant as well.

James W. Heilman has purchased of Rudolph Maxard, through the C. J. Heyler Company, a lot of the Palm Place tract, 60x145 feet, on the east side of Lake street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, with a ten-room two-story frame dwelling, new and modern; consideration named, $12,000. This evening the programme will be on the subject of Christian Endeavor missions and will be led by Rev. A. G. Fessenden.

Assumed Name of Cross.

According to G. S. Barton of No. 536 Ruth avenue, Henry Cohen was the name of the man who committed suicide in the Somerset House Sunday by turning on the gas. The man had registered under the name of H. J. Cross and letters bearing this name were found in his effects. Yesterday Barton notified the Coroner that the man's real name was Cohen and that he was formerly an enlisted man in the Twenty-seventh United States Artillery, stationed at the Presidio in San Francisco. It is thought the man is a deserter.

Surprised the Sergeant.

Sergt. George H. Williams of the police department celebrated the forty-seventh anniversary of his birth yesterday, or his friends celebrated it for him, when fifty or more of them appeared at his home, No. 1305 Brooklyn avenue, and surprised him in a pleasant and substantial manner. There is no more popular member of the police force that Sergt. Williams, and in order to participate in last night's festivities many of the force, who are under him on the morning watch, lost their sleep. He was the recipient of a large number of presents. Music and games were the order of the evening.

Girl Thrown from a Car.

The twelve-year-old daughter of L. J. Selby was severely injured at First street and Broadway last evening by being thrown from a car, from which she was alighting. She was accompanied by her parents and several of their friends. All the other members of the party had left the car, and the girl was descending the steps, when the conductor gave the signal for the motorman to go ahead. The car was started suddenly, and the child was thrown to the street. She was taken into the office at No. 118 South Broadway, where Dr. Johnson was called and dressed her injuries, after which she was conveyed to her home.

GOLD SEEKERS HEAD TOWARD THE SOUTH.

Will Los Angeles Push Out New Rail Line and Win Trade of New Kingdom?—Striking Opportunity Seen by "The Times'" Pathfinder.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

V.

IVANPAH, March 20.—The gold fever is sweeping southward from Goldfield like a prairie fire.

The whole trend of the gold-seekers' movement is in the direction of Ivanpah and Los Angeles.

Crowded out from the big cities, the rushers are flooding into the vast vacant empire that lies between Goldfield and Los Angeles to the south.

Will Los Angeles go out and meet that movement with open arms—and pockets? Or does Los Angeles propose to allow San Francisco to pursue it all the way down the State from the Sierra snows to old forty-niner trail at Las Vegas and make it captive.

The importance of having a railroad out from Los Angles to meet that south-bound rush of civilization is almost beyond calculation.

Southern Nevada has just awakened from a sleep. Civilization and all that it stands for is jolted in by custom-made doses. Every jolt means the opening of a new trade opportunity.

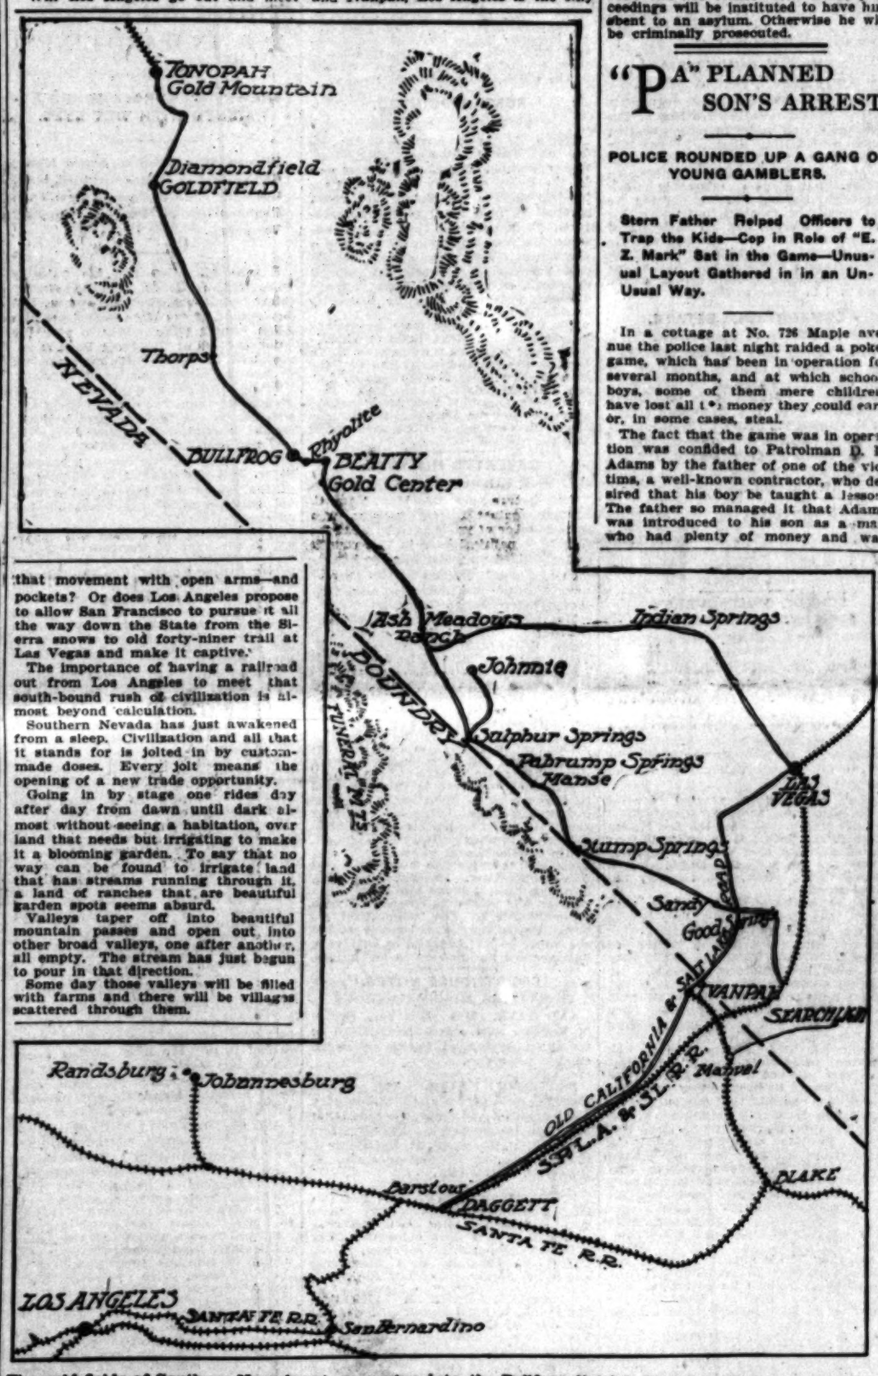
Going in by stage one rides day after day from dawn until dark almost without seeing a habitation, over land that needs but irrigating to make it a blooming garden. To say that no way can be found to irrigate land that has streams running through it, a land of ranches that are beautiful garden spots seems absurd.

Valleys taper off into beautiful mountain passes and open out into other broad valleys, one after another, all empty. The stream has just begun to pour in that direction.

Some day those valleys will be filled with farms and there will be villages scattered through them.

In Goldfield you would think that Denver lay just over the next divide.

So, disregarding the railroad already built, supposing there were a new deal to be made, Los Angeles would be as good a depot for Goldfield as any other city, maybe considerable better. Coming south, into Thorpe's Well, into Bullfrog, into the Funeral Range, into the Amargosa Valley, down into Manse and the Pahrump Valley, into Sandy and Ivanpah, Los Angeles is the only



The gold fields of Southern Nevada; st ge routes into the Bullfrog district from Las Vegas on the Salt Lake road and Ivanpah on the Santa Fe; the valleys through which it is proposed to tap the awakening State of Nevada for Los Angeles trade.

As it is the mountains are filled with ore that is not developed, with ore that is undiscovered and with ore that has been discovered, but has not been hauled out because the wagon freight rates are too much.

Gray old Nevada is on the way to be a new bustling empire; some one has to feed it and cloth it, and guide its toddling footsteps. Now it hasn't population enough to make a big city—only about 45,000, exclusive of the gold hunters. In a year it will have three times that. It must have help from the outside.

Is Los Anfeles, toward which the new population is eagerly hurrying, to be the foster mother, or will it be turned aside; left to Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco, to butt in as they have been doing, and reap the harvest?

As it is, whence comes the rush of people into the wonderful new Bullfrog district of which the natural straight outlet is the south? Not the South. The rush is from the north by way of Goldfield.

ALL TO THE SOUTH.

The reason it is not coming by way of Ivanpah is because the northern route, the San Francisco route, has a railroad down to within twenty miles of Goldfield. They hear of Goldfield in the East, but finding it a bustling town, rush on past to find new country, and the new country is all to the south.

Even as far north as Goldfield and Tonopah, Los Angeles is the most accessible city for the gold fields; that is by the planning of nature.

As a cold fact, you would hardly know in Goldfield that a place called Los Angeles is on the map. Denver, although a faraway point, and having no natural "call" to come in, is scooping them all on trade and influence.

city that has the slightest claim to the trade.

According to the present outlook, Los Angeles is quite likely to see some one else slide in there and brand that whole country for its own.

There is every present probability that the railroad will be continued down from Tonopah through Goldfield and into the Bullfrog country.

MISERABLE RAILROAD.

The northern railroad as it exists now is simply a fright. About half the way it is narrow gauge, poorly managed, dirty, totally unequal to the demands of traffic. People travel over it simply because there is no other way to get out. Every time the engineer gets tired or wants to smoke a cigarette, he stops in the middle of the desert and thinks it over.

It opens into a country that is a "dead one," that presents the greatest difficulties to traffic, while the route to the south, over which, alas, there is no railroad, opens into a country rich with mines, and connects, not the least important point, with the old forty-nine trail into Southern California.

The northern route lands one at Reno, Nev., facing the snowsheds and the pass up through the high Sierras, past Truckee and through the country made famous by "Tennessee's Partner" and the "Outcasts of Poker Flats," or to the east, to Ogden over the hot desert.

PROPOSED SOUTHERN OUTLETS.

The proposed outlets to the southern route are various, one at Las Vegas, one at Ivanpah, one at Soda Lake on the Clark road.

To build a railroad over the southern route would seem to be easier than it must have been to build the northern road, and about a stand-off with the MURDER IN THE AIR.

Arrival of Policemen Saves Woman from Serious Injury and Man from Suicide.

The prompt response of Patrolmen Brooks and Block to a hurry call sent in from No. 2453 Leonard street at 7 o'clock last evening prevented a possible murder and suicide, and resulted in the arrest of Andrew Cragale, colored.

The negro appears to be insane, but whether from excessive drinking or other causes is not known. His home is at No. 2321 Porter street. Last evening he went to the home of J. W. Burton and accused him of conspiring to kill him. He said that he had come to kill Burton and then intended to kill himself. A female member of Burton's family tried to quiet him, but Cragale drew a razor and started after her, declaring he would cut her throat. He was induced to put up his weapon, and while a friend of Burton sent for the police, Burton tried to convince him that he had not made threats against him.

When the officers arrived they found Cragale wildly excited, flourishing his razor and showing that he proposed to kill several persons and then cut his own throat. He was quickly disarmed and handcuffed. Today if his condition is such as to indicate that he is insane and not crazed with drink, proceedings will be instituted to have him absent to an asylum. Otherwise he will be criminally prosecuted.

"PA" PLANNED SON'S ARREST.

POLICE ROUNDED UP A GANG OF YOUNG GAMBLERS.

Stern Father Helped Officers to Trap the Kids—Cop in Role of "E. Z. Mark" Sat in the Game—Unusual Layout Gathered in in an Unusual Way.

In a cottage at No. 726 Maple avenue the police last night raided a poker game, which has been in operation for several months, and at which schoolboys, some of them mere children, have lost all the money they could earn or, in some cases, steal.

The fact that the game was in operation was confided to Patrolman D. L. Adams by the father of one of the victims, a well-known contractor, who desired that his boy be taught a lesson. The father so managed it that Adams was introduced to his son as a man who had plenty of money and was willing to spend it. As was expected, the young man took Adams aside and invited him to enter the game. This was just what the father and the officer wanted, and with the young man Adams went to the place last night.

His guide had told the other young men who play there that he was going to bring Adams, and the plot was to fleece him out of a portion of the abundance of money he was supposed to possess. But Adams had arranged a surprise for the young gamblers. He told Capt. Auble about the plan, and as a result Patrolmen H. C. Ziegler, Ingram and Broadhead went to the house last night and waited until the game was in full operation.

At a given signal the officers started into the house. Instantly there was a panic among the players, and in their efforts to escape doors were smashed, windows broken, furniture overturned and the interior of the house almost wrecked. One of the players escaped into the front room and hid in a closet, but Adams, whose identity was still unknown to the others, dragged him out and declared if he was caught he proposed that all the players should be caught. The gamblers were rounded up, handcuffed and sent to the Police Station. They gave the names C. Chaney, R. Payne, P. A. Raldels, Bert Coldren and Arthur Bahse. Chaney was the dealer, and his bail was fixed at twice that of the others, which was $25 each. They were unable to give bond, and were placed in jail.

Had it been only a friendly little game the police probably would not have molested it, but their information is that scores of boys have been permitted to play there, and most of them have lost their money. The house is occupied by George Alexander, a hot waffle man, but he was not playing at the time of the raid.

SCHOOL BONDS TEN TO ONE.

Large Issues Popular With Los Angeles Voters.

Little Opposition Shown in Yesterday's Election.

District Attorney Says the Laws Were Obeyed.

By a vote of more than ten to one the electors of this city yesterday declared themselves in favor of the issuance of school bonds aggregating $780,000.

The vote was light, owing doubtless to the fact that there was no organized opposition to the issue. In one precinct, No. 32, but four votes were cast, three of them by the officials.

The common school bonds were the more popular, there being 2576 votes for and only 192 against them. The High School was not far behind, however, with a vote of 2467 to 297.

The vote by precincts was as follows:

AS TO LEGALITY.

The feature of the election was its simplicity.

There was no red tape about it. All of the usual elaborate methods were dispensed with. It was not even necessary to go home to vote. In "any old place" where you could find an election board there you could cast your ballot, all that was required of you being a statement that you were a genuine elector and had been in the city thirty days preceding the election.

There were no booths and apparently no attempt was made to preserve the secrecy of the ballot. There were but three election officers, two judges and an inspector.

The common school bond ballots were printed on white paper about four inches square and contained simply "Bonds—Yes," or "Bonds—no." The High School ballots were printed on pink paper, and bore the words "High School bonds"—"yes" or "no."

This is the first school district election ever held here, and so many and so great are the deviations from the methods in vogue at a general election that there are many who contend that the election is illegal, and that the bonds will not be worth the paper that they are written on.

The officials in charge of the election were repeatedly called up during the day by doubting Thomases and questioned as to the validity of the election.

In answer to a question by a Times reporter along this line, W. P. James, assistant district attorney, said last night:

"This office in conjunction with the City Attorney's office has given close attention to all of the details of this election, and I think there is no ground for alarm as to the validity of the bonds. The method is entirely different from that which is used at a general election, or a city election, which is held under the charter of the municipality. Section 1599 of the Political Code reads: 'The voting must be by ballot, without reference to the general election law in regard to nominations, form of ballot or manner of voting.'

"No booths are required, three is the number of officers specified, and all of the other seeming irregularities are provided for in the statute covering elections in school districts."

HOW DIVIDED.

Of the whole issue, $280,000 is for High School purposes, $480,000 is for building and repairing new grammar schools, and $40,000 is intended for the building of a detention home or parental school.

The bonds bear interest at 4 per cent.

"This issue seems like a large amount, but in comparison it is not so very great," said Deputy Superintendent of Schools Moniux last night. "You would doubtless be surprised to know that we spend more money than that every year.

"The salaries of our teachers alone are $650,000," said he.

Next Tuesday the Board of Education will meet to make an official canvas of the returns. The results will then be sent to the Board of Supervisors for its approval. If no flaw is found in the proceedings, the board will advertise the bonds, and they will be sold to the highest bidder.

Inasmuch as the bonds bear 4 per cent. interest, it is thought there will be no difficulty in finding purchasers for them.

In being taxed on this issue, people living outside of the corporate limits, but within the Los Angeles city school district, will for the first time contribute their share toward the maintenance of the city schools, the privileges of which they have been permitted to enjoy.

SCHOOL BOARD TO SPEND MONEY.

There are about four square miles of territory outside of the city limits in the district. In order that this section might be represented it was decided to hold the election as a school district.

There is also a well-grounded belief that the Board of Education wanted to disburse the money itself, and not have the City Council dabbling with it, as it has in past issues. The money obtained from the sale of these bonds will not go into the city treasury, but will be deposited to the credit of the Los Angeles Board of Education in the County Treasurer's office.

Whatever the motive, it seems to have been a wise step from a financial standpoint, as the expenses of holding the election by this method are estimated at $2000 less than they would have been had the election been held by the city authorities.

Members of the board figured last night that the cost of conducting the election would be something less than $1000. Three thousand dollars is considered a moderate estimate of the cost had the municipality held the election, as heretofore.

YOUNG WORKERS.

A large number of boys of the Polytechnic High School worked diligently all day for the success of the measure. To their efforts the handsome majority is largely due. The boys were in every precinct in the city. At the City Hall a number of lads were stationed and every man who entered the building was urged to vote for the high-school bonds.

The youngsters found many whom they could not convince that it was possible to vote in another precinct from that in which they resided. They succeeded, however, in getting out the largest precinct vote in the city.

SURGEON STUNNED BY MULE'S KICK.

ACCIDENT TO DR. MACGOWAN ON BRIGHT ANGEL TRAIL.

Hand Broken and Leg Lacerated and Left Lying Unconscious on the Side of the Grand Canyon—And the Spinster Mule's Name It Was Sally.

A spinster mule named Sally—not Maud—has sent Dr. Granville MacGowan home from his Grand Cañon vacation, swathed in bandages.

Dr. MacGowan knows all about mules; but he didn't suppose a mule could be animated by such unfriendly thoughts on so soulful a bit of country as the Bright Angel trail. The Bright Angel trail is the nearest to heaven Sally will ever get; she's a bad actor.

Dr. and Mrs. MacGowan left the Grand Cañon Hotel to go down to the famous plateau with a party and a guide. Where the trail narrows down to a place no wider than a door, he espied a fascinating bit of lichen of rare design; he has an army friend with a fondness for rare lichen.

He dismounted and got the lichen, allowing the others to pass him on the trail. Sally's morals are bad, but her ideas of system and order are great. She had never gone down that trail out of her order in the procession and she objected strenuously when the others began to disappear round a corner of the trail.

She and the doctor argued the matter, the doctor holding the rope and standing on the brink of eternity about two feet behind Sally's hind parts.

Being schooled in the frontier, he knew that if he let her go, she might rush on down the trail to regain her place and stampede the whole party on a narrow trail which circled round the rim of a precipice.

He just stood there, calmly waiting for Sally to begin; she began. A sudden streak of light skinned through the atmosphere; Sally was beginning to kick; the first kick broke the doctor's right hand; he could feel it crack. He transferred the rope to the other hand and held on.

That mule's hind heels began fanning the air as though they were fast to a new model turbine engine. Every kick landed somewhere, leaving the sensation of being hit by an express train.

Sally planted the last kick on the doctor's knee cap; and one of the most dignified of Los Angeles physicians was left in a limp heap against a boulder six feet away—dead to the world—unconscious.

When he came to, a moment later, Sally was hee-hawing on a sprint down the trail.

The rear man on the trail hugged his mule against the rock wall in a fright and let Sally go galloping past. The next man was a plainsman; he quickly turned his mule squarely across the trail and headed Sally off.

Presently the doctor came ambling down the trail after her. Had they looked closely they might have seen that he held his right hand and as he stepped on his right leg, the color flew out of his face in a flash of pain. But they didn't know.

Dr. MacGowan got on Sally again and said nothing about the accident; his wife and others did not know. Only he had intended going on through to the river when he started out; he decided that the plateau where the others were going would be far enough.

"Cussed mule broke away from me back there up the trail," was all he said about it.

"If it had only been something a little more romantic," wailed Mrs. MacGowan yesterday at their home on Garland avenue, where the doctor's wound was being dressed—"but to be kicked by a—mule."

JAPS SAT ON HIM.

Tried to Pass Bogus Bill, Thrown to Floor and Held Until Officer Arrived.

Two well-dressed young men entered a Japanese store on Alameda street, near First, last night, and after selecting several articles aggregating in price $1.50, tendered in payment what appeared to be a $10 bill.

The Japanese saw at once that the bill was not genuine, and having been warned to look out for two men who have been passing raised bills in various parts of the city, he did not intimate to his customers that he was suspicious.

Going to a rear room as if to get the change, he told several of his fellow-countrymen about it and suggested that they hold the men and send for the police. Three athletic little men responded, and as they closed upon the man who had tendered the bill, his companion, realizing what was about to be done, dashed out of the store and made his escape.

The prisoner struggled violently, but he was soon on his back on the floor, and three Japanese held him while a fourth went for an officer. Patrolman Ditzen responded, took the man in custody and sent him to the Police Station.

The bill was Confederate money, but certain portions of it had been erased and pieces of other bills pasted on it, so that at a glance it looked like a genuine greenback. The prisoner claimed to be a traveling salesman. On his person were found several other similar bills. The detectives have an excellent description of his companion, and hope to capture him, also.

WANT TO PLAY TOO.

The Los Angeles High School Athletic team has asked to be reinstated in the Interscholastic Athletic Association, from which it was dropped a few weeks ago without, it states, having been notified.

This team has shown what it can do since the Pomona meet a few days ago, as has the Santa Paula High School, which also participated. It is not known what course the various teams of the league will take with regard to reinstating Los Angeles, though the Ventura High School boys say they will raise no objection.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Cards, chairs, tables and seats are banished from saloons by resolutions passed yesterday by the Police Board.

Sealed bids have been called for by the Police Commission for the saloon license which it now has on sale.

The New River School District occupied the attention of the Supervisors yesterday, and there was a big lining up of parties interested.

Hervey Lindley, at one time prominent in this city, was yesterday divorced by his wife, after she had combated his divorce proceeding in Oregon.

The typewriter thieves were arraigned yesterday.

Drastic Rules Adopted by Police Board—First License Sale Listed for Next Tuesday—Commissioners Not Favorably Impressed by Gothenberg "System."

The Gothenberg plan of syndicating saloons does not appeal favorably to the Police Commission.

For an hour yesterday morning the commissioners listened in executive session to an explanation of the plan of the association which has been contemplating financing the proposition here. Later they presented at the regular session a new code of rules for the regulating of the liquor traffic, which, in their opinion, embody the salient features of the Gothenberg system.

It is the evident purpose of the commissioners to give the present holders of saloon licenses an opportunity to raise the morale of their establishments. If this plan does not prove a success, then the commission may give a more serious consideration to the Gothenberg project.

Here are the proposed reforms as initiated yesterday by means of resolutions passed by the commission:

Sale of the saloon license now in the hands of the commission to the highest bidder, sealed proposals to be opened next Tuesday morning.

No liquor to be sold to women or girls in saloons, and none in restaurants except with a bona fide meal.

Banishing all card games and other games of chance or science from premises on which saloons are conducted, except billiards and pool when licensed by the city.

No tables or chairs or seats of any kind to be permitted in saloons.

This is only the first installment—a partial report of the Committee on Rules. Other and even more drastic regulations are now under consideration by the committee.

RESTAURANT LICENSES.

One rule on which the commission split yesterday provides for the total separation of saloon and restaurant business. The rule would revoke all restaurant liquor licenses where the restaurant is on the same premises as the saloon, or where there are connecting doors between.

The fact that the adoption of this rule would necessitate remodeling a number of first-class cafés was used as an argument to secure postponement of action for one week, but members of the commission said after the session, that the rule will certainly be adopted.

"We have no desire to drive any saloon man who is not violating rules and ordinances out of business," said one commissioner yesterday afternoon; "in fact, we are rather making it possible for them to retain their licenses.

"The people of the city are stirred up by the flagrant abuses of decency and order that occur nightly in saloons, and if we are to escape absolute prohibition, must see to it that the saloons are conducted in an orderly manner."

The new rules will go into effect April 1.

GOTHENBERG PLAN SHELVED.

At the executive session William Mead asked that action on the sale of saloon licenses to the highest bidder be postponed until the association which is now studying the Gothenberg plan makes further investigations. He said that if a license is once sold by the commission, the buyer will acquire a right to hold it so long as he violates no city ordinances or rules of the Police Board.

The commissioners listened, but were not convinced. They suggested that if the association desires to take a chance on inaugurating the Gothenberg plan here, it can buy back the licenses.

TERMS OF LICENSE SALE.

Here are the terms of the first license contest:

Any of the persons whose applications are now on file, or any other person whose application shall be on file and favorably reported on, at or prior to the meeting of this board on the 28th day of March, 1905, may, at any time prior to said meeting, make his written sealed offer to the secretary of said board, offering to donate to said city such sum of money as he may desire, which such written offer shall be accompanied with a certified check, payable to the Treasurer of said city, for the amount so offered. No open bidding nor any offer whatsoever other than those contained in said sealed offers, will be considered by the board at said meeting. Said offer or offers of donation having been made, the board reserves the right, in its discretion, to decline any or all of them, and disregarding such offers, to grant such permit to any person whom it may designate.

NEW SALOON RULES.

Immediately after the adoption of the resolution for the disposal of the licenses now held by the commission, Chairman Gates of the Committee on Rules presented the following report:

Your committee appointed upon revision of the rules and regulations of the Police Department and of the Police Commission, herewith submit in part its report as follows:

That the following rules be adopted:

That women and girls shall not be served with intoxicating liquors in any restaurant, except with a meal, defined by section 61 of Ordinance 2697, New Series, which ordinance reads as follows:

"For the purpose of this ordinance, a restaurant is defined to be a place fully equipped with modern conveniences for cooking and preparing victuals, and where hot meals are actually served at least three times a day, and at least six days in the week; and a bona fide meal is defined to be a meal consisting of such quantity and quality of food as is ordinarily served for a meal in hotels or restaurants. Merely sandwiches or lunches or crackers or cheese shall not be held or considered to be a bona fide meal within the provisions of this ordinance."

Proprietors or other persons having charge of saloons shall not permit games or gambling of any kind on their premises, except those games which have been legally licensed to be carried on therein.

Proprietors or other persons having charge of saloons shall not keep or provide tables or seats for the use of their patrons nor permit their use therein.

Proprietors or other persons having charge of saloons or restaurants shall conduct their places in a quiet and orderly manner and shall not sell or furnish liquor or drinks of any kind to any boisterous or intoxicated person.

That a violation of any of the foregoing shall subject the holder of the license to a forfeiture thereof. And these rules shall take effect on or after April 1, 1905.

SHADOW OF NEW RULE.

The shadow of a new rule regulating restaurant liquor licenses yesterday morning fell across the commission table during the consideration of an application for a license for the Burbank Café.

S. A. Lowenstein, proprietor of the Burbank bar, asked for the renewal of his restaurant liquor licenses.

"Is the restaurant connected in any way with your saloon?" queried Commissioner Johnson.

Lowenstein said that the restaurant is on the second floor of the building, and can be entered only through the bar-room.

"I am opposed to the grant of restaurant liquor licenses where the restaurant is part of a bar-room," replied Mr. Johnson. "I move that the application be denied." This motion carried by a unanimous vote.

There are eighteen restaurant liquor licenses now held by saloon men. In each instance the restaurant and saloon are either in the same room, or are connected by convenient entrances.

ONE MORE BREWERY.

The Schoenhofer Brewing Company of Chicago yesterday secured a local distributing point for its beer, the Police Commission granting the company's petition for a wholesale liquor license at No. 800 Keller street. A representative of the brewery told the commissioners that his company desires to secure a depot here for distributing its beer to local liquor dealers. He evidently had not been deterred by the anti-saloon crusade.

POLICE SIGNAL SYSTEM.

COMMITTEE URGES ACTION.

A committee representing local commercial and business organizations yesterday morning urged the Police Commission to make an investigation of the Foster police-signal system, with a view to having the same adopted by the city.

They represented that the last Police Commissoin recommended to the Council the adoption of the system as a valuable adjunct to the police department.

Commissioner Gates replied that the commission has made a partial investigation of the system, but that it has not yet completed its work. He said that there are a number of minor improvements which the commissioners would like to see embodied in the system; also that they would be better satisfied if the plan could be modified so as not to give a monopoly to one telephone company.

A committeeman replied that the objections which Mr. Gates made to the system had been urged eighteen months ago, that no remedies had been suggested, and that the city is still without a satisfactory signal system.

Mayor McAleer said that the commission will make further investigations and will make a report within the next two weeks.

GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

OPEN SEASON FOR GARBAGE.

The Council yesterday wiped off the slate and took a new start in its efforts to secure a suitable garbage crematory.

All bids and proposals for the collection and disposal of the city's waste were rejected, and the City Clerk was instructed to readvertise for thirty days under the original specifications.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

EL HUTCH'S FEE SCALED DOWN.

JURY AWARDS HIM THIRTY-FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Lawyer Wanted Six Thousand of Old Ballerino's Odoriferous Simoleons for Helping Him to Get Convicted—Attorney for People of the Slums Gives Figures on His Income.

After deliberating a few hours, a jury in Judge Trask's court yesterday evening decided that E. L. Hutchison's services as attorney for Bartolo Ballerino, the uncrowned king of the tenderloin, were worth just $3500. "El Hutch," with characteristic gall, had put in a bill for $6000, after his unsavory client had been convicted of the heinous offense of renting property for immoral purposes and was punished by both fine and imprisonment.

Had "Hutch" succeeded in extricating Ballerino from the meshes of the law, the old sinner would probably have considered the service worth all of the $6000 demanded, but viewed through prison bars, and from the standpoint of an already depleted bank account, the size of the attorney's bill appalled him. He refused to be bled for such an extortionate amount, and hired other lawyers to defend him against "El Hutch's" cupidity.

The new attorneys succeeded in getting "Hutch's" bill scaled down $2500, but if they charge for their services in proportion to what the jury has allowed "El Hutch," Ballerino's last fate will be worse than the first.

The suit which "El Hutch" brought to enforce his claim was on trial before Judge Trask and a jury for several days. Yesterday a number of attorneys were on the witness stand to testify in behalf of the reasonableness of plaintiff's demand. The manner in which they sized up the value of legal services in thousands was almost humorous. Any trivial item they were momentarily in doubt about, would be dismissed with a semi-contemptuous: "Oh, it would be worth about $100."

Incidentally, it came out that "El Hutch" contrived very adroitly to combine business with pleasure. In order to further his business interests he did not object to meeting Ballerino on a common social level, at the same time keeping his eye open for the main chance. It was testified that on one occasion Ballerino arranged a little picnic party. "El Hutch" was the honored guest, and in addition to the aged host there were "Piccolo John," a musician whose occupation was gone when the cribs were closed, and John Wyatt, the collector of rents in the crib district for Ballerino. This precious quartette drove out to the Cahuenga Pass roadhouse in Ballerino's red wagon, and there had a fine dinner. Then over the cigars stories were told, while "Piccolo John" banged the piano. Legal affairs as they affected Ballerino's interests were discussed informally, and charges for consultation were duly entered up against Ballerino when the attorney returned to the city.

Hutchison testified that his ordinary fee for defending crib women and the "mace" against vagrancy charges was $150. During about two years his income, he said, was about $4500, but inasmuch as he had stated that he had defended about 200 women and fifty "macs," counsel for the other side did a little figuring and discovered that he ought to have realized about $37,500. "Hutch" failed to explain what became of the other $33,000.

The case was submitted shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday evening. The jury was then taken out for dinner and at 7:40 p.m. returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $3500.

HIT A BIG SNAG.

ALTADENA MUST GO SLOW.

It looked for awhile yesterday as if the people of Altadena who desired incorporation were to have things all their own way. The Giddings petition against having the territory in and about Mountain View Cemetery included within the boundaries of the new municipality was brushed aside.

The boundaries allowed by the Supervisors touched the city limits of Pasadena on the south and the only petition of protest allowed was one presented by residents of the west end, which is all acreage. The western boundary is to be Lincoln avenue.

While all this was favorable to incorporation, and it seemed as if nothing much remained to be done but set the time for the election, it developed quite unexpectedly that the original petition of the Altadena people was not up to the legal standard required. The population was all right and the census return was not impugned, but the required fifty qualified electors on the original petition were not there. It appeared that it was not understood that such requirement was essential; the fifty names represented residents, but not in all cases qualified electors. In order to have this omission rectified another adjournment of the hearing was necessary and the matter went over until Monday next.

MERKEL'S QUICK TRIAL.

ARGUMENTS BEING MADE.

Early yesterday afternoon arguments in the Merkel murder case began. The testimony was taken in record-beating time, considering that a man's life hung in the balance. The defendant went upon the witness stand in his own defense, but made a miserably weak showing. He had little or nothing to say about the shooting, but told of his love for his wife, and his suffering at her leaving him and adopting the life that she did. And that was about all there was to the defense. This morning the arguments will close and the case will be given to the jury.

COMFORTABLE ESTATE.

LEFT BY S. BARMORE.

Mrs. Fannie Barmore yesterday filed her petition for probate of the will of her deceased husband, S. Barmore, who died on March 16 at the family residence at No. 2143 Thompson street, at the age of 72 years. The estate is valued at $85,000, and consists largely of real estate holdings both in and out of the city. The real estate is valued at $70,000, yielding an income of $6000. The cash on hand, $18,000, brings the value of the estate up to the total named. The will is dated July 27, 1904. In it the deceased makes no distribution of his property, stating that he wishes his wife and son to inherit just as if he had died intestate.

SCHOOL CONTROVERSY.

SUPERVISORS PASS IT UP.

The country between Downey and Norwalk was up in arms yesterday, and the fight over the splitting up of the New River school district brought many of the inhabitants before the Board of Supervisors. The meeting was to consider whether the board should rescind its action in taking a big slice of the New River district out of the Los Nietos Valley High School District.

The complication started several years ago, when the New River school district was tacked onto the Los Nietos High School District, by methods that raised a storm in a teapot even then. There has not been the happiness of a united family since, and recently the lid blew off.

The complaint of the New River people is that, geographically, they belong to the Excelsior Union High School District and are tributary rather to Norwalk than to Downey. While they can send their children to school to Artesia comfortably, though it is out of their district, it is a longer journey to send the little ones to the New River school, and in the rainy season a dangerous trip as well.

Listening with kindly ear to the constant complaints, the Board of Supervisors allowed a part of the New River district to break away from the Los Nietos end, but that has only made the storm of public opinion, in the country affected, rage all the more bitterly. Petitions were filed with the Supervisors asking them to rescind their action. The river divides the district and the part left is no bigger than a pocket handkerchief and has not enough school children to keep it going as a district. If things remain as they are, it will lapse as a school district.

Attorney Willis appeared before the board yesterday to contend that the board had exceeded its authority, and that a school district could not be snatched in such fashion from a high-school district.

George P. Adams, as attorney for the part of the New River district that has escaped, treated the matter lightly. His clients were glad they were out and wanted to stay out. He said that the petition of his clients had thirty signatures, while that of their opponents only had thirty-one. He did not think the general scheme of education on the other side of the river was very good, for he had noticed that the petition contained the names of fourteen bachelors, and if the education had been up to the mark, all these bachelors would be married and have children.

A number of witnesses testified and it appeared to the board that there was no reason for thinking that the previous action of the board had not been wisely taken, but inasmuch as some legal points of importance were involved, it was agreed that briefs should be filed and then the Supervisors will put the matter up to the District Attorney.

CONSTABLES CAN'T BUTT.

NEW LAW FOR THEM.

Through the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1153 constables can no longer consider themselves as free lances, and merely because they sport a star, hold people up in another township than their own.

Constables of other townships having only a country business looked on Los Angeles as a kind of Tom Tiddler's ground, and they watched for a chance to break in. In due time they succeeded and for some time past W. F. Pope, Constable of Ballona township, and W. F. Reid of South Pasadena have been making their living in this city by virtue of their authority as outside constables.

Pope had his headquarters in the office of the Dyer law and collection agency, and Reid held forth in the office of C. B. Williams, a bill collector. If one of Pope's deputies—one of the employés of the law office—should garnishee a man's wages, the person suffering, if he wanted to preserve his wages for his family, as he is entitled to do, would have to go into the wilds of Ballona to serve notice on Pope, for his presence in the office of the collection agency is only constructive—he is there when his deputy is there and one of the office employés is the deputy.

ROSE APPOINTED.

NEW CITY JUSTICE.

Harry H. Rose, assistant in the office of District Attorney Fredericks, was appointed City Justice yesterday by the Board of Supervisors, to fill the position in the additional city court created by recent act of the Legislature. It is expected that he will assume his new duties at once. For a short time he probably will sit in Justice Austin's court, while that official is absent on vacation. Later, an additional courtroom may be fitted up at the Police Station.

The five Supervisors were unanimous in selecting Mr. Rose, little consideration being given to the name of F. G. Hentig, the Socialistic candidate of the Howton-Fennessey-Norton gang, of the Sixth Ward.

A lively scramble now is on among aspirants for the clerkship in the new court, the position carrying a salary of $150 per month.

DESERTED HIS WIFE.

HERVEY LINDLEY IS DIVORCED.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Kate C. Lindley against Hervey Lindley, who for a number of years tried to wear the toga of a political boss in this county and had lined up under him the henchmen and ward heelers of the Republican "push," was carried to trial yesterday before Judge Conrey.

Mrs. Lindley is a handsome and gentle-voiced woman and appeared in court with her brother, ex-Justice M. T. Owens, and her sister, Mrs. Minnie E. Lombard. It appeared from the story of the plaintiff that her husband deserted her without assigning any cause, and ceased to correspond with her without giving her any inkling of his intention.

The parties married in Iowa in September, 1895, but it is eighteen years since they came to this county. For a short time they lived in this city and then removed to Whittier, where the family home has been located ever since. In 1897 Lindley established himself in the lumber business at Klamath, in the northern part of the State, but continued to return to his home and wife at Whittier. In February, 1902, however, he left home and from that time on has ceased to correspond with or contribute to the support of his wife. For a year Mrs. Lindley stated she wrote to her husband at intervals, but received no answers to her letters.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

THIEVING PAIR IN HARD LINES.

TYPEWRITER BURGLARS ARE ARRAIGNED WITH WET EYES.

Woman Who Tried to Shield Man Confessed She Was Unmarried, but She Still Tried to Save Companion. Examination of Peculiar Couple Tomorrow.

Eugene H. Allen and his putative wife, Ninon Goode, the typewriter thieves who burgarized the commercial department of the High School because Allen wanted more money to play the crooked game at the Ascot Park races, appeared in court yesterday morning to face the serious charge of burglary.

Prior to their arraignment a complete confession was made to Capt. Bradish by the thieving pair, and the woman tearfully acknowledged that she had not been legally wedded to Allen, though she lived with him and bore his name. The woman tried to shoulder all of the blame and the cowardly man not only permitted her to do so, but encouraged her.

Sympathy for the woman was apparent in the eyes of the court attachés and spectators when the pair stood before Justice Austin. Continued weeping and worry over her disgrace and the downfall of the man she loved, caused the woman to almost collapse in the courtroom, but she steadied herself by an effort and half smiled when she saw the man she had claimed as her husband.

Neither knew what to say when the court asked them when they would be ready for trial.

"Have you arranged for an attorney to defend you?" asked Justice Austin.

"No, we have not," faltered the couple in unison.

Asked when they would be ready for trial, the couple could not say positively and the Justice set Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock as the date for a preliminary examination.

To the police detectives Miss Goode told how she and Allen had committed the burglary. She said she had entered the room through a broken window and had alone stolen the four typewriters, but when the officers told her it was worse than useless to try to shield her companion, she reluctantly admitted that Allen had assisted her.

The woman is said to have relatives in the East and she has appealed to them for aid.

ANOTHER CRIME.

CONFESSED BY ALLENS.

The burglary of the commercial department of the Los Angeles High School is not the most serious crime which has been traced to Allen and the young woman, who, when they were arrested Monday night, claimed to be and was recognized as his wife. Today a complaint will be issued against them on a charge of highway robbery. In their greed for money with which to play the races, this couple committed a hold-up, and they confessed their guilt yesterday.

The credit for the discovery belongs to Mrs. Gilbert, the police matron. Several weeks ago, when they were particularly hard pressed for cash with which to continue their gambling at the race track, Allen suggested that it would be easy to rob any woman on the street by snatching her purse. His mistress objected, but he finally induced her to accompany him. They selected Saturday night, when many women go home with their week's salary in their purses. Stationing themselves near the corner of Court and Olive streets they awaited a victim.

Mrs. Lacey, who is in charge of the hair-dressing department at a big store, happened along, accompanied by her daughter. In her purse was $8. When Mrs. Lacey was approached by a young couple she was not suspicious, but just as she passed they seized her, snatched her purse, and ran with it.

Amazing Discovery by Pacific League's Officials.

Newton and Chase Drafted Much Too Soon.

Bad Spill at New Orleans. Race Cards.

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Globe's baseball expert says that the officials of the Pacific Coast League have at this late date made the most amazing discovery that players who were drafted from that league last fall were selected much too soon, and therefore are now claiming that Newton and Chase were drafted by the New York American League Club. Newton managed the efforts to hold him on the Coast, and joined the High-

The correspondence between President Johnson of the American League and Chairman Herrick of the National Commission in regard to the Chase case reached New York yesterday, and according to Owner Farrell, the New York Club is made the special target for the Coast league.

No protest is made against the draft by other clubs. The St. Louis Americans secured Pitcher Buchanan of Portland, Infielder Rockenfield of Portland, and Outfielder Frisk of Seattle, Portland got Pitcher Overall of Tacoma and Catcher Blankenship of Seattle, but no objection was made to these transactions, which occurred at the same time as the New York draft of Newton and Chase.

President Johnson outlined the case to Herrman, who immediately wired President Bert of the Pacific Coast League that Chase must be given up at once. Morley, it is understood, will offer protest. Ban Johnson says that the promise made that players would not be drafted until November 1 applied only for 1904. If any further agreement was made, Hart and Chase must have engineered it. Johnson

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The presence in the South of Howard Griffith of Jersey City, chairman of the National Board of Minor Leagues, together with "Tip" O'Neil, who accompanied Griffith to California and finally persuaded the league to agree to join in the revolt of Class A clubs against Ban Johnson and the American League, in case it was decided to go to that extreme, has aroused great interest among the big league ball players who are now training in this part of the country. Already efforts are being made to reorganize the defunct Players' Protective Association, with the avowed intention of taking advantage of any favorable opportunity that may arise in case war is declared by Class A organizations, as it is known that there are many players in a very fractious and disgruntled state of mind over the general cut in salaries both in the American and National League clubs who would welcome a chance to get even.

With peace existing, there was little use in making any kick, but with possible war in sight, connected action by the players, which could be taken with players organized into united action, their demands might be listened to. The players keep posted on all baseball politics that is going on, and there are many intelligent ones among them who look far enough ahead to realize that another war would be placing things right in their hands.

The Pacific Coast League, as far distant and as obscure as its clubs are, as an outlaw organization, has in the past caused the big leagues a world of trouble, and the players appreciate that if two far western leagues were able to cause so much trouble, organizations of as much strength and importance as the Eastern, Western and Pacific Coast Leagues, together with the American Association, would, if they revolted, cause a conflict that would shake organized baseball to its foundations.

NEW MOTOR BOAT.

LEWIS R. SPEARE'S CRAFT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The new motor boat which Lewis R. Speare of the Bay State Automobile Association has just ordered will be 40 feet over all, 4 feet 3 inches beam and equipped with a twelve-cylinder motor of 150 horse power, which is expected to develop a speed of thirty miles per hour. The hull will weigh only 4000 pounds. It will be built of one-fourth of an inch mahogany, and when completed will be shipped to Cleveland, where the engine will be installed and afterward it will be tried on Lake Erie.

The engine will consist of three 50-horse power motors, each cast independently of the other, though coupled on one shaft.

NEAR THE END COMES JOLTING.

OWNER OF A QUEER-RUNNING HORSE BARRED.

Briarthorpe's Easy Winning at Ascot After Being Left at Post Too Much for Judge—"Wise Brigade" Said to Have Played Suspicious Fast One Heavily.

T. Crysler, owner of the horse Briarthorpe, got his yesterday at Ascot. Judge Hamilton made an order which will bar the entries of the horse for the remainder of the meeting, on the ground of the "inconsistent running" of the animal. The end of the meet is so near that this jolt doesn't amount to much.

On March 2 he ran fifth in a six-horse race. Three days later he ran third, after leading in the stretch. March 15 he ran fourth and on Monday he was left at the post with the dub jockey Passey on him. This incompetent was doubtless put on the horse in order to get a long price ready for him. Yesterday the horse was in the fifth race, and it was stated that his opening price of 8 to 1 was cut to 5 to 1, although the form chart gives the opening price at 4 to 1. It was rumored that he was strongly played by the "wise brigade," and he justified the confidence of those who knew, for after running second to the favorite, Tryon, all the way, Briarthorpe shot past the leader and won easily, running the mile and a furlong in 1:53⅘, or a second slower than the track record. Judge Hamilton apparently did not like the looks of this race as compared with others the horse had run, and decided to refuse the entry hereafter.

It was a wonderful day for "bargains" for those who happened to get up to the right counters, for only two favorites won, and they were at 1 to 3 and 2 to 5—prices that none but the rich and indolent can stand for, and then only when they have plenty of rent money coming in that they can have burnt up if the worst comes. These sure winners were Americano, who took the third race by six lengths at 2 to 5, and Cerra Santa, who raked in the last by four lengths at the same price.

The long ones were Prince Palatine in the first race at 10 to 1, Neatness in the second at 8 to 1, and Briarthorpe at 6 to 1 in the fifth. The other race was won by Foncasta at 3 to 1, after backing up from her opening price of 7 to 5.

The crowd was large.

SAN FRANCISCO RACES.

YOLO GIRL'S GREAT RUN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Iron Watson, the favorite, won the first race by a head from Yolo Girl, a 100-to-1 shot. Sun Rose was the cause of a big upset in the second. He closed at 25, but at one time was as good as 100 to 1. The handicap proved disastrous for the backers of Letola. At the post, the daughter of Star stumbled in a hole and fell, throwing her jockey, but he escaped without injury. With Letola out of the way, Misty's Pride took the lead and made every post a winning one, winning easily. The weather was clear and track good. Summary:

Four and a half furlongs: Iron Watson, 112 (Jones,) even, won; Yolo Girl, 104 (Wright,) 100 to 1; second; Avonelia, 104 (Chandler,) 3 to 1, third; time 0:54⅘. Bakersfield, Legal Form, Carrick, Yearning, Alma Boy, Petaluma, Novi and Supervision also ran.

Five furlongs: Sun Rose, 100 (Graham,) 25 to 1, won; Gloomy Gus, 107 (Jones,) 11 to 10, second; Velna, 100 (Wright,) 5 to 1, third; time 1:02⅘. Angelica, Duplex, Marie J., Colleen Dhas, Lena Leford, Rice Chief, A Lady and Glenfinan also ran; Edna Sullivan pulled up.

Six furlongs: Tam O'Shanter, 130 (Tullett,) 2 to 1, won; Toto Gratiot, 133 (Bell,) 20 to 1, second; Edinborough, 133 (Jones,) 5 to 2, third; time 1:17⅘. Brennus, Olympian, Alta G., Foxy Grandpa and Count Hubert also ran.

Handicap, Futurity course, purse $500: Misty's Pride, 109 (Jones,) 17 to 10, won; Andrew B. Cook, 112 (Otis,) 5 to 2, second; Cigarlighter, 102 (Wilson,) 6 to 1, third; time 1:11⅘. Salable and Sincerity Belle also ran. Letola fell.

One mile: War Times, 100 (Fountain,) 8 to 5, won; Profitable, 111 (Travers,) 7 to 2, second; Lady Fashion, 91 (Wiley,) 9 to 1, third; time 1:44. Lady Kent, Isabellita and Pousse Café also ran.

One mile and fifty yards: Andrew Mack, 99 (Fountain,) 4 to 5, won; Soufriere, 92 (Wright,) 11 to 5, second; Ethel Abbott, 91 (Graham,) 13 to 1, third; time 1:45 1-4. Hugh McGowan and Scherzo also ran.

WATER BACKS; DAMS ARE OUT.

NEWPORT RANCHERS HAVE FUN WITH GUN CLUB.

In Trying to Escape Lakes of Fresh Water They Cut Through to the Ocean and High Tides Rush in, Flooding Them Worse Than Ever. An "Accident."

Gun clubs in the Newport district are again having their troubles, this time over dams.

According to report received yesterday the whole game preserve business has been voted a "dam nuisance" by the ranchers in the vicinity, and last Sunday night two large banks thrown up by the Pacific Gun Club against the ocean were cut through. The keeper found them so Monday morning after the entire country adjacent had been inundated.

Parties disinterested claim the ranchers thought they had a grievance in that the club dams backed up the great volume of fresh water brought down by the recent rains and soaked farm lands. The rains were extraordinary, but that fact was not taken into account, and men who have seen the grounds claim the irruption of the ocean consequent upon the removal of the dams has done tenfold more mischief than the fresh water ever could have worked had it been a yearly occurrence, instead of almost a freak of nature.

The tides have been very high of late and this fact was ignored apparently by those who tampered.

Ed Tufts, who is a member of the Pacific Gun Club, thinks the dams cut themselves. He said as much yesterday. Mr. Tufts declares the Pacific Gun Club has always enjoyed amicable relations with its neighbors and never had any trouble whatever over backing water up on the lands of others.

The fact that the accident occurred at a time when the keeper was away, and the thoroughness with which the mischief was done are thought to indicate that the dams were tickled quite extensively with a pickaxe and spade.

The Bolsa Chica Club has had the same troubles many times in its history, but the experience is a novel one in the Newport district. The members of the club in this city are very indignant over it, but the parties guilty are not known and no prosecutions are likely to follow.

NO BETTING FOR WOMEN.

OPEN WAGERS BY FEMALES STOP AFTER TODAY.

Action by Jockey Club Conforms to New Rules of Eastern Associations. Next Winter's Racing Season Will Run but Ninety Days, for Tourists Rush Home Quickly.

To conform to the recent action of a big eastern racing association, that has just adopted new rules for this season, there will be no more betting by women at Ascot Park unless it is done through the agency of some male friend who can be coaxed into the belief that the jockey with the brightest suit has a chance to win, or that a horse that won yesterday should do it today.

In order, however, to temper the wind to the shorn lamb, lambess or sheep, this rule will not go into effect until tomorrow, so the "sport ladies" will be allowed one day's grace to accustom themselves to the new order of things. Today will be their last day to bet openly at Ascot, for the pool boys or "commissioners" will be dismissed this evening.

This action was taken yesterday at a meeting of the Los Angeles Jockey Club, and while it is of considerable importance to the "lady sports," it was not the only thing decided upon at the meeting. A move of equal importance was the decision of the directors that next winter there would be but ninety days of racing, instead of 111 days, as is the programme this year.

This shortening of the winter racing season in this city was determined upon, simply because the winter tourist season does not extend much beyond March 1, and the eastern tourists are the basis of the racing on all winter tracks, many having already returned to the East, and particularly the principal ones that make racing possible here. Then again it is believed that the sport was started too early and has continued too long, and in all probability next winter the twenty-one days lopped off the 111 of this season will be taken from both ends of the next season, or in other words, next winter the sport will begin ten days later and close ten or eleven days earlier than the present meet.

In connection with the prospective meet next winter, it might be stated here that there will not be any open betting by the "lady sports," and furthermore, there will not be any "ladies' days" next winter. It is stated that there were several other matters decided upon at the directors' meeting, but the shorter meeting and the elimination of the woman from the betting feature, was about all that will interest the public at this time.

FIGHT CRAZY.

IS BAKERSFIELD.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, March 21.—This city is prize-fight crazy. No less than ten pugilists are training in Bakersfield. Among others are Charles "Dutch" Thurston, Kid Williams, Madera Ed Hamilton, "Bright Eyes," Ah Wing, the Chinese champion, and "Monkey" Burge, an ex-baseball player.

Mike McClure, recently arrived in this city with his manager, Ed Hayes and sparring partner, Jim Flynn of Denver. McClure is the San Diego welterweight, who will meet "Dutch" Thurston in a fifteen-round contest at Scribner's Operahouse Thursday evening.

The fights are under the auspices of the Kern County Athletic Association, of which T. W. Burke, formerly of San Francisco, is the promoter.

BUSINESS.

The volume of dealings in stocks at New York was largely curtailed, but the movement of prices was sluggish and uncertain. Industrials and specialties made up the largest part of the day's showing of strength. Wheat at Chicago was firm, with May at 1.15¼ and July at .92⅝@.92¾.

SCHOOL BONDS CARRIED.

At yesterday's school-bonds election the proposition to issue bonds for common-school purposes was carried by a vote of 2576 to 192. The High School bonds also carried by a vote of 2467 to 297. Thus the common-school bonds received a majority of more than thirteen to one, and the High School bonds received a majority of more than eight to one.

The Board of Education is to be congratulated upon the success of its plans for the increase of school facilities. That the money will be wisely expended is to be accepted as a foregone conclusion. The high character of the men comprising the non-partisan school board is a guaranty against jobbery or undue waste of the money to be raised, aggregating $780,000—more than three-quarters of a million.

One noticeable feature of the election is the light vote polled—but little more than 10 per cent of the total vote of the city. That a question of so great importance as the bonding of the city for more than three-quarters of a million dollars should be decided by about 10 per cent of the total number of voters is most regrettable. Even if an approximately full vote would not have changed the result—and it would not—the light vote indicates a degree of apathy on the part of citizens which ought not to exist. If there had been a reasonably full expression of opinion, everybody would have been better satisfied.

The remarkable success of the school bonds may have the effect of hatching other schemes for bond issues not so deserving of public support as were the school bonds. But such schemes, unless they are backed by some imperative necessity, should be discouraged, and if brought to vote should be voted down.

WELL DONE, TENNESSEE.

On March 20 the lower house of the Tennessee Legislature passed a bill which had previously passed the Senate, prohibiting betting on horse races in Tennessee. The bill is drastic in its provisions, making it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $25 in each case, to bet on a horse race anywhere within the limits of the State. The bill also repeals all laws which permit betting on licensed race tracks in Tennessee. The Governor has said he will sign it.

In the brief dispatch from Nashville, conveying the above information, no intimation is given as to the cause of the sudden spasm of reform which appears to be sweeping over the State of Tennessee, which State has heretofore been considered as rather "sporty." Perhaps it may be a wave of religious enthusiasm, or perhaps it may be an accession of good, sound common sense, sans enthusiasm, but coldly counting up profits and losses, finding the latter so far in excess of the former that no reasonable alternative is left but to put a stop to the demoralizing "sport." Whatever may have inspired the action taken by the Tennessee Legislature, it is obviously in the right direction, and it is much to be hoped that other States will take similar action to suppress the vice of race-track gambling, which is cumulative in its evil results and wholly degenerative in its tendencies.

In striking and unfavorable contrast to the action of the Tennessee Legislature on this subject was the action (or, rather, the non-action) of the California Legislature. With a bill before it, quite early in the session, similar to the measure enacted in Tennessee, the California Legislature dallied and delayed, hesitated and haggled, and finally refused, definitely, to pass the bill, although petitions bearing thousands of names of reputable citizens were sent to both houses asking that the bill be passed. It was thus demonstrated that race-track influences were more potent with the Legislature of this State than the wishes of reputable, law-abiding citizens.

Every day, some of the results of the Legislature's refusal to pass the Espey bill are seen in Los Angeles. Wrecked homes, ruined lives, suicides and robberies are daily appearing as the fruits of the damnable and debasing practices at Ascot Park—practices which the Legislature of California refused to discountenance.

It is too late, now, to undo the mischief that was done in the election of unworthy, incompetent and unscrupulous men to legislate for the people of California. The harm is done, and we must suffer the consequences of our own weakness and lack of foresight. But when the time comes to elect another Legislature, less than two years hence, the people should profit by the serious mistakes which they made in the last campaign, and should send to the Legislature men of character and uprightness, who will obey, not thwart, the wishes of the people.

THE NEW GERMAN TARIFF.

We have already commented in the editorial columns of The Times on the new tariff which will come into operation next year in Germany, explaining the general rates that apply to all articles not made the subject of a special treaty, and the conventional rates that will be conferred on the strict reciprocity basis of favors granted for favors received. Under the "most favored nation" clause the conventional rates must be extended to the United States, unless the treaty which guarantees to us this treatment be terminated, as it can be with three months' notice from the government at Berlin. But we guarded our readers against supposing that this extension of the reduced rates will be of any advantage to the United States.

In reviewing the terms of the new tariff, The Independent of New York is misled by the very fallacy to which attention has thus been directed. It writes: "Even if we should continue to enjoy the advantages of the lower or treaty rates, these will be higher under the new treaties than they have been under the old ones, especially on wheat, corn, flour, beef, leather and shoes. Still, we should be on even terms with the seven or more treaty countries."

This is quite wrong. The United States, in the absence of a reciprocity treaty, will be far from being on even terms with the treaty countries. The latter have negotiated in regard to the products in which they are specially interested, which in the great majority of instances are not our products at all. Russia, for example, will have secured the lower rate for rye, a cereal she exports largely into Germany. We shall also, by the most-favored-nation clause, get the reduction on rye. But what will that benefit us, when we hardly export the article at all?

The same argument applies all along the list. Italy, Austria, Hungary, Switzerland, Belgium, Servia, Roumania and Germany's other near neighbors have safeguarded their own special products of export. But these special products are not ours. To take examples from The Independent's illustrative list, while Russia will have secured a conventional rate for wheat in which we may benefit, corn, flour and beef, three of our staple exports, also shoes, one of our most important manufactures abroad, will all have been left untouched by the treaties. They will therefore go under the general rates, and these spell pretty nearly prohibition.

Thus a non-treaty country, even if it continues to enjoy "most favored nation" rights, will be left out in the cold. But in the present mood of the German people, there is certain to be the attempt to force reciprocal concessions by this very weapon of a double-barreled tariff gun. Action of the kind is the very raison d'être of the two scales of rates, the general and the conventional. Therefore, the denouncement of old commercial treaties is all but inevitable.

In this event not a single article produced by the United States that chances to fall under the conventional rate enjoyed by treaty countries will be able to enter the country, for the difference between the two scales is enormous, ranging in some instances up to nearly 400 per cent. For instance, taking the figures merely to show the ratio, and not troubling to translate marks and kilograms into dollars and pounds, we find that American wheat will stand at 7.50 against Russian wheat at 5.50, American flour at 18.75 against Hungarian flour at 10.20, American beef at 45 against Austrian beef at 27, and American oranges at 12 against Italian oranges at 3.25.

These selected examples are not exceptions; most of the other commodities in which the United States is specially interested are marked up in much the same proportion. So, with the present commercial treaty abolished, and no reciprocity treaty negotiated in its place, where will our export trade to Germany stand a year hence? Reciprocity or exclusion—there must be a choice between the two alternatives; the gage of battle has been fairly thrown down.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

A readjustment of the mutual relations of world powers is now regarded probable. The disasters which have overtaken the Russian army, and the impaired credit of that government in the financial centers, will compel a cessation of armed activity till she has time to recuperate her resources. No longer will the northern frontier of India be threatened by her soldiers. No longer will the government at Peking be subject to her dictation. No longer will Germany or Turkey fear the incursion of hostile armies from beyond their Russian frontiers. The Czar will for many years need to husband all his resources to meet the enormous expenditures of the present war, and to recover from the overwhelming loss of army prestige.

It is not to be presumed that Japan will attempt to extend her conquests beyond the acquisition of Korea and the Liao Tung Peninsula. Her own losses have been great, in both men and money, and have entailed great burdens of taxation upon her people, under which they will grow restive when the excitement of conquest has worn off. To readjust the fiscal conditions of her original territory, and to so extend her sway over the acquired regions of Korea and Liao Tung as to secure a firm grasp of those new components of her empire, will keep her government fully occupied in the immediate future.

But this greater Empire of Japan, conscious of the prestige which is conferred by a victorious army, and by a fleet with a record of brilliant achievements, becomes a new power which henceforth takes its place among the great nations of the world, and will exercise a potent influence in all matters relating to oriental affairs. No longer can Great Britain, France, Germany and the United States, enter into compacts regarding spheres of influence in China, open ports, naval stations and control of customs, without calling into consultation a representative of this new power which has so recently demonstrated its capacity to successfully assert itself.

But whoever supposes that the colossal power which has dominated Eastern Europe and Northern Asia for a century past is to be disregarded in the diplomatic forecasts of the future, will reckon without his host. Her immense contiguous territory, her vast and inexhaustible resources, and her great population of sturdy peasantry, will enable her to recuperate her losses, both of men and means, in a very few years.

But there is one question which inevitably obtrudes itself upon the mind engaged in forecasting the changes in the map of Asia. For a generation Russia has been exercising an increasing influence, commercial and political, over the great province of Mongolia. Will she be permitted to continue that policy, or will the other powers encourage the government of China to resume its former control over that province and make it an integral component of the Chinese Empire?

Or, on the other hand, will the five great powers, America, Britain, Germany, France and Japan, by concerted action revive commercial spheres of influence in that passive and irresolute country, and practically parcel out its rich trade resources on some plan which will forever settle the perplexing oriental question? These speculations are already occupying the minds of statesmen and diplomats on both sides of the Atlantic.

By a vote of ten to one the citizens have expressed their confidence in the Board of Education for the "School District of Los Angeles," by authorizing a bond issue of $780,000 for the building of new schoolhouses. It was an instance of "the children crying for it," many little ones being without accommodations. The sum voted is generous, and it is to be hoped that it will be administered with greater economy than was the money raised by the last previous school bond issue. The extravagance of the constructors of the new Polytechnic High School has been shameful.

Judge Alton B. Parker, who also ran" for President, declares that under no circumstances will he consider any proposition to return to the judicial bench of his State. It should be remembered that Judge Parker is now a corporation lawyer—fighting the legal battles of the "accursed monopolies" which he denounced so vehemently during the late campaign. The corporations pay their hirelings better than the State pays its judges.

A strange, weird bit of news comes from Dover, to the effect that the Delaware Legislature is in a deadlock over the election of a United States Senator. While not in a position to deny this rumor, we should be fully warranted in disbelieving and denouncing the report as a base fabrication if it had represented the Delaware Legislature as not being in a deadlock.

The "co-ed." institutions are finding out that young men and young women cannot as freely intermingle as the theory first claimed they could. As a consequence, one school now prohibits the boys to publicly wear sweaters, while another compels the girls to play basketball apart from the eyes of male students.

If we should succeed in busting the trusts it will be a fine thing for the country, and really won't distress even the owners of the trusts. They'll have so much money, anyhow, that there isn't the slightest danger of them ever being compelled to tighten up the hunger belt.

This new dictum at the U.S.C. to the effect that students must look after their studies first, and place their baseball honors second, is in the nature of a revolution. What do these dry old professors imagine young men are sent to college for, anyhow?

The first "school district" election in Los Angeles worked like a charm, and the return to simplicity in voting was hailed with delight by many an old-fashioned fellow.

Wrecks caused by Ascot Park strew Southern California about as thickly as the wrecks of the recent storm strew the ocean front. There are two things in favor of the storm, however; it did some good, and it is gone.

Go way back and sit down, Mr. Hatfield. If you will come here in the middle of the summer and give us eight or ten inches of rain, we shall begin to think that your pretensions are of some account.

Perhaps the Police Commission will make things so binding for the saloons that no Gothenberg system will be needed to reduce their number.

By the way, what has become of that popular subscription for raising money to erect a new library building? What's the talk about bonds?

It may be all a joke on Hatfield, but here's betting that Hatfield will not fully appreciate the humor of it.

Rider Haggard may be a little more so if he is stalled long on the mud-flooded and mostly-eaten desert.

By all means, let's annex Goldfield.

THE EVIL IN OUR MIDST.

AMONG MEN OF ACTION.

Maj. Fred W. Burnham of Pasadena, who has won distinction as a British army scout, came to Los Angeles yesterday to meet his friend, H. Rider Haggard, the English writer and man of affairs who has been delegated by the British Colonial Office to visit the Salvation Army farm settlements in the United States and to make a report that is expected to be of value in aiding the British government to relieve the overcrowded condition of its principal cities, especially London.

Mr. Haggard was to have arrived here yesterday from the East to pursue his investigations in California, but he was delayed east of Yuma by a washout on the Southern Pacific, and probably will not reach here for another day or two.

"This country some day will be confronted with the same problem that now troubles Great Britain," said Mr. Burnham, in speaking of Mr. Haggard's mission. "The same congestion that now exists in London and menaces thousands of its inhabitants who are cooped within narrow brick walls, and whose souls are warped in the process, some day will make itself felt in the large cities of the United States, and the people here should prepare to deal with it.

"Here, as in England, the people are moving from the country districts into the cities, while immigration from abroad is adding to the congestion. Some day this government may find itself making just the kind of an investigation for which Mr. Haggard has come here.

"Mr. Haggard," said Maj. Burnham, in speaking of the personality of the coming visitor to these parts, "really shrinks from notoriety. It does not suit his taste at all to be exploited.

"He does not 'thaw out' readily among strangers, but he delights in talking with congenial companions and with those who manifest an interest in the work in which he is engaged. All he needs is a sympathetic audience. With that, he will be found a most interesting speaker.

"It is while engaged in such work as is represented by this tour of investigation he is making that he is at his best, and I have no doubt that he not only will be successful in gaining the knowledge he is after, but that he will impress those who meet him as an earnest, energetic, practical man."

"If the people of Los Angeles only knew some of my troubles they would flock into my office day and night until their poll tax was paid," said County Assessor Ben E. Ward yesterday, in discussing the travail he is experiencing in assisting taxpayers to do their duty.

"There are people here who think that the greater part of the $2 poll tax that is collected goes to the man who collects it. As a matter of fact, 85 cents out of every dollar goes into the school fund, while the remaining 15 cents goes to the county salary fund.

"Of $100,000 collected last year, $85,000 went to the schools and $15,000 went to the salary fund, paying about one-half of the expenses of running this office.

"This is the hardest tax to collect, although it is the only tax paid by a large number of persons. I know of cases where several children in a family go to school, and the only contribution the head of that family makes is his yearly $2 poll tax.

"It is not known generally that the county is collecting this year from the transient horse owners and bookmakers at Ascot Park about $200. This is divided about equally between the horses and the fourteen books that are run at the track.

"The bookmakers are assessed on their bank accounts, their assessment being about $50,000, while the assessments on the horses are made on their valuation.

"The tax thus collected is exclusive of the taxes paid by the owners of the park on their buildings and grounds.

"We have been extremely fortunate in collecting taxes at the park this year, although some attempts have been made to escape obligations. The bookmakers declare they are not accustomed to paying taxes on their bank accounts, while the horse owners say that at no other track in the country are they compelled to pungle up.

"One sly horse owner got away a few days ago with his string, upon which he had failed to pay taxes of $20 or so. He shipped the animals east, but was caught by the landslide in Cajon Pass, and shipped the horses back to the track, putting them in a stall a long distance from that in which they originally had been kept.

"My man at the track located the animals, however, and after putting a notice of attachment on them, called upon the owner for the taxes due, together with an additional charge to cover costs. In the face of a sale for taxes the owner dug up his dues to the county."

In the face of the growing recklessness of automobilists, who speed through the city in their machines at a break-neck rate, bowling over and maiming or killing pedestrians, and casting a spell of fear over every user of the streets, the police department of Los Angeles practically has given up any attempt to regulate the traffic.

The reason the streets have been virtually abandoned to the modern juggernauts is said to be that the city ordinance on the subject has been so amended as to make its enforcement impossible.

Daily complaints are made at police headquarters of the dangerous speed with which autos sail through the streets, and of accidents or narrow escapes of those who chance to get in their way.

The police now are looking for a man who plumped a big red automobile with full force Monday night into a pedestrian on North Broadway, nearly killing his victim, and dashing away into the night without stopping to learn the extent of the man's hurts.

"The city ordinance on automobile speed practically is a dead letter," said Secretary Chapman of Chief Hammel's office yesterday. "The ordinance used to limit the speed downtown to eight miles an hour and to four miles at crossings.

"A demonstration was made by automobilists of the ease which which the machines could be stopped when going at a high rate of speed, and the limit was raised to twelve miles an hour downtown, with a provision for 'reasonable speed' in other parts of the city.

"The trouble is that twelve miles an hour is so rapid a gait that the officers cannot very well judge whether an automobile is going at that rate or at forty miles an hour. The consequence is that little attempt is made to arrest any offenders."

Those who are posted in the way such "demonstrations" are made say that they cannot be depended upon. It is admitted to be true that a machine running twelve miles an hour can be stopped quickly when the operative is looking for a signal to stop, but the point is made that these signals never are given on crowded streets.

It is estimated that 1500 automobiles are owned by persons in and near Los Angeles. The only requirement is that each bear a number tag issued by the city. Complaint is made that these numbers are carried on some machines in such places that they are covered by mud and dirt and cannot be distinguished.

Many incompetents, too, is it reported, take charge of machines and run them through the streets, young boys and even children being seen at the controllers, while fresh in the minds of the public is the killing of a man at Pasadena by a machine run by an inexperienced woman

CONCERNING CALIFORNIANS.

W. O. White has assumed charge of the Ukiah Republican Press. He has been interested in the paper for a number of years.

Rev. Alfred W. Hare, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Fresno, has accepted a call from the Congregational Church at Santa Cruz.

Blendon Campbell, a young Oakland artist, who opened a studio in New York a year ago, has already achieved a fine reputation in art circles in the metropolis. He has just finished the illustrations for a new novel by Booth Tarkington.

Charles Keeler, the California poet, and his wife made a successful fight against a fire that broke out in their Berkeley residence a few days since. After an hour's hard work the flames were extinguished, and then the fire department arrived.

The family and friends of A. K. Smiley of Redlands gathered to congratulate him last Friday on the occasion of his seventy-seventh birthday. Cañon Crest Park and the Smiley library building are monuments to Mr. Smiley's interest in the town.

Dr. Mathewson of Bostonia, San Diego county, was called to Lakeside a few nights since to attend a serious case. He responded promptly, but when he reached the San Diego River it was a raging torrent and to ford it was impossible. He tied his horse, swam the river and reached his patient in time to save his life.

Six years ago Dr. Franceschi of Santa Barbara received from the director of the Royal Botanical Garden in Rome a small tin box containing a quantity of plants of the lippia repens. The doctor immediately distributed them, and now hundreds of acres in California and Arizona are covered with this beautiful flowering plant.

Charles Rush, a Visalia man, has returned from a visit to Goldfield, a bit disgusted. He says: "There is no work and no money to eat on and as for great and high gambling, there are poker games in Tulare county with far more money on the table." All the time that he was there Charley says he never saw more than a $2 bet made.

No Money in Making War.

Of old there was a mistaken impression that a nation could grow rich on the spoils of war; but few persons harbor that delusion today. It is now clearly understood that war means a diminution of the general prosperity. As the trade of the world is increasing by leaps and bounds, the practical sense of mankind holds strife at arms in increasing abhorrence. The wealth of a nation can be augmented faster by selling goods than by stealing them and the mass of men see this quite clearly. Commerce is a great pacificator. There is no place in the affairs for the unruly passions, no matter how seldom its ends may be best subserved by great wars, but an absence of violence.—

Oyama's Position.

The final extent and outcome of the victory are not likely to be known for days, if not weeks, to come, but it is clear; by an exhibition of remarkable endurance, fanatical bravery, extraordinary strategical skill, the Japanese have won the greatest victory of modern times, triumphing over superior force with more and better artillery and intrenched. Oyama's position at Mukden would fall today and the enlistment will become an item in military history as some of the forecasts of 1906 and 1910.—

She Stopped the Train.

Her nurse had fallen asleep and four-year-old girl toddled to the car pit steps in a Birmingham train, temporarily stopped the train by asking the clergyman: "Please, sir, why do you get up there? Why don't you come down?" When a policeman gently led her back to her seat amid the tittering of the passengers she repeated her question: "Can he see better?"—Chicago Tribune.

Our Fondness for Titles.

There is a theory that Americans haven't the art of coronation, that they are too self-conscious and much bullied by democratic ideals. Yet no people is fonder of gilt buttons and parading or witnessing the pomp and circumstance of procession and full regalia.—

DISHONEST CLERK.

Story of His Effort to be Sharper Than the System Under Which He Was Working.

As the result of a most carefully planned business, the extensive wholesale firm of Parmales, Dohrmen & Co. was yesterday detected the operations of a dishonest clerk. Arthur Cameron made the mistake of supposing he could beat the firm by putting in a bill for less than the sale he made, and not be discovered, but within two hours after he had tried the trick he was in the hands of the police, and had confessed his guilt to Mr. Parmales.

Cameron sold a bill of $6.40 to a lady customer, and turned in a check for 60 cents, putting the balance in his pocket. When confronted by his employer he made a weak denial, but weakened at every turn and finally acknowledged his guilt. In the hope that the matter may be beneficial to him, as he is an old offender, it is probable he will not be prosecuted, but will be required to show when he has made good the money stolen.

Addresses were also made by Dr. Richardson, pastor of the First Christian Church of Kansas City; Dr. Baldwin of the First Baptist Church, this city, and Rev. Robert J. Burdette of Tempe Church.

Among those present were the father and brother of Prof. Burton, all of whom are making an extended visit to

SICK HORSES CAUSE TROUBLE.

RIOT IN LIVERY BARN IS NARROWLY AVERTED.

Proprietors Resist Overtures of S.P.C.A. People and the Police are Called in—Three Arrested on Battery Charges—Seven Horses Die of Poison.

J. H. Snowden, W. N. Snowden and S. W. Slinkard, proprietors of a livery and sale stable at No. 325 Aliso street, were arrested yesterday on a charge of resisting an officer.

Before the trouble started the horsemen had lost five fine draft horses through the medium of poisoned water, it is thought, and two more were in the agonies of death when Officer Zimmer and Mrs. L. E. Giese of the S.P.C.A. appeared and objected to the treatment of one of the sick horses. War of words was started, Snowden and Slinkard appeared and ordered Zimmer from the place. Then Mrs. Giese, who had accompanied Officer Zimmer to the stables, tried to quell the rising disturbance, but she was unsuccessful. Patrolmen Mack and McGraw were attracted by the crowd in the stable and they assisted Zimmer in arresting the three proprietors after a hard struggle.

At the Police Station a charge of resisting an officer was first docketed against the men, but later Zimmer swore to a complaint of battery. They were released on bail in the sum of $25 each to appear in the Police Court tomorrow.

It appears that Monday afternoon Slinkard arrived in the city with a carload of forty-two horses purchased in Oregon and Utah. Owing to the washouts en route the trip from Sacramento to Los Angeles consumed fifty-four hours, during which time the horses had nothing to eat and little to drink. When taken to the Aliso-street corrals Monday night the animals were well fed and watered, but early yesterday morning five were found dead and several more were sick.

The stablemen said they did not know who Zimmer was, as he failed to disclose his identity before he began giving orders concerning one of the sick horses. Zimmer denies this statement. When the policemen were called in the stablemen wanted Zimmer arrested, but the patrol wagon was called and the proprietors were sent to the Police Station. Zimmer says two of the men threatened his life.

BIG DERRICK TUMBLES.

The giving way of soft ground on the Santa Fé Railway near Slauson avenue yesterday, caused a big steam derrick to be precipitated into the ditch. Train No. 162 on the Redondo branch ran into a washout at that point last Friday and derailed several carloads of oil. With the aid of a steam derrick belonging to the Salt Lake Railway the last of the tanks was being picked up yesterday when the yielding earth caused the accident. No one was hurt, although there were some narrow escapes. It will require several days to pick up the derrick. The track is not blocked.

When you realize that Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate contains all the food elements that the brain and body require, you won't wonder why the people who drink it are so strong and healthy.

There are lots of cocoa preparations but Ghirardelli's affords the most nutriment in the pleasantest way.

Correct Spring Styles

American garments with the spice of Paris styles! The best class tailors and dressmakers of America—with a highly developed talent for happily combining art, utility and common-sense price—have gone to Paris and on back to Louis XVI, and beyond, and the result is many novel though harmonious blendings of ideas. A cuff, a sleeve, a trimming touch, or possibly, even a man's coat of the Directoire period is remade almost entirely for the women of today.

New Popular Price Street Suits

In jacket, Eton, blouse, tight-fitting and three-quarter effects, in materials of serges, Tweeds, Panama Cloths, Mohair and handsome exclusive patterns in mannish mixtures. A full color line, including the ultra-fashionable Shepherd plaids and checks; the price range is wide. No matter whether it's the modest tailored suits at

New Suspender Suits Very Modish

Combining a skirt of checked taffeta with suspenders of same, and a plain taffeta waist; or waists of white lawn, trimmed with Val. insertion, skirt and suspenders of black and white checked taffeta. A third style brings into use the suspender coat effect; a very short lace and applique trimmed coat to be worn over an appropriate waist, with suspender skirt—$37.50 to $47.50.

Two late arrivals; one shows a short blouse jacket of green and white or green and blue checked mohair; fancy revers with long silk scarf for tying in front; shirred girdle of changeable taffeta silk; $55.00.

The new Coffee Jacket suit; seldom has any style met with such instant popular favor; shown in silk, plain cloths and mohairs in plain and fancy effects; new pleated and circular skirts, $25 to $75.

The New Silks

The Silk Department calls especial attention today to an exquisite new design in Cheney Bros. foulards—a name favorably known throughout the United States—showing large scroll or geometrical patterns—in three shades only; light apple green, wedgewood blue and oignion brown; a weave expressly for reception gowns, 24 inches wide, $1.50 a yard.

Again—Peau de crepe, the genuine, with name on selvage—24-inch width, in plain black, cream, ivory, light gray, brown and navy; also in colored grounds with polka dots in contrasting shades—soft finish, for making into waists and gowns, $1 a yard.

Trimmings half price

Half-price sale of the present season's best selling dress trimmings, because we've only short lengths left, in braids, appliques, solid embroidery work in plain and fancy colors, and black or white. The goods are all new and all popular, and nearly every price between 50c and $5 is represented—special at 25c to $2.50 a yard.

Stamped Linens

Possibly its a trifle early to suggest selecting embroidery work for summer vacations, but future needs may profitably be anticipated when half prices prevail.

Stamped linens in natural, oyster white and champagne shades, stamped in colors with poinsettia, poppy and various other patterns on butcher linen. Centerpieces, trays and doilies, usually priced from 25c to $2.25 each, at just half those figures now.

All mercerized flosses and silks for working—4c a skein, 45c a dozen.

MILLERS ROUT UNION GANG.

All Flour and Grain Mills are Non-unionized.

Fate of Council of Labor's Impudent Orders.

Strike Broken and Concerns Have Full Crews.

Arrant unionism, which would dictate to the men who own industrial plants and furnish the money to operate them, received another body blow yesterday from the grain mill owners of Los Angeles.

After one day's activities the walkout of the Grain and Cereal Workers' Union has proven a farce, and yesterday all the mills affected by the ill-advised action of the workmen were running as usual with non-union crews—and so they will continue.

This was as disastrous a rout for the walking delegates and trouble-breeders as has come to them in Los Angeles of late. It was the culmination of the troubles between the Central Council of Labor and the Capitol Milling Company—a sequel to the boycott which the council put on the products of the Capitol Mills.

While some of the men from the Globe Mills and the Angelus Mills walked out, necessitating a shut-down of these concerns for one day, others had the wisdom to hold on to their jobs by discarding the union; and at the Capitol Mills, where the troubles first started, every union man on the crew sent in his resignation to the union.

The history of this trouble reaches back over a year or more, and has some interesting features. About two years ago organizers came on from San Francisco and the East and proceeded to start a union for mill engineers.

They approached the engineer at the Capitol Mills, J. H. Oliver, who is a valued and faithful employé and has been with the company for years. He was not enamored of the union way of doing things, and said so; but the proprietors of the mills, in order to promote, as they then supposed, industrial peace, advised their engineer to join the newly-formed union, and at last he did so.

AN EFFUSION.

Jan. 14 1905.

J. H. Oliver, Dear sir & brother. This is one of the Things that has Fallen to me to Inform you of the preceding wich were Taken against you last Meeting Jan. 12. You was Fined $100.00 & Expeled from Local Union No. 77 for creating Decention & Belittling its officers and Working against the Welfare of said Union so if you want to Take and Appeal you can Do so By Paying said fine and Dues.

Yours Truly B. A. VOLP.

Oliver was satisfied to remain outside the charmed circle, and went on about his daily duties the same as he had for years past, to the satisfaction of his employers and to the profit of his bank account.

But this affront to the union would never do, so the Capitol Milling Company began to receive visitations from walking delegates demanding the discharge of Oliver and the installment of a union engineer.

While Oliver was yet a member in good standing in the mill engineers' union, the hands were organized into another union; by the advice of the owners of the Capitol Mills their employés went into this concern; contracts were signed up by the milling company and the union as to rate of wages, etc.

But after Oliver was kicked out of his union by his brother members they could not stand to see him retain his position, and it is said that without even consulting the mill workers' union, the Central Council of Labor declared a boycott on all the products of the Capitol Mills, until Oliver was removed.

This brought about a peculiar situation. The members of the mill workers' union continued in the employ of the Capitol Mills and drew money weekly from this concern, a part of which money was at once turned over to the Council of Labor to fight the company from which they got their bread and butter.

At last the mill owners tired of this sort of thing and explained the situation to their men. They, in conjunction with other mill men of the city, declared that they would sign no new contracts with the union, although they intended to make no changes in wages or hours.

Many of the men employed at the Capitol Mills have been there for years, and they soon realized how unjust was the attempt to carry on a fight against their employers, and to the same time remain and draw money from them. The result was that yesterday thirteen men from this mill handed to the union secretary their resignations, and the full force is now non-union.

ALL STAND TOGETHER.

Other mills of the city took a similar stand and declared that they would no longer submit to union dictation. They refused to sign the one-sided contracts with the labor unions, in which the obligation appears to be all on the side of the proprietors, and notified the men that after March 19 their mills would be non-union.

At the Globe Mills trouble was precipitated by the company adopting a new system of labor. Instead of paying every man so much a day for his labor, regardless of his skill as compared with his neighboring workman, the Globe Company decided to adopt the plan of paying for actual work accomplished.

They announced that they would receive bids for piece work. To this the union took exception, and some of its members refused to submit figures. As a result other men gave the company satisfactory figures and were set to work. This was used as a final excuse for the troubles which called the men out last Monday in the Angelus and Globe mills.

The employés of the Los Angeles Flour and Mill Company have not been paying up their union dues for some time past; so they paid no attention to the walk-out and are still holding their places.

A meeting of various unions was held yesterday afternoon to discuss the plan of ordering a general boycott on the products of the local mills.

A Good Deal of Nonsense.

About "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics"

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way, and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and, unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied, it is useless to attempt to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills" and "cathartics," which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but of course are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well; prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

FUEL IS CHEAP FOR THE CITY.

THIRTY-NINE CENTS A BARREL FOR OIL DELIVERED.

Example of Combine's Inroads on Market, and Low Point to Which Competition Has Brought Cost to Consumer—Sunset Oil Under Contract a New Factor.

Thirty-nine cents for oil delivered by the Amalgamated Oil Company at the Buena Vista-street pumping station is what fuel costs the city water department. For that delivered at the new station on Slauson avenue 47 cents will be paid. The difference in cost is caused by the additional expense of delivery to that part of the city.

The city uses about 1000 barrels of crude a month for this work. When the Slauson-avenue station is put in operation during the summer this

MOTHER YEARNS FOR HER GIRL.

WRITES OPEN LETTER ASKING HER TO RETURN.

San Bernardino Woman Says All Will be Forgiven and Forgotten if Daughter Will but Come Home. Traction Company Manager Secretly Gets Divorce.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 21.—Pretty Angelena Watson is still among the missing, and this morning her grief-stricken mother wrote out a message for the press, believing that the girl will more likely be reached through the newspapers than by the police. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Angelena: Come home, and all will be forgiven and forgotten. You and mother can still have many days of gladness together, if you will only return. Your absence is breaking my heart."

The girl's stepfather has been to Pasadena in a vain effort to get into communication with "Prof." Payne, who is supposed to have hypnotized the child and taken her away, but no one at Pasadena knew of his whereabouts. The mother states that Angelena met Payne at Pasadena when they resided there about three months ago.

She feigns to doubt that he figures in her disappearance, and declares that if the young couple had any matrimonial plans they would certainly have imparted them to her and Watson, who would have placed no obstacle in the way of the daughter's happiness.

FISHER GETS DIVORCE.

J. H. Fisher, general manager of the San Bernardino Traction Company, was granted a decree of divorce by Judge Oster Saturday, great secrecy being maintained throughout the affair, even how there not being the slightest record of the proceedings on the regular minute book of the court, the register of actions, the index to such register, or even in the record book where such decrees are recorded. Fisher is the son of Millionaire Fisher of Redlands.

According to the complaint and young Fisher's statement on the stand, his wife several times attempted to use a revolver on him. The only allegation of the complaint was cruelty, and these frequent gun plays were the foundation of the allegation. Rumor has played with the domestic affairs for some time. Both have resided at Redlands, where they moved in the swell set, and the stories which have been going the rounds were such as to make both parties objects of unusual interest and comment.

It is stated that some time ago it was agreed that the woman should bring the action, but she backed down, and Fisher became the plaintiff, all the court records being concealed from the public.

NEWTON HEARING.

Editor W. M. Newton of the Redlands Facts was examined by a jury today on a charge of being insane, the charge having been preferred by Paul Moore, of the Facts, on the statements of a nurse in a Los Angeles hospital, where Newton had been treated. Among the witnesses were Moore, Lyman King, Dr. Campbell, former medical superintendent at the Southern California State Hospital for the Insane at Patton and Mrs. Mary J. Cross, Newton's wife, for love of whom, it is claimed, he had lost his reason.

Newton, perfectly rational, as far as appearances go, sat throughout the hearing, trying at intervals to catch a glance from his bride of a few months, who even yet does not take his name, but no stranger could have been more indifferent to him than she was, though it could be easily seen that the old man is still devoted to her.

The examination was continued till tomorrow.

SAN BERDOO BRIEFS.

Clyde Taylor, the youth who was fatally shot by a highwayman near Hazen, Nev., the other day, is the son of a well-known family here.

Miguel Antony will be brought down from San Quentin immediately to be resentenced to be executed for the murder of Lee Gar, a Chinaman, whom he killed at Needles two years ago. He will then be returned to San Quentin and examined as to his sanity, before paying the penalty of his crime.

ROVING GIRL IS HOME AGAIN.

COLTON CITY MARSHAL FINDS ONE WANDERER.

When Taken Into Custody Late at Night She is, Amid Cries and Protestations, Taken to Her Mother in San Bernardino—Says She Feared Mother Would Punish Her.

COLTON, March 21.—Lucy Kelley, the sixteen-year-old girl who mysteriously disappeared from her home in San Bernardino last week, and for whom her mother has been frantically searching ever since, was located yesterday afternoon in Colton.

Marshal Adkins was informed yesterday of the girls' disappearance, and was asked to make a search for her in Colton.

He found that on Sunday evening a man had engaged a room for the Kelley girl in the Palace Hotel. She came soon afterward.

At the time of the Marshal's visit yesterday afternoon the girl was, as the landlady stated, "out for a drive" with this man, they having rented a horse and buggy from a local livery.

Her telescope grip remained in the room. This, the officer asked the landlady to take to the hotel office in order that she might know when the girl returned and inform him.

In the late hours, close on to midnight, the owner of the telescope called at the office to learn what had become of her possessions, and was detained there while the Marshal was summoned.

He arrested her and took her immediately amid many cries and protests to her home on Kingman avenue in San Bernardino. The girl said she was afraid to go home, as she would be severely punished for running away.

The girl had sent her trunk to Los Angeles, and was preparing to follow.

She denies all knowledge of the Watson girl, missing from San Bernardino, claiming not to have seen her at all. Miss Kelley had been working for a family in San Bernardino when she read of her mother's search, and she then decided to leave that town. She now says she is contented and glad to be back at home.

THICK LAYER OF MUD.

That as a result of the last rainstorm about fifty acres of his pasture land and eighteen acres of grain are covered with mud, which is four feet deep in some places, was the statement of George Cooley of East Colton today. Mr. Cooley says he never had so much water on his place in the fifty years that he has lived there.

The water which runs through San Mateo Cañon changed its course near Loma Linda and a large part of it flowed over Mr. Cooley's land.

TWO AFTER ONE HUBBY.

Wife in San Berdoo and Another in Texas Both Have Cudgels for Him.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, March 21.—Mrs. Peter Slammel, formerly well known in Redlands, has been granted a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion. The ink on the decree had hardly dried when she received from Mrs. Peter Slammel, the second, a letter explaining that the writer has seen in the papers an account of the divorce proceedings, and has reason to believe that either a grave mistake has been made or else her husband is none other than the Redlands defendant. It appears that Slammel disappeared from Redlands a year ago, and a few weeks later he married an estimable young woman of Dallas, Tex. When he got wind of the divorce suit here he again dropped out of sight, and now both wives are hot after him, determined to charge him with bigamy.

RIVERSIDE.

SUNSET 'PHONE EXPANSION.

RIVERSIDE, March 21.—The Sunset Telephone Company will begin, this week, in this city, improvements which will aggregate $40,000 before they are finished. This expenditure is to be made on 1700 new 'phones, the construction of seven blocks of underground system and the addition of several miles to the aerial system. The new instruments are already at hand, and will replace the old-style boxes. A force will be out from Los Angeles this week to do the work, and the change will represent an expense of $15,000. The underground work to be added will be put in on Orange from Seventr to Eleventh; on Tenth from Orange to Main, and on Eighth from Orange to Market, and will cost $15,000 more. In the extension of the aerial system 600 new poles will be set up in new districts all over the city. Sunset now has 1670 subscribers in the city, and its list is growing rapidly. The active competition of the Home company, which has nearly 1000 subscribers, is an important factor in the expansion and improved service of the Sunset, which, under the management of R. M. Buehler, is putting forth its best efforts to keep its supremacy in number of subscribers.

DEVELOPING ACREAGE.

The 1000-acre tract bought in Riverside a few months ago by the Riverside Land Company, is to be developed and put on the market at once. The tract extends north to the line of the Bloomington tract, and lies largely in the foothill region of West Riverside. A well has been put down which is flowing satisfactorily. The frostless lands will be set to oranges and the lower lands seeded to alfalfa.

DECORATIONS DROP OFF.

The last rain worked havoc with the staff decorations of the Courthouse, which had suffered considerably in previous storms. When these decorations began to melt and drop off, one by one, two months ago, Contractor Engstrom of Los Angeles hastened to announce that he would put up more substantial trimmings forthwith. Time has passed, nothing more has been said or done, and now the last rags and tatters of what was at first a very showy adornment, are dropping off.

PRESBYTERIAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Riverside Presbytery is in progress today at Arlington Presbyterian Church. This afternoon were reelected as president, Mrs. F. A. Wales, Redlands; vice-president, Mrs. J. A. Bakewell, Riverside; recording secretary, Mrs. Frances Purdum, Colton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. A. Crosby, Riverside; treasurer, Mrs. N. J. McFarland, Ontario; foreign secretary, Mrs. E. E. Donald, San Bernardino; home secretary, Mrs. F. S. Haupt, Redlands; Freedmen's secretary, Mrs. F. S. Haupt, Redlands; secretary of literature, Mrs. Paul Brooks, San Bernardino; secretary of box work, Mrs. David Irvine, Riverside; young people's secretary, Miss Catherine Copley, Riverside.

NERVILY STOPS THE LIMITED.

While Train is Making Fifty Miles an Hour Near Mojave, Tank Frame Breaks and Throws Tender from the Track—Stops Train in Four Rail Lengths.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, March 21.—News of the averting of what might have been an appalling railroad catastrophe two miles east of Mojave on the Santa Fé last night, reached this city this evening.

The Santa Fé westbound Limited, No. 3, seven hours late, was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour when the tank frame broke, throwing the tender from the track. Engineer Hunt of the Limited, threw on the air, reversed the engine and brought the train, filled with eastern tourists, to a full stop in four rail lengths.

There was intense excitement until the passengers realized that there was no danger. Neither the engine nor any of the cars left the track.

The train was delayed about an hour and a half, and was brought into Bakersfield safely by Engineer Gibson with a freight engine.

HOSPITAL CORPS TO BE MOVED.

Orange County Guardsmen Preparing for Sham Battle Near Long Beach—Bridges Impaired by Santa Ana River Flood—Governor Heeds Protests Against Hahn Bill.

SANTA ANA, March 21.—Col. S. H. Finley, commanding the Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., announces the transference of the regimental hospital corps from Los Angeles to regimental headquarters in this city. The change will involve the mustering out of the present corps in Los Angeles and the enlisting of a new corps here.

In addition to the surgeons, the corps includes four litter squads and a complete equipment for field hospital work. Dr. F. M. Bruner, assistant surgeon in the regiment, will have charge of organizing the corps, for which almost enough applications have already been made.

Co. L, stationed here, has received orders to prepare for encampment at Willows station, near Long Beach, in the latter part of April or early May, when Admiral Goodrich, with the Pacific squadron, will be at Long Beach. The entire First Brigade, including the Seventh Regiment, Troop A of the cavalry, and a division of the artillery, will enter the camp, and a mock battle, in conjunction with the marines from the squadron, will be fought. In preparation for the event the local company is spending its time in the practice of extended movements. The company will go to Anaheim Thursday evening to drill with Co. E of that place.

TO REPAIR FLOOD DAMAGE.

The Supervisors held a special meeting today to discuss damage wrought by the recent rainstorms, and to provide means for making rapid repairs to washed-out roads and damaged bridges. One of the most serious results of the whole visitation is the weakening of the Fifth-street bridge, reported today by Supervisor Fulsom, who has declared the bridge unsafe for heavy traffic, and notices to that effect will be posted. The continual washing of the waters in the Santa Ana River has weakened the supporting pillars. Supervisor Holderman has had a force of thirty men at work for two days at the First-street crossing of the river, banking it up with sandbags to shut off the deflection of the current down the Newport road. More than five hundred sacks of sand were piled up yesterday, and the largest breach was closed; as many more were put on smaller overflow spots today. The washing of the river at this point has kept the Newport road under water for miles, so that wagons for part of the way run axle deep in a rapid stream of water.

PROMISED VETO.

In response to a protest to Gov. Pardee, asking him to veto the Hahn Municipal Lighting Bill, making it obligatory for cities to purchase existing lighting plants before establishing one of their own, the City Trustees received a communication from the Governor intimating that he will veto the measure on account of the decided protests to it which are coming in from all parts of the State.

SANTA ANA SIFTINGS.

The sermon at the revival services last night was preached by Rev. Leander Lane of the First Christian Church. Rev. T. C. Miller of the Methodist Church conducted the experience meeting after the regular service.

The City Trustees have voted an expenditure of $200 for the establishment of a laboratory for the health department at the City Hall.

Announcement has been received here of the wedding in San Francisco of Miss Theo England, formerly of this city, and J. H. Fairweather. The bride is a sister of Mrs. A. C. Williams of Tustin.

Carmel Quintana, the Tustin man who was arrested yesterday for insanity, will not be examined before tomorrow, and may be dismissed on account of the improvement of his condition.

ANAHEIM.

TESTING THE WELLS.

ANAHEIM, March 21.—An official test of its wells at Katella has been made by the Katella Water Company. The plant developed a flow of 153 inches from the three wells with a lift of seventy-five feet.

President Crowther of the Anaheim Union Water Company says it will take a week to clean the canal and repair the damage up the river caused by the recent heavy rains.

John Schaeffer has purchased from the Stearns Ranchos Company twenty acres northeast of town. He will erect a neat residence and make other improvements.

NEW MANAGER.

H. C. Fryman to Take Charge of Hotel Lankershim—Other Changes.

As a result of the illness of Edwin Davis, and business interests that require the attention of E. W. Cooper in Denver, the Hotel Lankershim—Los Angeles' newest hostelry—will be under new management after April 1.

H. C. Fryman, who has been in charge of the Broadway Van Nuys Hotel for a year past, is to handle the reins in the big Lankershim. E. Waren of San Francisco will succeed Mr. Fryman as manager of the Van Nuys Broadway.

When he assumes his new duties Mr. Fryman purposes to cater to the permanent as well as the tourist trade. Both American and European plans will be adopted. For fourteen years Mr. Fryman has been in the hotel business in Southern California, having been connected with the large hotel on Mount Lowe, the Brighton Beach Hotel at Terminal Island, the Hollenbeck and Van Nuys Broadway.

The Lankershim with its 350 rooms was opened a little over a month ago. Since that time the hotel has enjoyed a splendid patronage under the management of Cooper and Davis, the lessees. Mr. Cooper expects to devote most of his time to the Shirley, his new hotel in Denver. Mr. Davis is ill at the Glendale Sanatorium. When sufficiently recovered he expects to go back East.

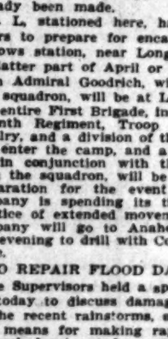
Many Are Treated
For Conditions That Do Not Exist



The unreasonable treatment of many conditions is the direct cause for chronic troubles due to improper measures rather than disease. In the treatment of chronic ailments I am safe in saying my method of treatment is the most effective, for it does away with all guesswork. I have cured hundreds of the most chronic cases by this direct method. I accomplish more in one week than can ever be accomplished by guessing through the mail.

NOT BY MAIL

I accomplish more in one week's time than can ever be accomplished by guessing through the mail. You have tried it and failed; so have others. There is no certainty in guesswork.

VARICOCELE

I cure in four to six days. Many men have treated unsuccessfully for varicocele. My treatment is painless and the results are complete forever.

STRICTURE

I cure the right way, once and for all. I remove all urethral obstruction, inflammation and soreness, and restore the membrane to a healthy condition, usually ten to fifteen days.

CONTRACTED DISEASES

Failure to quickly cure these conditions is due to harsh measures, which are the direct cause for chronic condition. My treatment is the most cleanly and perfect known.

I cure Rectal, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Piles, Fistula and blood diseases, wasting, nervous and chronic conditions, causing functional derangement, impairing strength and vitality.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The Cosmos Club will hold a meeting at the Ruskin Art rooms, this afternoon. Mrs. Alice T. Y.W.C.A.'s Rush.

One hundred members were added to the Young Women's Christian Association yesterday. The occasion was the business women's membership day, and the rooms presented a bright and busy spectacle. The clinking of coins was heard as the entrance fees were paid, and a steady stream of women and bright-cheeked girls was constantly coming and going.

The rooms were decorated with ropes of smilax and jars of bright spring flowers were scattered about, while members of the orchestra of the First Congregational Church played choice selections during the noon hour.

The young ladies especially active in securing this appreciable increase in members were: Miss Maud Ross, general membership secretary; Miss Louise Farmer, chairman of the Business Membership Committee; Misses Woodward, Driesback, Pool, Powell, Whitehouse, Vance, Davis and Dering. Mrs. W. F. Callender and Mrs. W. F. McVay of the General Membership Committee assisted.

A Medford, Mass., dispatch says the turning point in the illness of President Elmer P. Capen of Tufts College, who has been sick several days with pneumonia, was believed last night to be rapidly approaching and at midnight his condition was reported critical.

GUESSER FROM AN ALMANA

PASADENA MAN TELLING ONE BRO. HATFIELD.

Notes That "Rainmaker's" Prophecies are Same as Those Printed First by Hicks, Who Usually Hits That Thousand Plunks to be Discussed Today by Merchants.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 1 South Raymond Avenue, March 22.—The question as to whether C. M. Hatfield, the alleged rainmaker, really a rainmaker or is a shrewd "weather prophet" and playing upon the gullibility of the public with a fake device, continues to worry some of the guessers. A local weather prophet thinks that he has discovered Hatfield's system to be nothing more nor less than a faithful following of the almanac of Rev. Irl R. Hicks. Rev. Mr. Hicks is well known as a prognosticator of weather. For a number of years he has published in St. Louis a 200-page almanac annually, which describes the weather in advance with more or less accuracy. So close has he managed to hit it that few skipper go to sea without "Hicks" sticking out of the back pockets of their trousers.

The local prophet, W. H. Hill of Marengo Place, has subscribed for Hicks for a number of years, and this year he noted that every time the Esperanza rainmaker made a prophecy, that same prophecy would appear in the almanac for that date and in the almanac first. It never failed, he says. Though once Hicks was wrong and the storm did not come, nevertheless Hatfield also had predicted it. It strikes Hill as a peculiar coincidence that whenever Hicks failed to bring moisture Hatfield's downpour also miscarried.

Hill has jotted down in marginal notes in the almanac alongside of Hicks's predictions Hatfield's forecast also. He has done this pretty carefully since the 1st of January. For instance, Hicks promised a change to warmer weather in the Western States and a corresponding fall in the barometer, and rain and snow about January 4 to 6. This came and along with it a Hatfieldian shower.

"I look for a rain toward the middle of the month," said Hatfield. "During the 11th, 12th and 13th rains will visit the Southern and Central States," promised Hicks. The rains came. Hicks also promised thunder and lightning, but Hatfield doesn't carry that line of goods. Hicks warned us of a heavy rain with destructive sleet over vast regions about the 23rd and it came. "Renewed storms of rain and snow about the 28th and 29th," said Hicks and so did Hatfield, and they came. It was from the 1st to the 6th of February that we got another promised result of Hatfield's demonstrations, with a cloudburst, thunder and lightning. Hicks described this period minutely in advance.

Hicks warned us of a cold snap on the 8th, 9th and 10th, and sure enough, it came on time and tropical plants were frozen. Hatfield and Hicks collaborated for rain during about the middle of the month, and we got it. A number of other instances might be cited where the rainmaker and the almanac man seemed to have gotten together to stir up trouble overhead and make it look still more as though the old tickler has been studying. Both Hatfield and Hicks agreed to give us rain about the 5th of March, but they fell down together. Both these wizards of the heavens called for a turn on the storm from the 8th to the 11th. This was when the Long Beach wharf suffered.

Hatfield said the other day that he would begin a new demonstration on Monday as a result of which we may expect rain the latter part of this week. "General rains with moderate temperature, electrical displays and tropical storms will prevail," says Hicks for this period. "South Sea hurricanes and inland tornadoes to the south are quite probable with downpours of rain amounting to local floods. Violent northwesterly gales and blizzards from the 21st to the 24th, all winding up progressively by a great March cold wave. Special care should be taken to shelter live stock," etc.

Since the Missouri prophet has told us all about our storms in advance with so much accuracy thus far it may be interesting to note that he predicts April showers for the 7th and 8th of next month, the second and third days, respectively, of Pasadena's great horse show.

Hatfield claims that his contract with the Los Angeles merchants is all right, and that they will hold a meeting today to decide whether their names shall be made public.

WATER SITUATION.

South Pasadena continues to be all stirred up over the water proposition. At a meeting of the City Trustees yesterday the City Attorney was instructed to have the Pasadena Land and Water Company restrained from disposing of its rights in any way which will adversely affect the stockholders who use water in South Pasadena. City Attorney Carson of South Pasadena is preparing the papers for an injunction suit which may have an interesting effect upon Pasadena's attempt to acquire municipal ownership, bonds for which are to be voted on Thursday. It is not believed, however, that this injunction suit can spoil the game. It certainly cannot prevent the election, but legal authorities differ as to what might happen afterward when the city attempts to buy the company out, assuming that the bond election carries.

SLAVIN'S RESIGNATION.

Councilman Matthew Slavin, who is a candidate for Mayor, yesterday presented his resignation and it was laid upon the table. When it is accepted Slavin's successor, according to the charter, will be chosen by the Mayor and the Council.

GUESSER FROM AN ALMANAC!

PASADENA MAN TELLING ONE ON BRO. HATFIELD.

Notes That "Rainmaker's" Prophecies are Same as Those Printed First by Hicks, Who Usually Hits. That Thousand Plunks to be Discussed Today by Merchants.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 9 South Raymond Avenue, March 22. —The question as to whether C. M. Hatfield, the alleged rainmaker, is really a rainmaker or is a shrewd "weather prophet" and playing upon the gullibility of the public with a like device, continues to worry some of the guessers. A local weather prophet thinks that he has discovered Hatfield's system to be nothing more or less than a faithful following of the almanac of Rev. Iri R. Hicks. Rev. Mr. Hicks is well known as a prognosticator of weather. For a number of years he has published in St. Louis a 200-page almanac annually, which describes the weather in advance with more or less accuracy. SLAVIN'S RESIGNATION.

Councilman Matthew Slavin, who is a candidate for Mayor, yesterday presented his resignation and it was laid upon the table. When it is accepted Slavin's successor, according to the charter, will be chosen by the Mayor and the Council.

An ordinance was read for the first time at the Council yesterday which will bring consternation to certain enterprising tradesmen. It will make it a misdemeanor to hand about the streets of Pasadena solely for the purpose of serving as an advertising sign. It will be a misdemeanor to cry articles for sale upon the streets in a noisy, annoying manner. This ordinance is said to be intended to hit a local curio man who advertises by means of a horse-pointed wagon in the rear of which an Indian dummy is seated. It is also likely scare away the man who sells "pear home papers" and the hideous vender of the "Appeal to Reason."

CONVENTION DATE.

The date of the State convention of the W.C.T.U. has been changed. The event will meet on May 2, 3, 4 and 5 in the First Congregational Church, instead of a week later as at first announced. The change was made in order to secure the presence of National President Mrs. Stevens. About twenty-five delegates are expected to be present.

SUNDRIES.

Mrs. Smith of Mrs. M. E. Beauchamp, aged 67 years, appeared yesterday. She came here five months ago from Missouri and the remains will be taken back East by her husband, L. E. Beauchamp.

The City Council yesterday received a petition from J. R. Giddings and others for the annexation of a certain portion of Altadena. No action was taken. The Council is opposed to the proposition at this time as it necessitates an expensive election. An effort will therefore be made to have the petition withdrawn.

Altadenans who wish to incorporate the suburb say they will not give up the fight. If they find their petition not properly signed, as alleged, they will get up a new one. This may delay the matter several weeks.

WATER BONDS TO ISSUE.

WHITTIER, March 21.—The City Trustees last night canvassed the vote of the water-bond election held on March 14, to see if the city should issue bonds in the sum of $110,000 to improve and enlarge the city water system and supply. The vote was 334 in favor of the bonds and only 41 against. After declaring the bonds carried, the Trustees formulated an ordinance covering the subject, and the bonds will forthwith be issued and offered for sale.

A. A. W. Bley, druggist, was given a permit to sell liquor under the restrictions of the recently-passed ordinance. So far this is the first druggist to apply for or receive a permit under this ordinance, which is similar in character to the one governing Long Beach and other prohibition cities of this section.

A protest against the Broughton County Division Bill was sent by Mayor Trueblood to Gov. Pardee this morning, urging him to veto the measure. The protest was sent by the Mayor on the authorization of the Trustees, as the measure, if passed, would, it is thought, vitally affect the interests of this city.

Last evening an informal and very pleasant reception was tendered Superintendent J. P. Greeley, who has recently assumed his new duties at the reform school. The guests included Trustees Lindley, Clark and Newlin and their families, and the employés of the school.

Principal G. W. Monroe and the Trustees of the Union High School have under consideration a plan to do away with the carrying of cold lunches by the students. The plans include the serving of healthful and appetizing lunches by a caterer, whose headquarters would be in a specially-planned and convenient portion of the basement in the handsome new building which is almost completed. More than fifty students have expressed a desire to have such an arrangement made.

Funeral services over the body of Orin Mourey, one of the pioneers of the valley, was held at White's undertaking parlors yesterday. Mr. Mourey had lived alone for the past seven years, and about ten days ago was found in his dooryard, unable to move from the effect of exposure to a drenching rain of a frame already racked with rheumatism. Pneumonia came as a result, and death followed a few days later. The only known relative of the dead man is a niece who lives in the State of Maine.

DEVIL'S CHIMNEY FOR OCEAN PARK.

ONE of the most spectacular vaudeville acts of the season had its conception in Los Angeles and is performed with great success at the Ocean Park Carnival. John Mercier of this city is the young man who takes his life in his hands every time he attempts the feat. In his act he defies the laws of gravitation by climbing the perpendicular walls of the "devil's chimney."

John Mercier's unique bicycle act.

His chimney was built in Los Angeles and is neither more nor less than a wooden cylinder twelve feet high and as many feet across. It is built of rough boards held together by iron bands or hoops running around the outside. It is, in short, a twelve-foot picket fence built in the form of a circle whose circumference is thirty-six feet. The entrance to the chimney is from the top and as Mercier descends to the wooden platform that serves as a floor he takes with him an ordinary racing bicycle. Mounting this he circles a few times around the floor of the chimney to gain speed and then proceeds to climb the perpendicular walls of the smokestack until he has reached the top. The descent is as rapid as the ascent and one false move, a broken chain or any minor accident would mean probably instant death, as the rider would be hurled forcibly to the floor as soon as his wheel lost its momentum.

Mercier conceived the idea of this thrilling act while riding a bicycle on a muddy street in Los Angeles one day just after a rainstorm had left a mud puddle alongside a picket fence directly in his path. His wheel was under a good head. He had seen bicycle riders perform in a bowl-shaped arrangement and he thought to try it on the picket fence. The scheme worked. He passed over the mud without getting either the wheel or his feet wet. He climbed right along the fence and it was only a few days before he was courting death in a mad race up and around and down the Stygian chimney.

SPEEDY LIMP OF THIS SCHOONER.

THE TAURUS MAKES A NOTABLY QUICK VOYAGE.

Sails from San Pedro to Port Gamble, Takes on Big Lumber Cargo and Returns to the Former Port in Forty-four Days—Organizing a New Board of Trade.

SAN PEDRO, March 21.—With her mainsail gone and a broken gaff and after a fearful combat with gales the schooner Taurus, Capt. Ernest Seel, arrived today from Port Gamble.

The Taurus received the full force of the terrific southeaster which prevailed along the California coast last week. On March 12 the gale from the southeast rose to a howling hurricane and, according to Capt. Seel, blew between seventy and eighty miles an hour.

A terrific rain and hailstorm and fierce lightning and thunder accompanied the gale. The storm lasted for twenty-eight hours and when at its height a gaff was splintered and the big mainsail was blown from its gaskets and carried away.

The gale then changed to the southwest and the sudden shifting of the wind caused a heavy cross-sea which rolled to a tremendous height and caused the vessel to roll and pitch fearfully.

At times the decks were awash and everything movable was swept overboard, although none of the deckload of lumber was lost.

In spite of the stress of weather and adverse winds the Taurus made a wonderfully quick round-trip voyage from this port to Port Gamble and return.

She left this port on February 4, sailed to Port Gamble, loaded a cargo of 825,000 feet of lumber and arrived here last night. She was only forty-four days in loading and making a round-trip voyage of 2300 miles.

ANOTHER FLEET COASTER.

Another instance of rapid sailing and the quickness with which coasting vessels make long passages when weather conditions are favorable, is furnished by the schooner W. F. Garmes, Capt. Johnson, which arrived Sunday at Port Blakeley. The W. F. Garmes left this port on Saturday, March 11, for the northern port with the heavy southeast blow of that date and the following day at her heels. The distance from San Pedro to Port Blakeley is about 1160 miles by sea and the Garmes made the voyage up in nine days, thus averaging 145 miles a day.

NEW TRADE BOARD.

A number of representative business men met last night for the purpose of reorganizing a Board of Trade, for the dissemination of information concerning San Pedro and the country adjacent. Many inquiries are being received by private individuals and business firms, especially since the opening of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad, and it is the intention of the organization to publish an attractive pamphlet covering the industries and opportunities presented by this locality. A temporary organization was effected, with Frank Burns as president and W. H. Hyatt as secretary.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Uterine Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous?

How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly;" or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and between the shoulders. Loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite. I could not sleep and would walk the floor almost every night.

"I had three doctors and got no better, and life was a burden. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me.

"I am a well woman, my nervousness is all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

FLYING CAR; DEATH BLOW.

COMPTON MAN IS INSTANTLY KILLED ON TRACK.

James Knuckles, While Walking on Pacific Electric Line, is Knocked Sixty Feet—Arm Cut Off and Body Otherwise Mangled—Case of Confusion of Miscalculation of Speed.

COMPTON, March 21.—Jas. Knuckles stepped in front of a rapidly-moving electric car here at 5:45 o'clock this evening. He was thrown sixty feet and instantly killed. His body was frightfully mangled.

The accident occurred one block north of Compton station. Knuckles, who lives at Wilmington and Olive streets, here, was walking northward between the tracks of the Pacific Electric Railway.

A Long Beach car south-bound was approaching when an acquaintance walking not far behind him, called to Knuckles and warned him to avoid the car. Whether Knuckles became confused or whether he thought there was time to step across the track in front of the car is not known. Whichever it was the result was the same.

When the car struck Knuckles it knocked him a long distance. There was no life left when he was picked up. One arm was cut off and the body was otherwise bruised and rent.

Knuckles was 30. He leaves a widow. He was a member of the Improved Order of Red Men and of the Modern Woodmen. He has a brother living in Moneta.

OCEAN PARK.

CARNIVAL'S NOVEL BARKERS.

OCEAN PARK, March 21.—Bright sunshine and the crowning of King Dorsey I infused new life into the carnival. The Managerial Committee, in order to overcome the ill effects of the storm, is making heroic efforts to make the closing days of the affair memorable. Tonight prominent local artists were drafted and did yeomen's service in the rendition of a vaudeville programme upon a stage erected in the sawdust arena. Tomorrow night the managers of the Los Angeles-Pacific electric line will take a hand in the programme. They will bring the Playa del Rey Band and some other attractions.

On that occasion all of the attractions will be boosted by local business men, officials and politicians, who will take their posts in front of the tents and serve as spielers. An Alderman will be barker for the snake eater, a deacon will point the way to "Burning Hell" and invite all to enter. The bearded lady will be exploited by the Mayor, while the merits of the human skeleton, the fat girl and the two-legged hog will be heralded by leading real estate and business men. Friday night the attraction promised is the public marriage of a Los Angeles man to a Pomona girl.

SANTA MONICA.

OFFICIAL PRESSURE ON GAS.

SANTA MONICA, March 21.—The City Trustees last night took the first step that may lead to a reduction of the prices now being paid on the beach for gas and electric light. An ordinance was introduced establishing a standard of quality for gas and fixing the price at $1 per 1000 cubic feet. An ordinance fixing the charge for electric light at 12½ cents per 1000 Watts, with a minimum charge of 50 cents per month, was also introduced. It names a price of $5 per month for 2000 candle power arc lamps. Both ordinances were referred to the committee of the whole.

CITY TO SUE CITY.

The sewer question as involving the Santa Monica bay section is again nearing the eruptive stage. At their meeting last night the City Trustees of Santa Monica instructed the City Attorney to institute suit against the city of Ocean Park for the payment of the rental claimed to be due for the use of the outfall sewer. The amount involved is about $650, being $50 per month since the Ocean Park community donned municipal clothing. Before Ocean Park was a municipality Santa Monica permitted the suburbs to connect with the municipal outfall. After the new city was formed Santa Monica threatened to cut the sewer in twain at the city limits unless the new town contributed toward the maintenance of the big conveyor of the beach sewage. But Ocean Park began to talk about establishing a sewer farm and Santa Monica offered to rent the outfall and sent a bill to the new town. Receipt of this bill was never acknowledged, nor payment made. Bills have been sent in frequently, but nothing has ever been paid. The demands have been met with silent contempt. As Santa Monica taxpayers complain that it is unfair to tax them to maintain an outfall sewer for another city, this suit is to be brought.

DIES SUDDENLY.

John F. Hamilton, proprietor of Jack's Chowder House, corner of Utah avenue and Second street, died unexpectedly this morning at 1 o'clock. He had been suffering for a few days, but was able to be on the street yesterday. Last night he was restless and indoors found it difficult to breathe. In bed he would have smothering spells. In order to gain relief he dressed himself and took a chair and made himself comfortable in front of his building on the sidewalk. Sitting there in his chair he died, without a struggle. Hamilton was 54 and a native of New Hampshire. He leaves a widow.

D. G. Holt returned today from Sacramento, where he served the Senate as minute clerk during the late session of the Legislature.

LONG BEACH.

NOT GIDDY YOUNGSTERS WED.

LONG BEACH, March 21.—Alonzo R. Williams, aged 78, one of the oldest residents of Alamitos, and Mary S. Saunders, aged 70, quietly went to Los Angeles yesterday, secured a marriage license and were wed. They are expected home in a day or two, to occupy a new cottage recently completed by the groom.

Evangelist Milford H. Lyon is home for a short rest after a four weeks' service in Fresno. He reports 500 conversions. Next Sunday he and Singer J. W. Patterson go to Visalia to conduct services.

EXCHANGE NOTES. The transactions on the Stock Exchange yesterday were under $300, though the bidding was quite active again and widely distributed. Interest, however, was largely centered in the oil list, though bonds were given more than usual attention. Prices were well maintained and several notable advances made.

United Petroleum has been advancing steadily for several days, and went up again yesterday, but the holders seem determined to keep well ahead of the buyers and no trading results on the exchange, though these stocks might be higher than they have been quoted yet, and still be within their value. They closed strong at 124½@130. Union still maintains the 80 mark and at this price 20 shares were sold, closing at 80@81, the holder's price dropping 4 points under the figure of the day before. Associated advanced fractionally, 1900 shares being sold at 38¾, closing at 38¾@39. Continental declined 7 points, Fullerton gained fractionally, while Globe lost 1 point. Reed Crude gained substantially, however, closing at 2.35@2.39.

In the bond list, Associated Oil, Edison Electric Consolidated and Pacific Electric Railway made substantial gains, the last closing at 100 without offerings. Pacific Light & Power advanced 2 points, and Union Transportation returned to the bid price of 96.

In miscellaneous stock, Home Telephone gained fractionally, Title Indemnity & Trust preferred gained 2½ points, closing at 111½ without offerings.

The sales reported yesterday on the Stock and Grain Exchange were: Three thousand shares of North America Nitrate at 5¾ and 9, 30 shares of Home Telephone at 49¾, and 10 shares of Union Oil at 81.

BALANCE OF TRADE. The February trade statement covering eight months or two-thirds of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, shows the imports have been $74,000,000 larger than in the corresponding eight months of the preceding year, and $46,000,000 more than in 1903. The exports have been $38,000,000 less than in 1904, and $28,000,000 more than in 1903. The excess of exports for the eight months amounts to $261,000,000, which is $112,000,000 less than in the preceding year, and $35,000,000 less than in 1903.

DRIED FRUITS. APRICOTS—The market is easy with very light stocks not to exceed from 200 to 250 tons, held on the Coast; the price has declined ¼ cent on all grades, making choice 9½, extra choice 9¾, fancy 10 to 10¼ in 25-pound boxes f. o. b. here.

PEACHES—The market is very firm with stocks almost shipped out, there being not to exceed 200 to 250 tons left in the State. The prices are as follows: Choice, 9 cents, extra choice, 9½; fancy, 10 to 10¼, all in 25-pound boxes f. o. b. San Francisco, there being no peaches in the hands of any Southern California packers.

PRUNES—The market has shown considerable strength within the past week on account of the report from the north of damage to the bloom by the late storm, and the disease known as "thrips." This will undoubtedly do considerable damage to the prune crop this season and with stocks the lowest they have been for the past ten years, handlers are looking for a much higher prune market next year. Packers report a brisk business in prunes the past week, with the market firm on 40-50s, 50-60s and 60-70s on a 2-cent basis for choice, for which there is quite a surplus, are held at from 1½ to 1¾ cents bag basis. San Jose packers also report the stock in Santa Clara Valley will not exceed 600 cars. Packers outside the Santa Clara district report the total holdings of outside prunes not to exceed 400 to 500 cars, making a total of between 1000 to 1100 cars in the State, and with a good three months market ahead the stock will be greatly reduced, with the possibility of a carry-over of 200 to 400 cars of old stock prunes, against from 1200 to 1500 cars last season.

RAISINS—Market quiet, but prices are firm and demand fairly good for strictly standard stock. Rain-damaged fruit in very light demand with quite heavy stocks. There can be no question but present holdings will be greatly reduced before the new crop raisins are ready for the market, and there is every prospect of light stocks, the 1904 crop being carried over, which should insure a firm market for the new crop.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Market very firm with stocks light, following prices ruling: F. o. b. San Francisco, choice, 5½ to 5¾; extra choice, 6 to 6½; fancy, 6¾ to 7¼, all in 25-pound boxes.

Conditions so far have been very favorable to both Southern and Northern California for a bountiful crop of all kinds of deciduous fruits, and barring drawbacks within the next 30 days a record-breaking crop may be looked for. There has been some report from the northern part of the State regarding damage done to prunes and early apricot blossoms, but every one reports the bloom very heavy, and there is not much fear but there will be a heavy crop. Another thirty days will tell the story.

DRIED FRUITS—Market is firm on all lines with stocks light and in healthy condition. Jobbers are buying from hand to mouth for the present season, with practically no carry-over whatever. At present there is a very brisk demand for all grades of Santa Clara prunes. The trade is taking in the neighborhood of 750 to 1000 boxes a week. A prominent broker reports this has been a record-breaking season for Los Angeles and Southern California in general, and has shipped in between 19,000 and 20,000 boxes of San Jose prunes alone.

WALNUTS—The market for strictly No. 1 soft-shells is firm on a basis of 11 cents in carload lots, f. o. b. here. Off-grade nuts are a drug on the market with very little demand and prices low.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The narrowing limits of the speculation were clearly defined by the day's events in the stock market, and it is generally believed that the money outlook was the factor making for restoration. Not only was the volume of dealings largely curtailed, but the movement of prices was sluggish and uncertain. The hope that yesterday's late rally reflected a resumption of the upward movement did not last longer than the first hour today. Profit-taking was freely in evidence, and there was no substantial demand to follow the slight opening advance in prices. There was a resumption of strength at some points during the day's dullness, but it was in the less important grade of stocks that failed to influence sentiment in the same degree as similar movements of stock of the first class. Neither was the evidence of strength well maintained, the whole market showing the effect of the diminishing demand. Industrials and specialties made up the largest part of the day's showings of strength. The Corn Products stocks were in contrast to the rule, and differed from expressed doubts of the maintenance of the dividend, justified, as the market closed, by the announcement of a reduction. Sugar reflected the shutting-down of its principal refinery. In the Chicago Union Traction stocks, the obvious trouble was the action against its franchises by the Chicago city government. In the railroad department, while the interest was small and the movements mostly abortive, the reports upon which they were based pointed to projects of grand proportions. Thus it was said that Pennsylvania was taking over Atchison with the purpose of guaranteeing a 5-per-cent. dividend on that stock. There were vague intimations of an immediate dividend to be forthcoming on Southern Pacific. The Chesapeake & Ohio movement also was connected with dividend rumors. These rumors proved to be not very impressive in the face of the modest dimensions of the resulting movements in stocks affected. The easier tone of the call-money market was attributed to the passing of the effects of the government's withdrawals of deposits from the banks last week. Something was made of professed fears of foreign complications growing out of Venezuelan affairs, but the growing weakness of the market was generally attributed to disappointment over the scanty demand for stocks. The closing was weak, and at the lowest of the day. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, $1,635,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

A FUGITIVE'S CONFESSION.

Says He Stole One Thousand Dollars and Fled.

Spent Money for Drink and Gives Himself up.

"I am a fugitive from justice. I stole $1000 in Waverly, Mass., and I desire to give myself up."

Thus spoke a well-dressed man as he approached Patrolman Robert Henderson at First and Broadway last night. He was immediately taken into custody and when he reached the sergeant's desk at the Police Station he broke down and cried. Between his sobs he told the story of his disgrace.

The man's name is William T. Brisbin. He is about 35 years of age and his manner indicates that he is well educated. According to the story he told the police, he is a painter by trade and two months ago was employed by Olaff Bloomquist, a contracting painter of Boston. With several other painters he was sent to Waverly to do a job of work, and while there Brisbin discovered a roll of money in a trunk in a room which he was decorating. Watching his chance, he stole the money and then fled the country. He says he has heard nothing from his home since he left, although he is satisfied that the police there are looking for him.

Where he has been since he committed the theft, how he has lived, he did not tell; in fact, he said he did not know all the places he had visited.

"This is the end for me," he sobbed. "Why, man, I have a good wife and five children at home in West Medford, Mass. Drink has been my curse, and I have been drunk every minute of the time since I stole that money. I must have been drunk when I took it. I have not heard from my children since I left, and I just could not stand up under the strain any longer. It was either a case of ending my life or giving myself up. Here I am. Don't be too hard on me. I would gladly undo what I have done, but the money is all gone. I haven't a cent."

When the prisoner was searched no money was found on his person. He had no jewelry and his clothing showed the effects of travel. He was slightly intoxicated and his nervous manner showed that he had been on a drunken debauch. As he entered the jail door he almost fainted and would have fallen, had not an officer caught him. He was permitted to sit in the corridor until he had recovered his composure and then was led away to a cell.

"Don't lock me up alone," he pleaded, "because I am afraid of myself."

He was placed in a cell where there are other prisoners to watch him.

FINE PARADE.

Norris & Rowe's Circus Will Give a Street Show With Novel Features.

The street parade of Norris & Rowe's circus will take place tomorrow afternoon, and will include many new sights. The parade will start from the show grounds at Eleventh and Flower streets at 11 o'clock, and will traverse Spring street, Main and Broadway.

It is said that the parade this season is more elaborate than they have ever before undertaken, and that some novel features are introduced. These include camels, dromedaries and elephants broken to harness. There will be jubilee and plantation singers and dancers on floats, and long lines of open dens will display wild animals.

Lovers of horses and dogs will be charmed with the sights presented in this parade, and of course there will be the always expected calliope, the knights and their fair ladies, beautiful chariots and spotted chargers.

The first exhibition will be given at 2:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at Eleventh and Flower streets.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MR. AND MRS. WILBUR S. TUPPER of No. 2237 Harvard boulevard entertained a number of friends last evening in their beautiful home with a musicale. The house was a bower of brilliant flowers and lights. In the drawing-room and reception hall tall vases were arranged, containing American Beauty roses, and in the other rooms carnations were effectively combined with ferns. The entertainment was a rare treat, for all of the performers were talented musicians of the city. Among those contributing to the enjoyable programme were: Max Heinrich, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Evans, Paul England, dramatic baritone, and Reginald Leeman, tenor. Miss Louise Nixon Hill delighted everyone with her dainty songs and gracious manners, and Miss Harriett Johnson rendered fine piano solos. Mr. Tupper gave several splendid readings from "Hamlet." Miss Mary Orcutt also gave piano numbers and Mrs. Helen Field was heard in some cleverly-given dramatic readings. The violin music of Miss Metta Spaulding was well rendered. The others who contributed are so well known it is needless to praise, for their efforts are always a delight to hearers. After the musicale a sumptuous supper was served in the dining-room. Beside the musicians those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul McPherrin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Franc Nixon Coffin, Miss Nellie McPherrin, Mme. Coie, Frank Ryan of Seattle, Harry Cole, Fred Morris of Denver and Ray Walker.

MRS. HALL'S MIRACLE.

Experiences Similar to This Have Occasioned Considerable Comment in Los Angeles.

Few women are better known in Lockport, N. Y., than Mrs. Pattie D. Hall, as she belongs to one of the best families and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. In a recent interview Mrs. Hall said:

"The experience I have been through in the last two years seems like a miracle. I was so badly off that life seemed almost unendurable, and my deafness increased so that I could scarcely hear anything. The suffocation in my chest and the indigestion caused by my catarrh produced very severe suffering. I had five different physicians, bought every thing that anybody recommended to me, but finally gave up in despair.

"One day my milliner asked me if I had ever tried Hyomei. I began the treatment, and can thankfully testify that Hyomei does cure this terrible disease. Since using it my hearing is greatly improved, and the only time I have any catarrh trouble is when I take cold. I then use Hyomei, and always get instant relief. My friends and acquaintances marvel at the change in my health and hearing."

The complete outfit, including the inhaler, costs but $1, while extra bottles are but 50 cents.

Druggists everywhere are authorized to refund the money should a Hyomei outfit and one extra bottle fail to afford relief. If the druggist from whom you bought does not care to do this, mail the inhaler to the R. T. Booth Co., Ithaca, N. Y., and they will refund the money at once. Mail orders for Hyomei promptly filled on receipt of price.

GOLD SEEKERS.

track remaining to be built from Tonopah down.

The surveying party sent out from Ivanpah in behalf of the Santa Fé reported that it would be possible to put a road through State Line pass with only a 3 per cent. grade. The road lies level through Sandy and over a peculiar washboard country to Manse, straight away through the Pahrump Valley, rising somewhat, but by easy stageroad through the wild passes that lead into the Ash Meadows and so on through to the Amargosa Valley, which lies as level as a floor.

Going to the north of the Bullfrog country, there is a very heavy pass through the alkali which stretches away to Goldfield. Before you get to Goldfield there is more hill country for several miles.

These two difficulties would apply of course equally to the northern railroad trying to get through to the south and the southern railroad going to Goldfield and Tonopah.

That the southern route is entirely feasible is indicated by the fact that the borax mine people have a graded road all the way to the Death Valley mines; they were able to get a good enough grade to accommodate even a traction engine. The road starts from this place.

You can see it all the way until just before you reach Ash Meadows. The famous traction engine at its only trial stuck in the sand, but if the grade is easy enough for engineers to believe a lumbering old trap like that could travel it, it would seem to be a cinch for a railroad.

Compared unfavorably with the comparatively level southern stretches is the climbing, little railroad running out of Reno, which shoots into the heart of the mountains through the wildest cañons and into the old silver mining country of the days of the Virginia City craze.

In one particular, the north of Nevada has the southern route beaten a mile, it will have to be confessed—it has water.

There are two or three fine rivers watering beautiful mountain farms north of Mound House. Walker's River through the Indian reservation now has the government eye on it for irrigating purposes.

To the south the water conditions are not so favorable.

Intending argonauts have made many inquiries of The Times regarding the places where water might be relied upon, in going in by wagon; railroad builders would probably ask the same.

WHERE THE WATER IS.

There is fine water at Good Springs and at Sandy. There is water at Stump Springs, and at Manse (see the map) there are a number of remarkable springs which would water a large district. On the White Ranch is a big bubbling well of hot water, in which the ranch people swim.

The Pahrump has equally good water; there are good springs dotting that whole Pahrump Valley.

The stage starts from White's in the morning and at noon, having passed all these springs, the stop is made by the Stone Cañon Springs at the head of the valley.

There is plenty of water in the big springs at the Ash Meadow ranch and at the town of Ash Meadows (it consists of two tents.) The water there is tepid, evidently from hot springs.

The worst stretch comes from Ash Meadows for over thirty miles to Beatty without a drop. The greatest news that could come would be the striking of water in the two wells now going down in that strip of desert.

Water is scarce in the Bullfrog. The Amargosa River runs through Beatty and Gold Center, but it is not a big stream. There is no water at Rhyolite or Bullfrog; all the water is purchased there. They are piping it from the hills, however.

SUMMED UP.

The situation, summed up, is this:

This town of Ivanpah is surrounded by a hungry country and opens up into a vast hungry empire that must have a feeder.

Is that feeder to be Los Angeles, the most accessible, the most popular, and the goal to which the rush is tending; or it is to be some northern point?

Brother Harriman owns all the lines. It would be just as easy for him to exercise his Salt Lake hand and build in from the south, to the eternal benefit of Los Angeles, as to shove on his little punk railroad from the north and open the gold fields by the longest possible route into Nowhere, or into San Francisco, which is worse.
